Unit description

A study of the law of contract is fundamental for any law student. In this unit students will study the foundational elements of contract law such as the formation of contract, the characterisation and interpretation of contractual terms, factors which vitiate the formation of a valid contract, the requirement for consideration, privity of contract and the discharge of contractual liabilities. Greater depth of understanding of significant issues in the historical and contemporary development of contract law is achieved through the examination and critique of competing philosophies of contract and international comparisons. Problem solving skills are also developed and tested.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate a detailed and thorough knowledge of legal principles relating to contract law as well as their and historical and social origins

Interpret and transmit knowledge, skills and concepts to specialist and non-specialist audiences

Analyse complex factual situations involving contract law and apply relevant legal principles to solving legal problems

Formulate, present and evaluate oral and written arguments on complex contractual problems and principles, drawing upon relevant legal authority and policy considerations.

Apply advanced research skills

Assume responsibility for one's own learning by managing one's time effectively so as to complete and submit assessment items on time.

Final Examination (Take Home)

Due: 5 pm, 19 November 2014

Weighting: 50%

The final examination in this unit will be a take home examination.

The final examination will be based on material covered in the unit, ie all topics and materials covered in the unit.

The final examination will be in the form of a number of problem style questions. All questions will have to be answered.

Students will be able to access the final examination paper on iLearn from 9 am on Wednesday, 19 November 2014 and must submit their answers to the final examination paper by 5 pm on Wednesday 19 November 2014.

A student's answers to the final examination paper's questions cannot exceed 2,500 words (exclusive of footnotes). This is an upper word limit and a student need not write 2,500 words if he or she can answer the questions in less than 2,500 words. A bibliography is not required.

The answers to the final examination paper's questions must be a properly referenced with appropriate analysis and argument supported by relevant authority. The answers must be typed.

If, for justifiable reasons, a student is unable to do the final examination at the above time or his or her performance in the final examination is adversely affected, he or she should submit an application for Special Consideration in accordance with the University's Disruption to Studies policy, which, if granted, will enable the student to complete a supplementary examination. The supplementary examination will be the final examination set for students who take this unit when it is next offered by the University.

Any student who does not submit answers to the final examination or supplementary examination, as the case may be, on time or at all, will receive a zero mark for this assessment item.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate a detailed and thorough knowledge of legal principles relating to contract law as well as their and historical and social origins
- Interpret and transmit knowledge, skills and concepts to specialist and non-specialist audiences
- Analyse complex factual situations involving contract law and apply relevant legal principles to solving legal problems
- Formulate, present and evaluate oral and written arguments on complex contractual problems and principles, drawing upon relevant legal authority and policy considerations.
- Assume responsibility for one's own learning by managing one's time effectively so as to complete and submit assessment items on time.
