Unit description

Marketing intelligence is a key to organisation's success. Effective use of data enables organisations to make informed marketing decisions and effectively measure their marketing performance. In recent years, data-driven marketing has become increasingly important and prevalent in the business world due to the availability of a growing range of data and computing power. This unit develops students' knowledge and analytical skills in defining and applying marketing intelligence concepts and methods that can assist firms in solving marketing problems. Students learn to critically analyse and interpret data and propose actionable insights, and data-informed decisions. Students communicate key marketing intelligence insights and solutions through data visualisation techniques.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Explain and apply marketing intelligence concepts and methods to solve a range of marketing problems, individually and/or in collaboration with peers.

ULO2: Critically analyse and interpret data, propose actionable insights, and data-informed decisions.

ULO3: Communicate marketing intelligence insights and solutions in a professional manner through data visualisation.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty (written assessments)

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of '0' will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern. For any late submissions of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to apply for Special Consideration.
