Unit description

This unit introduces students to a range of theories that question traditional hierarchies of value and that enable a critical re-evaluation of the practices of everyday life. This unit theorises key topics such as: countercultures; oppositional cultures and post-subcultures; the politics of high versus popular and low culture; and counter-cultural practices in global and local contexts. The following practices, sites and objects are examined: graffiti, hip hop and crimes of style; graffiti and the cultural politics of public space; graffiti as a form of political activism and dissent; the relation between kitsch and high art; the politics of kitsch in the context of colonialism and Indigeneity; the cultural politics of tourist sites; gigantism and miniaturism; queer culture, camp and kitsch; and celebrity kitsch.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate critical skills, informed by cultural theories, that will enable students to re-evaluate those practices of everyday life that are too often dismissed as worthless or ephemeral.

Develop analytical skills that will enable students to examine and critique the presuppositions that constitute those hierarchies of value that classify, judge and position cultural objects and practices.

Develop research skills that will enable students to present theorised, contextualised and informed accounts of key issues and problems in the context of subcultural and counter-visual practices.

Demonstrate communication skills in order effectively and creatively to present research across different genres and cultural media.

Employ cultural literacy skills that will educate students on the importance of issues of cultural difference and ethical relations across diverse social and political contexts.

General Assessment Information

Submit all Final Essays in the W6A assessment drop boxes.

Final Essays may be retrieved from the W6A Arts Help Desk.

Extensions for the Final Essay will only be granted through the formal application of Special Consideration:

Special Consideration Policy

http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/special_consideration/policy.html

Applying for Special Consideration: Students applying for Special Consideration must submit an online application, available at:

http://www.arts.mq.edu.au/current_students/undergraduate/admin_central/special_consideration

Return of marked work

Marked work will be returned to students via tutorials or lectures. Residuals will be available for collection from the Arts Student Centre (W6A Foyer).

Extensions:

Penalties for late submission of work: 10% a day will be deducted from the mark of a tutorial essay for everyday of lateness after the due date, unless the student supplies relevant documentation justifying late submission.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Class Test	20%	Week 4: Monday 25 August 2014
Tutorial Presentation	30%	On assigned tutorial week
Final Essay	50%	Wednesday 12 November 2014

Class Test

Due: Week 4: Monday 25 August 2014

Weighting: 20%

Students will be given an in class test that requires them to offer brief definitions of the key terms that organise the conceptual framework of the unit. The definitions of the key terms must be based on the readings and lectures of the opening weeks of the unit, specifically, the Michel de Certeau, Stuart Hall, Dick Hebdige, Jeff Ferrel, Greg Tate and bell hooks readings.

In their responses, students need to demonstrate a clear and effective grasp of such terms as 'tactics,' 'strategies,' 'crimes of style' and so on as discussed in the readings and lectures.

Marking Criteria:

- Clear grasp of key terms
- Lucid Expression
- Functional understanding of theoretical concepts

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate critical skills, informed by cultural theories, that will enable students to re-evaluate those practices of everyday life that are too often dismissed as worthless or ephemeral.
- Develop analytical skills that will enable students to examine and critique the presuppositions that constitute those hierarchies of value that classify, judge and position cultural objects and practices.
- Employ cultural literacy skills that will educate students on the importance of issues of cultural difference and ethical relations across diverse social and political contexts.

Tutorial Presentation

Due: On assigned tutorial week

Weighting: 30%

Students are required to present an oral, multi-media tutorial paper based on a selected tutorial topic. Length: 20 minutes. Students will select a topic in the course of their first tutorial.

Please note that topics and time of presentation cannot be changed. A medical certificate will be required to reschedule the time of the presentation.

Base your tutorial presentation on the topic and readings of your selected week. Explain in your presentation the key concepts and issues outlined in the week's readings. Illustrate your presentation with examples (from media, films, videos, and so on). Pose questions to the class based on the issues and concepts you are addressing. Make sure you pose relevant questions to the class and that you generate discussion amongst the tutorial group. Generating class discussion related to the topic you present is a key aspect of your assessment for this task.

Your assessment will be based on the following criteria: clear and effective grasp of the key issues raised by the relevant readings; relevant evidence used to support and illustrate your arguments; posing of relevant questions to class; creative and innovative address of the topic; and effectively engaging the class in discussion of key issues.

Marking Criteria:

- Clear communication of issues and theoretical concepts
- Substantive evidencing and illustration of the topics discussed
- Engaged communication with the students in class via the posing of questions and generation of discussion on the topic in the course of the tutorial presentation

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate critical skills, informed by cultural theories, that will enable students to re-evaluate those practices of everyday life that are too often dismissed as worthless or ephemeral.
- Develop analytical skills that will enable students to examine and critique the presuppositions that constitute those hierarchies of value that classify, judge and position cultural objects and practices.
- Develop research skills that will enable students to present theorised, contextualised and informed accounts of key issues and problems in the context of subcultural and counter-visual practices.
- Demonstrate communication skills in order effectively and creatively to present research across different genres and cultural media.
- Employ cultural literacy skills that will educate students on the importance of issues of cultural difference and ethical relations across diverse social and political contexts.

Final Essay

Due: Wednesday 12 November 2014

Weighting: 50%

Final Essay

Word Length: 3,000 words

Due Date: Wednesday 12 November 2014, 5pm.

Essay Questions:

1. " 'Ways of operating' constitute the innumerable practices by means of which users reappropriate the space organised by techniques of social production.," Michel de Certeau. Discuss how particular subcultural practices, such as graffiti for example, illustrate de Certeau's thesis on "ways of operating," "arts of making" and "strategies" and "tactics."
2. Popular culture, Stuart Hall argues, is structured by the "double movement of containment and resistance." Discuss in relation to a particular cultural practice such as graffiti or the production/consumption of kitsch.
3. "Subcultures represent 'noise' (as opposed to sound): interference in the orderly sequence . . . a kind of temporary blockage in the system of representation," Dick Hebdige. Discuss in the context of a specific subcultural practice.
4. Dick Hebdige outlines two forms of incorporation of subcultures by a dominant culture: the commodity form and the ideological form. Discuss these two forms of incorporation in the context of an actual subcultural style, with reference to bell hooks' essay on "Eating the Other."
5. "Graffiti exists as a public art outside the control of public officials, an alternative style outside the circle of corporate style and consumption," Jeff Ferrell. Discuss.
6. Graffiti, as a subcultural practice, contests established legal notions of public space, private and corporate property and art practice. Discuss.
7. "Shouting on the wall" - animating the virtual self," Nancy Macdonald. How is graffiti about individual and/or group identity, about the construction of virtual selves in dialogue across urban spaces?
8. Gang graffiti is about regulation, respect, reputation and the signing of space into place in the face of systemic exclusion and disenfranchisement of particular racialised communities by the state. Discuss with reference to Susan Phillips' essay.
9. Discuss how graffiti is a "contentious form of political participation." Evidence your arguments with relation to specific and culturally-situated examples of political graffiti.
10. Drawing on Pierre Bourdieu's work, discuss how both kitsch and art are in fact all about questions of taste and distinction and the consecration of the social order.
11. Discuss the importance of technologies of reproduction in relation to kitsch. In your answer, you need to discuss Benjamin's and Olalquiaga's work on the aura, the original and the reproduction, the tactility of kitsch, and the democratisation of the image.

12. The kitsch object/souvenir promises the consumer "pieces of the aura (mythic time)." Celeste Olalquiaga. Discuss Olalquiaga's concept of nostalgic kitsch and melancholy kitsch.
13. Aboriginalist kitsch is enabled by white supremacy: it is an "assertion of rights of ownership in the intellectual and cultural sphere to match power in the political and economic sphere," B. Hodge and V. Mishra. Discuss.
14. "Indigenous tourist wares were threatening because they blurred the boundaries, they rendered the other unrecognisable," R. B. Phillips. Discuss in the context of indigenous tourist art.
15. "We are enveloped by the gigantic, surrounded by it, enclosed within its shadow. Whereas we know the miniature as a spatial whole or as temporal parts, we know the gigantic only partially. We move through the landscape; it does not move through us," Susan Stewart. Discuss gigantism and the miniature in the context of examples in the Australian landscape and kitsch culture.
16. Art cannot exist without kitsch. Discuss in the context of the work of Marcel Duchamp and Jeff Koons.
17. Kitsch and queer "are in a lascivious embrace. They constantly transmute," Craig Judd. Discuss.
18. Queer kitsch brings into focus a concept of the self as "performative, improvisational, discontinuous, and processually constituted by repetitive and stylised acts," Moe Myer. Discuss.
19. "Representational excess, heterogeneity, and gratuitousness of reference, in constituting a major raison d'être of camp's fun and exclusiveness, both signal and contribute to an overall resistance to definition," Fabio Cleto. Discuss.
20. "The audience's connection with celebrities, celestoids and celeactors is dominated by imaginary relationships," Chris Rojek. Discuss how celebrity kitsch is one of the key products of this imaginary relationship.
21. Construct your own essay question, with reference to the topics and readings of the unit, in consultation with your tutor.

Marking Criteria:

- *Articulation of clear and cogent arguments in relation to the essay topic
- *Evidencing of arguments with relevant evidence
- *Deployment of the critical and cultural theories in order to analyse the topic under discussion
- *Evidence of critical and creative thinking in the analysis of the topic

FINAL ESSAYS THAT ARE SUBMITTED AFTER THE DUE DATE WILL RECEIVE A MARK OF ZERO, AND THE STUDENT WILL FAIL THE UNIT, UNLESS THEY SUPPLY RELEVANT DOCUMENTATION JUSTIFYING THE LATE SUBMISSION.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate critical skills, informed by cultural theories, that will enable students to re-evaluate those practices of everyday life that are too often dismissed as worthless or ephemeral.
- Develop analytical skills that will enable students to examine and critique the presuppositions that constitute those hierarchies of value that classify, judge and position cultural objects and practices.
- Develop research skills that will enable students to present theorised, contextualised and informed accounts of key issues and problems in the context of subcultural and counter-visual practices.
- Demonstrate communication skills in order effectively and creatively to present research across different genres and cultural media.
- Employ cultural literacy skills that will educate students on the importance of issues of cultural difference and ethical relations across diverse social and political contexts.

Delivery and Resources

Classes:

Students are required to attend and come prepared, having done the relevant readings, to all tutorials. Tutorials are one hour in duration.

Students are recommended to attend the lectures as they supply important multi-media presentations information on the topic not necessarily available in the lecture notes.

Required Text:

The CUL223 Reader is the set text for this unit.

Technology Used and Required

Lectures will be delivered via PowerPoint. I encourage students to use PowerPoint, Prezi or other such software programs of the delivery of their tutorial presentations.

Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Develop research skills that will enable students to present theorised, contextualised and informed accounts of key issues and problems in the context of subcultural and counter-visual practices.
- Employ cultural literacy skills that will educate students on the importance of issues of cultural difference and ethical relations across diverse social and political contexts.

Assessment tasks

- Tutorial Presentation
- Final Essay

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Employ cultural literacy skills that will educate students on the importance of issues of cultural difference and ethical relations across diverse social and political contexts.

Assessment task

- Final Essay

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate critical skills, informed by cultural theories, that will enable students to re-evaluate those practices of everyday life that are too often dismissed as worthless or ephemeral.
- Develop analytical skills that will enable students to examine and critique the presuppositions that constitute those hierarchies of value that classify, judge and position cultural objects and practices.

Assessment tasks

- Class Test
- Tutorial Presentation
- Final Essay

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate critical skills, informed by cultural theories, that will enable students to re-evaluate those practices of everyday life that are too often dismissed as worthless or ephemeral.

- Develop analytical skills that will enable students to examine and critique the presuppositions that constitute those hierarchies of value that classify, judge and position cultural objects and practices.

Assessment tasks

- Class Test
- Tutorial Presentation
- Final Essay

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate critical skills, informed by cultural theories, that will enable students to re-evaluate those practices of everyday life that are too often dismissed as worthless or ephemeral.
- Develop analytical skills that will enable students to examine and critique the presuppositions that constitute those hierarchies of value that classify, judge and position cultural objects and practices.
- Develop research skills that will enable students to present theorised, contextualised and informed accounts of key issues and problems in the context of subcultural and counter-visual practices.

Assessment tasks

- Tutorial Presentation
- Final Essay

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Develop research skills that will enable students to present theorised, contextualised and informed accounts of key issues and problems in the context of subcultural and counter-visual practices.
- Demonstrate communication skills in order effectively and creatively to present research across different genres and cultural media.

Assessment tasks

- Tutorial Presentation
- Final Essay

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Develop research skills that will enable students to present theorised, contextualised and informed accounts of key issues and problems in the context of subcultural and counter-visual practices.
- Demonstrate communication skills in order effectively and creatively to present research across different genres and cultural media.

Assessment tasks

- Tutorial Presentation
- Final Essay

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Employ cultural literacy skills that will educate students on the importance of issues of cultural difference and ethical relations across diverse social and political contexts.

Assessment task

- Final Essay

Socially and Environmentally Active and Responsible

We want our graduates to be aware of and have respect for self and others; to be able to work with others as a leader and a team player; to have a sense of connectedness with others and country; and to have a sense of mutual obligation. Our graduates should be informed and active participants in moving society towards sustainability.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Employ cultural literacy skills that will educate students on the importance of issues of cultural difference and ethical relations across diverse social and political contexts.
