Unit description

This unit introduces students to Middle Egyptian, the classical language of Ancient Egypt. This was the language of the Middle Kingdom and the early New Kingdom but it remained in use in religious and literary texts as long as the Egyptian civilisation survived. The understanding of Middle Egyptian is essential to earlier and later stages of this language.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Delivery and Resources

Delivery

Online units can be accessed at: <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>.

PC and Internet access are required. Basic computer skills (e.g., internetbrowsing) and skills in word processing are also a requirement.

Please consult teaching staff for any further, more specific requirements.

Resources

The unit will be based on the following text book, which can be purchased via the Australian Centre for Egyptology (W6A 531, +61 (0)2 9850 8848 or egypt@mq.edu.au) or the David Brown bookshop (<http://www.oxbowbooks.com/bookinfo.cfm/ID/22478/Location/DBBC>) and other such avenues. Excerpts from the textbook are at the back of this unit guide and are also on the unit's website.

- B.G. Ockinga, A Concise Grammar of Middle Egyptian, (Revised Edition 2005, Mainz am Rhein).

It is recommended that you gain access to the following dictionary for assistance with translation:

- R.O. Faulkner, A Concise Dictionary of Middle Egyptian, (Oxford, 1976).

Completion of Unit

To complete the unit satisfactorily, you will need to achieve an overall mark worth 50% or above.

Submission of work

All work must be submitted via the unit's website. Please upload your answers to the drop-box for the relevant week and the assessment task.

Please note that the:

- weekly exercises are due by Tuesday 10am during each lecture week. Exercise questions will be set during the lecture and can also be found online in each week's supplementary lecture readings. If you cannot submit your exercise, please contact your online tutor.
- tests will be on a timer and you will have 1 hour to complete each exam.

Note We plan to mark and return weekly exercises with feedback each Wednesday via the unit's website. The answers to the weekly exercises will be discussed in the subsequent week's lecture.

Extensions and Special Considerations

Your weekly exercises must be completed on time and it's important that you keep up with these each week. Without documentation (e.g. medical certificate), a penalty of 2% per day(including weekends) will be applied. If you require an extension you must discuss your situation with your online tutor, who may ask for documentation, and you should apply for an extension prior to the due date where possible as extensions after the due date are not normally granted.

If you miss a test due to illness or a serious crisis that can be documented, you can re-schedule and sit the test at a later time. Please contact your online tutor as soon as possible to organise a time to sit the supplementary test.

Special Consideration Policy

Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Plan and revise work according to the unit schedule
- Develop library and information retrieval skills (demonstrated through research for assignments)
- Develop independent and critical analysis skills to comment on the grammar of the hieroglyphic script
- Interpret written and archaeological evidence with appreciation and understanding

Assessment tasks

- Weekly exercises
- Four Short Tests

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Plan and revise work according to the unit schedule
- Develop library and information retrieval skills (demonstrated through research for assignments)
- Develop basic vocabulary and knowledge of Middle Egyptian
- Develop independent and critical analysis skills to comment on the grammar of the hieroglyphic script
- Interpret written and archaeological evidence with appreciation and understanding

Assessment tasks

- Weekly exercises
- Four Short Tests
- Final Test

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Plan and revise work according to the unit schedule
- Develop library and information retrieval skills (demonstrated through research for assignments)
- Develop basic vocabulary and knowledge of Middle Egyptian
- Develop independent and critical analysis skills to comment on the grammar of the hieroglyphic script
- Read, transliterate and translate passages from seen and unseen texts
- Interpret written and archaeological evidence with appreciation and understanding

Assessment tasks

- Weekly exercises
- Four Short Tests
- Final Test

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Plan and revise work according to the unit schedule
- Develop library and information retrieval skills (demonstrated through research for assignments)
- Develop independent and critical analysis skills to comment on the grammar of the hieroglyphic script
- Interpret written and archaeological evidence with appreciation and understanding

Assessment tasks

- Weekly exercises
- Four Short Tests
- Final Test

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Plan and revise work according to the unit schedule
- Develop library and information retrieval skills (demonstrated through research for assignments)
- Develop basic vocabulary and knowledge of Middle Egyptian

- Read, transliterate and translate passages from seen and unseen texts
- Interpret written and archaeological evidence with appreciation and understanding

Assessment tasks

- Weekly exercises
- Four Short Tests
- Final Test

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Plan and revise work according to the unit schedule
- Develop library and information retrieval skills (demonstrated through research for assignments)
- Develop independent and critical analysis skills to comment on the grammar of the hieroglyphic script

Assessment task

- Weekly exercises

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Develop independent and critical analysis skills to comment on the grammar of the hieroglyphic script

Assessment task

- Weekly exercises

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Develop library and information retrieval skills (demonstrated through research for assignments)
- Develop independent and critical analysis skills to comment on the grammar of the hieroglyphic script

Assessment task

- Weekly exercises

Socially and Environmentally Active and Responsible

We want our graduates to be aware of and have respect for self and others; to be able to work with others as a leader and a team player; to have a sense of connectedness with others and country; and to have a sense of mutual obligation. Our graduates should be informed and active participants in moving society towards sustainability.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Develop library and information retrieval skills (demonstrated through research for assignments)
- Develop independent and critical analysis skills to comment on the grammar of the hieroglyphic script
