Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- To be able to write and deliver a lengthy speech in Chinese; and produce more complex and well-connected sentences on familiar topics.

Assessment task

- Class discussion

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To master 1000-1200 Chinese characters; master the most basic aspects of Chinese grammar; read simple passages in Chinese newspaper and magazines; and understand some common Chinese proverbs.

- To be able to write and deliver a lengthy speech in Chinese; and produce more complex and well-connected sentences on familiar topics.

Assessment tasks

- Class discussion
- Oral presentation
- Mid-term Test
- Final Exam

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To master 1000-1200 Chinese characters; master the most basic aspects of Chinese grammar; read simple passages in Chinese newspaper and magazines; and understand some common Chinese proverbs.

Assessment tasks

- Class discussion
- Oral presentation
- Mid-term Test
- Final Exam

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To master 1000-1200 Chinese characters; master the most basic aspects of Chinese grammar; read simple passages in Chinese newspaper and magazines; and understand some common Chinese proverbs.

Assessment tasks

- Class discussion
- Mid-term Test
- Final Exam

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To be able to comprehend long sentences and dialogues in Chinese; and understand Chinese by watching movies and plays.
- To be able to express ideas in Chinese clearly in written form and organise written work in a logical and systematic fashion.

Assessment tasks

- Oral presentation
- Mid-term Test
- Final Exam

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- To be able to write and deliver a lengthy speech in Chinese; and produce more complex and well-connected sentences on familiar topics.

Assessment tasks

- Class discussion
- Oral presentation
- Mid-term Test
