Unit description

This unit refers to the subdisciplines of economics that employ theoretical and/or empirical techniques to understand inherently microeconomic phenomena. The unit examines how applied researchers use their tools to investigate a variety of contemporary economic questions. It focuses primarily on: the development and understanding of the research question(s); the relationship between economic theory and the design of empirical frameworks, and the interpretation of results and the implications for theory and/or policy outcomes, as opposed to technical aspects of the econometric methods involved. The unit is nonetheless suitable for students with limited (or no) prior econometric knowledge.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

ULO1: Evaluate how a knowledge and understanding of theories and applications of microeconomics are utilised by academic scholars.

ULO2: Use critical thinking and problem-solving abilities to apply microeconomic theory to real-life economic problems.

ULO3: Apply analytical skills in the synthesis and interpretation of applied research in microeconomics.

ULO4: Communicate a knowledge of microeconomic theories and their applications to both academic and non-academic audiences to a professional standard of written work and presentation skills.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Submission Penalty (written assessments)

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, a 5% penalty (of the total possible mark) will be applied each day a written assessment is not submitted, up until the 7th day (including weekends). After the 7th day, a grade of '0' will be awarded even if the assessment is submitted. Submission time for all written assessments is set at 11.55 pm. A 1-hour grace period is provided to students who experience a technical concern.

For any late submissions of time-sensitive tasks, such as scheduled tests/exams, performance assessments/presentations, and/or scheduled practical assessments/labs, students need to submit an application for Special Consideration.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Class tests	60%	No	Weeks 4, 8, 12
Class participation	10%	No	Continuous
Final Report	20%	No	Week 13
Presentation	10%	No	Week 13

Class tests

Assessment Type ¹: Quiz/Test

Indicative Time on Task ²: 40 hours

Due: Weeks 4, 8, 12

Weighting: 60%

There will be three 60-minute class tests, in weeks 4, 8 and 12. The first test will cover the papers studied in weeks 1-3; the second test will cover the papers studied in weeks 5-7; and the third test will cover papers studied in weeks 9-11. Each class test is worth 20% of the final grade in this unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Evaluate how a knowledge and understanding of theories and applications of microeconomics are utilised by academic scholars.

- Use critical thinking and problem-solving abilities to apply microeconomic theory to real-life economic problems.
- Apply analytical skills in the synthesis and interpretation of applied research in microeconomics.

Class participation

Assessment Type ¹: Participatory task

Indicative Time on Task ²: 10 hours

Due: Continuous

Weighting: 10%

Each week during the live lecture, the class will be divided into groups to discuss questions dealing with key aspects of the paper(s) presented that week. This is an extremely important part of the learning process in this unit. Students will have opportunities to demonstrate participation in both small and large group discussions. To be eligible to receive full marks for class participation, students must demonstrate active participation in at least seven of the nine weeks where live lectures are held. Students will also be expected to participate in the assessment of other students' presentations in week 13.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Evaluate how a knowledge and understanding of theories and applications of microeconomics are utilised by academic scholars.

Final Report

Assessment Type ¹: Essay

Indicative Time on Task ²: 28 hours

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 20%

The report will summarise and critique an applied research paper from an academic journal that has been approved as suitable by the Unit Convenor. The report will be no more than 2,000 words and will be submitted electronically via Turnitin. Students should have selected and had the research paper approved by the end of Week 7.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Evaluate how a knowledge and understanding of theories and applications of microeconomics are utilised by academic scholars.

- Use critical thinking and problem-solving abilities to apply microeconomic theory to real-life economic problems.
- Apply analytical skills in the synthesis and interpretation of applied research in microeconomics.
- Communicate a knowledge of microeconomic theories and their applications to both academic and non-academic audiences to a professional standard of written work and presentation skills.

Presentation

Assessment Type ¹: Presentation

Indicative Time on Task ²: 12 hours

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 10%

Students will be required to submit a 10 minute presentation in week 13. Presentations will summarise and critique an applied research paper from an academic journal that has been approved as suitable by the Unit Convenor (this will be the same paper as discussed in the Final Report). Students should have selected and had the paper approved by the end of Week 7.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Evaluate how a knowledge and understanding of theories and applications of microeconomics are utilised by academic scholars.
- Use critical thinking and problem-solving abilities to apply microeconomic theory to real-life economic problems.
- Apply analytical skills in the synthesis and interpretation of applied research in microeconomics.
- Communicate a knowledge of microeconomic theories and their applications to both academic and non-academic audiences to a professional standard of written work and presentation skills.

- the academic teaching staff in your unit for guidance in understanding or completing this type of assessment
- the Writing Centre for academic skills support.

² Indicative time-on-task is an estimate of the time required for completion of the assessment task and is subject to individual variation

Delivery and Resources

Each week one or two academic papers will be presented and discussed. All papers are available on iLearn via Leganto. You should read the assigned paper(s) before each class. Lecture recordings and presentation slides will be available on iLearn by 5pm each Friday for the following week's class. You should review the lecture material prior to the weekly Zoom meeting that will take place from 6-8pm each Tuesday where the discussion will focus on the set of review questions outlined in the lecture slides.
