Unit description

This unit is designed to develop skills in all areas of Japanese language (reading, writing, listening and speaking) to an advanced level of proficiency. Students learn to discuss a wider range of topics as well as substantially increase their knowledge of vocabulary and kanji. This unit continues to focus on further increasing students' skills in intercultural communication so that they will be able to communicate in a manner which is culturally as well as linguistically appropriate. Students will be encouraged to sit for level N2 or N3 of the Japanese Language Proficiency Test (JLPT). Interactive tutorials and the use of online resources provide students with opportunities to use Japanese as much as possible.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and scholarly texts on unfamiliar and increasingly complex topics (e.g., commentary) independently and strategically and in a timely manner; effectively use appropriate reference sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.

Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on unfamiliar topics and follow complex lines of argument on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information in a timely manner, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.

Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed creative and analytical texts on unfamiliar and/or more complex topics, synthesising and evaluating information and arguments from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of sophisticated expressions and kanji.

Spoken Interaction: interact with native speakers who possess a high degree of fluency and spontaneity, maintaining discussions on familiar and unfamiliar topics, exchanging and justifying opinions clearly, using appropriate styles and a wide range of effective expressions.

Spoken Production: give clear, systematically developed descriptions and evaluations with appropriate highlighting of significant points and relevant supporting detail; express personal opinions on a wide range of topics.

Unit participation

Due: Weekly

Weighting: 5%

For satisfactory completion of this unit, students are required to actively participate in in-class and online activities and complete tasks such as Workbook Exercises, online self-tests and other self-learning activities. Internal students are required to attend at least 80% of classes. External students are required to study independently as instructed and maintain regular communication with teaching staff.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and scholarly texts on unfamiliar and increasingly complex topics (e.g., commentary) independently and strategically and in a timely manner; effectively use appropriate reference sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.
- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on unfamiliar topics and follow complex lines of argument on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information in a timely manner, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.
- Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed creative and analytical texts on unfamiliar and/or more complex topics, synthesising and evaluating information and arguments from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of sophisticated expressions and kanji.
- Spoken Production: give clear, systematically developed descriptions and evaluations with appropriate highlighting of significant points and relevant supporting detail; express personal opinions on a wide range of topics.

Tutorial activities

Due: Weekly

Weighting: 15%

For this task, students will be required to perform specific activities within 30 minutes. The tasks will be reading, writing, listening or speaking activities. For external students, the tutorial activities will be conducted via iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and scholarly texts on unfamiliar and increasingly complex topics (e.g., commentary) independently and strategically and in a timely manner; effectively use appropriate reference sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.
- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on unfamiliar topics and follow complex lines of argument on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information in a timely manner, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.
- Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed creative and analytical texts on unfamiliar and/or more complex topics, synthesising and evaluating information and arguments from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of sophisticated expressions and kanji.

- Spoken Interaction: interact with native speakers who possess a high degree of fluency and spontaneity, maintaining discussions on familiar and unfamiliar topics, exchanging and justifying opinions clearly, using appropriate styles and a wide range of effective expressions.

Homework

Due: Weekly

Weighting: 20%

The task will require students to complete three small tasks (online quizzes, aural/oral activities and Workbook Homework) each week.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and scholarly texts on unfamiliar and increasingly complex topics (e.g., commentary) independently and strategically and in a timely manner; effectively use appropriate reference sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.
- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on unfamiliar topics and follow complex lines of argument on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information in a timely manner, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.
- Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed creative and analytical texts on unfamiliar and/or more complex topics, synthesising and evaluating information and arguments from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of sophisticated expressions and kanji.
- Spoken Production: give clear, systematically developed descriptions and evaluations with appropriate highlighting of significant points and relevant supporting detail; express personal opinions on a wide range of topics.

Test 1

Due: Week 7

Weighting: 15%

Test 1 is a 75-minute, comprehensive test of reading, writing and listening skills, covering the content of Weeks 1-6. The test will be conducted online.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and scholarly texts on unfamiliar and increasingly complex topics (e.g., commentary) independently and strategically and in a timely manner; effectively use appropriate reference sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.

- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on unfamiliar topics and follow complex lines of argument on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information in a timely manner, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.
- Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed creative and analytical texts on unfamiliar and/or more complex topics, synthesising and evaluating information and arguments from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of sophisticated expressions and kanji.
- Spoken Production: give clear, systematically developed descriptions and evaluations with appropriate highlighting of significant points and relevant supporting detail; express personal opinions on a wide range of topics.

Test 2

Due: Week 12

Weighting: 25%

Test 2 is a 100-minute, comprehensive test of reading, writing and listening skills, covering the content of Weeks 1-11. The test will be conducted in tutorials for internal students and online for external students.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and scholarly texts on unfamiliar and increasingly complex topics (e.g., commentary) independently and strategically and in a timely manner; effectively use appropriate reference sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.
- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on unfamiliar topics and follow complex lines of argument on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information in a timely manner, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.
- Writing: write clear, well-structured, detailed creative and analytical texts on unfamiliar and/or more complex topics, synthesising and evaluating information and arguments from a number of sources and appropriately using a wider range of sophisticated expressions and kanji.
- Spoken Production: give clear, systematically developed descriptions and evaluations with appropriate highlighting of significant points and relevant supporting detail; express personal opinions on a wide range of topics.

Creative Skit Performance

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 10%

For this task, students are required to give a creative skit performance in Japanese, either in a pair or group of three. Each presenter should talk for approximately 2 minutes. The skit should be set in a workplace situation and appropriate speech styles used accordingly. The script of the skit must be submitted prior to the performance. Detailed instructions and marking criteria will be available in iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and scholarly texts on unfamiliar and increasingly complex topics (e.g., commentary) independently and strategically and in a timely manner; effectively use appropriate reference sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.
- Listening: understand relatively lengthy speech (e.g., lectures or media presentations) on unfamiliar topics and follow complex lines of argument on reasonably familiar topics at normal speed and extract specific information in a timely manner, provided speech is clearly articulated in a generally familiar accent.

Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Assessment tasks

- Homework
- Test 1
- Test 2

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Reading: understand a variety of descriptive, emotive and scholarly texts on unfamiliar and increasingly complex topics (e.g., commentary) independently and strategically and in a timely manner; effectively use appropriate reference sources; acquire a wider range of kanji and high frequency vocabulary.

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

Supplementary Tests & Late Submissions

Supplementary Tests & Late Submissions

If you anticipate unavoidable difficulty in sitting for tests (in class and online), contact the convener, lecturer or your tutor as soon as possible. A request for a supplementary test will be considered only in the case of serious illness or disruption. Assignments are compulsory and must be submitted on time. As a general rule, extensions will not be granted without a valid and documented reason (e.g. medical certificate). Late submissions will be penalised by 5% for each day (including weekends) the assignment task is late. No assignments will be accepted after assignments have been corrected and feedback has been provided. Assignment tasks handed in early will not be marked and returned before the due date.

Disruption to Studies

If a student is prevented by serious and unavoidable disruption from completing unit requirements in accordance with their ability, they may apply for support under the Disruption to Studies Policy. To access this support, students must notify the university via ask.mq.edu.au. Students should refer to the Disruption to Studies Policy for further information (see the link provided in the 'Policies and procedures' section of this unit guide).
