Unit description

This is an advanced unit in financial accounting and corporate governance which examines accounting theories and their relationship to a broad range of issues of current concern to both the accounting profession and accounting information users. Given the current focus and importance of global harmonisation and convergence of accounting and corporate governance, students are required to examine current issues and problems in complex contexts using social, ethical, economic, political and global perspectives. Students will also be required to analyse relevant scholarly research papers. The objective of the unit is for students to critically evaluate accounting theories, governance policies and procedures. Students will use critical analysis skills to evaluate, synthesise and judge through research and essay writing. Research findings are used to underpin all theories. Students will be challenged to question the foundations of accounting and corporate governance and to think critically about current issues in accounting and accountability.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Apply and analyse theoretical accounting and corporate governance knowledge and skills to examine accounting and accountability issues and problems.

Able to synthesise, analyse and evaluate relevant theoretical perspectives and articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions.

Understand the main ethical issues and the interrelationships and connections between them and professional accounting and corporate governance practices.

Evaluate relevant scholarly publications which specific focus on the importance of professional judgments in accounting and corporate governance.

Demonstrate research skills to articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions on topics examined in the unit.

Communicate accounting and corporate governance theories and findings in a research team.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
1. Class Tests	20%	Week 4 and Week 9
2. Essay	20%	Week 11
3. Presentation	10%	During semester
4. Final Examination	50%	Examination Period

1. Class Tests

Due: Week 4 and Week 9

Weighting: 20%

In this unit, the mid-term test has been replaced by two Class Tests in Weeks 4 and 9 (see the Unit Guide for the broad essay topics). You must attend your enrolled class, and if you do not attend that class there will be no further opportunity for you to write the essays. The 1st Test is worth 10% and the 2nd Test is worth 10% and you have 60 minutes to write your answer. These are closed book assessment tasks (no resource materials are allowed) under examination conditions. The test questions are based on the relevant chapters in the customised text, the required readings, seminar presentations and class discussions. It is important to note that memorising the lecture outlines is not sufficient to answer the questions. I cannot provide a reliable student workload (in hours) in preparing for the Class Tests, however, you are strongly recommended to spend adequate time to ensure that you are able to analyse, synthesise and evaluate relevant texts and papers. Your preparation for the Class Tests essays requires you to attain the objectives and graduate capabilities specified above. Marking rubrics outline the marking criteria (see Appendices 3 and 4 in the Unit Guide on iLearn) and you must examine how marks are allocated.

The first Class Test in Week 4 is an early diagnostic test which will provide you with timely feedback on your performance. Marked class tests will be returned to you in Week 6. You must obtain detailed feedback from your lecturer if you fail this test. It is important that you get immediate help and meet your lecturer on a regular basis to enhance your chances of success in this unit. Lecturers will keep a record of all meetings with students who fail the Class Tests.

Submission: Attendance is compulsory.

Extension: No extension will be granted. Students who have not submitted the task for the class tests will be awarded a mark of zero for the task, except for cases in which an application for Disruption to Studies is made and approved.

Penalties: Zero mark for non-submission.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply and analyse theoretical accounting and corporate governance knowledge and skills to examine accounting and accountability issues and problems.
- Able to synthesise, analyse and evaluate relevant theoretical perspectives and articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions.
- Understand the main ethical issues and the interrelationships and connections between them and professional accounting and corporate governance practices.
- Demonstrate research skills to articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions on topics examined in the unit.

2. Essay

Due: Week 11

Weighting: 20%

This component is worth 20% and the hard copy (see other requirements under Assessment and Grading Policy) should be submitted without exception to your lecturer at the commencement of your enrolled class time in week 11. You are required to submit your research essay using the procedures described in the Appendix 1 in the Unit Guide on iLearn. A marking rubric outlines the marking criteria (see Appendix 2 in the Unit Guide on iLearn) and you must examine how marks are allocated. There is no specified estimated student workload in preparing for the research essay. The quality of your research essay will largely depend on you attaining the objectives and graduate capabilities specified in the unit guide.

Submission: The soft copy to be submitted on iLearn (Turnitin) and the hard copy should be submitted without exception to your lecturer at the commencement of your enrolled class time in week 11.

Extension: No extension will be granted. Late submission will be accepted up to 72 hours after the submission deadline.

Penalties: There will be a deduction of 25% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late. This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for Disruption to Studies is made and approved.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply and analyse theoretical accounting and corporate governance knowledge and skills to examine accounting and accountability issues and problems.
- Able to synthesise, analyse and evaluate relevant theoretical perspectives and articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions.
- Understand the main ethical issues and the interrelationships and connections between them and professional accounting and corporate governance practices.
- Evaluate relevant scholarly publications which specific focus on the importance of professional judgments in accounting and corporate governance.
- Demonstrate research skills to articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions on topics examined in the unit.

3. Presentation

Due: During semester

Weighting: 10%

The team presentation is worth 10% of the overall assessment. Each team consisting of four students is required to prepare a 15 minute presentation answering 5 questions (at least one question per student) on a journal article related to the topics examined in ACCG927. You must register your team and nominate your preferred week to your lecturer no later than Week 3. Dates for presentation will be allocated on a first-come, first-serve basis. Presentations will be made in Weeks 7, 8 and 10 to 13. A marking rubric outlines the marking criteria (see Appendix 5 in the Unit Guide on iLearn) and you must examine the criteria for assessing your team presentation. In previous years the groups attaining high distinctions reported that in addition to their individual readings, the group spent about 9 hours in preparing for the presentations.

Additional details on assessments related to in-class tests, research essay and team presentations are provided in Appendix 1 in the Unit Guide on iLearn.

Submission: Attendance is compulsory.

Extension: No extension will be granted. Students who have not completed the task on their registered class time will be awarded a mark of zero for the task, except for cases in which an application for Disruption to Studies is made and approved.

Penalties: Zero mark for non-submission.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply and analyse theoretical accounting and corporate governance knowledge and skills to examine accounting and accountability issues and problems.
- Able to synthesise, analyse and evaluate relevant theoretical perspectives and articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions.

- Evaluate relevant scholarly publications which specific focus on the importance of professional judgments in accounting and corporate governance.
- Demonstrate research skills to articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions on topics examined in the unit.
- Communicate accounting and corporate governance theories and findings in a research team.

4. Final Examination

Due: Examination Period

Weighting: 50%

A final examination is included as an assessment task for this unit to provide assurance that:

1. the product belongs to the student and
2. the student has attained the knowledge and skills tested in the exam.

A 3 hour final examination for this unit is held during the University Examination period.

The University Examination period in Second Half Year 2014 is from 17 November to 5 December. Dates of the Supplementary examinations will be provided later on. Additional details related to the final examination will be announced in the final lecture in Week 13.

Students must pass the final examination to gain a passing grade in this unit.

You must present yourself for examination at the time and place designated in the University Examination Timetable. The timetable will be available in Draft form approximately eight weeks before the commencement of the examinations and in Final form approximately four weeks before the commencement of the examinations. <http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au/exam>

Submission: Attendance is compulsory.

Extension: The only exception to not sitting an examination at the designated time is because of documented illness or unavoidable disruption. In these circumstances you may wish to consider applying for Disruption to Studies. The University's policy on Disruption to Studies is available at http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/disruption_studies/policy.html

However, applications for Disruption to Studies will only be approved to students who have satisfactory performance in this unit. Satisfactory performance means that students must achieve at least 50% in their coursework. If this criterion is not met then the application for Disruption to Studies will be rejected.

If a Supplementary Examination is granted as a result of the Disruption to Studies process the examination will be scheduled as per the Supplementary Examination timetable of the Faculty.

The Macquarie university examination policy details the principles and conduct of examinations at the University. The policy is available at:

<http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/examination/policy.htm>

Penalties: Students who have not attended the final examination will be awarded a mark of zero, except for cases in which an application for Disruption to Studies is made and approved.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply and analyse theoretical accounting and corporate governance knowledge and skills to examine accounting and accountability issues and problems.
- Able to synthesise, analyse and evaluate relevant theoretical perspectives and articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions.
- Understand the main ethical issues and the interrelationships and connections between them and professional accounting and corporate governance practices.
- Evaluate relevant scholarly publications which specific focus on the importance of professional judgments in accounting and corporate governance.
- Demonstrate research skills to articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions on topics examined in the unit.

Delivery and Resources

Classes

The class consists of 3 hours face-to-face teaching per week. A combination of seminars, lectures and tutorials will help you in attaining the objectives of the unit and to enable you to develop the capabilities the Master of Accounting (Professional) and Master of Accounting (CPA Extension) requires. The lectures and seminars provide a general overview of the topics highlighting a number of theories, concepts and techniques and provide you with opportunities to further explore all relevant resources through independent learning.

The timetable for classes is on the University web site at: <http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au/>

Required and Recommended Texts and/or Materials

To complete this unit, students should have a copy the following TWO prescribed textbooks. Only the Australian Corporate Governance is available at the Co-op Bookshop at Macquarie University.

- Current Issues in Accounting eBook prepared by Chris Patel, McGraw-Hill 2010.

Students can purchase this directly from the following McGraw-Hill website: <https://create.mcgraw-hill.com/shop/#/catalog/details/?isbn=9781121790315>

- Australian Corporate Governance, Jim Psaros, Pearson Education Australia, 2009.

The recommended textbooks are also available in the Macquarie Library.

A list of additional compulsory and optional readings is in the weekly lecture and seminar schedule. You should critically examine and analyse the compulsory readings before the lecture and you should study the optional readings and refer to them in your assessments.

Course material is available on the learning management system iLearn. iLearn is a program available at <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au/> through which students will have access to resources to assist them throughout the session. The following information will be available on iLearn:

- Unit Outline
- Lecture and seminar slides (these will be available prior to the lectures and seminars, the Monday of the week before the class)
- Information on assessments
- Announcements
- Use Turniturn linkage for ACCG927 iLearn to submit your research essay.
- Other relevant material

You are strongly encouraged to regularly visit the website to assist you with your learning.

Learning and Teaching Activities

Learning and teaching activities

The unit consists of thirteen weekly three hour lectures and seminars. The unit is largely reading and discussion-based learning. In seminars, you are expected to understand the main concepts and techniques that relate to the subject matter. Also you are expected to read the prescribed course material. Using the concepts presented in seminars and readings, you are required to prepare written answers to weekly seminar discussion questions. This is also the best way to prepare for the final examination. Answers to the discussion questions will be discussed in seminars. It is expected that you will actively participate in seminar discussions. The seminars should be viewed by you as an active forum for any problems or difficulties that you are experiencing with the subject content. Answers to the discussion questions will not always be made available to you. Our experience shows that when written answers are provided on theoretical questions, students tend to narrowly focus on so-called “correct” answers rather than formulating and defending their own answers. An examination of the unit objectives shows that the focus is on developing critical analysis and problem-solving skills and preparing your own answers to the discussion questions will enhance these skills.

Policies and Procedures

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central. Students should be aware of the following policies in particular with regard to Learning and Teaching:

Academic Honesty Policy http://mq.edu.au/policy/docs/academic_honesty/policy.html

Assessment Policy <http://mq.edu.au/policy/docs/assessment/policy.html>

Grading Policy <http://mq.edu.au/policy/docs/grading/policy.html>

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills

Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Apply and analyse theoretical accounting and corporate governance knowledge and skills to examine accounting and accountability issues and problems.

- Able to synthesise, analyse and evaluate relevant theoretical perspectives and articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions.
- Understand the main ethical issues and the interrelationships and connections between them and professional accounting and corporate governance practices.
- Evaluate relevant scholarly publications which specific focus on the importance of professional judgments in accounting and corporate governance.
- Demonstrate research skills to articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions on topics examined in the unit.
- Communicate accounting and corporate governance theories and findings in a research team.

Assessment tasks

- 1. Class Tests
- 2. Essay
- 3. Presentation
- 4. Final Examination

PG - Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

Our postgraduates will be capable of utilising and reflecting on prior knowledge and experience, of applying higher level critical thinking skills, and of integrating and synthesising learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments. A characteristic of this form of thinking is the generation of new, professionally oriented knowledge through personal or group-based critique of practice and theory.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Able to synthesise, analyse and evaluate relevant theoretical perspectives and articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions.
- Understand the main ethical issues and the interrelationships and connections between them and professional accounting and corporate governance practices.
- Evaluate relevant scholarly publications which specific focus on the importance of professional judgments in accounting and corporate governance.
- Demonstrate research skills to articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions on topics examined in the unit.
- Communicate accounting and corporate governance theories and findings in a research team.

Assessment tasks

- 1. Class Tests
- 2. Essay
- 3. Presentation
- 4. Final Examination

PG - Research and Problem Solving Capability

Our postgraduates will be capable of systematic enquiry; able to use research skills to create new knowledge that can be applied to real world issues, or contribute to a field of study or practice to enhance society. They will be capable of creative questioning, problem finding and problem solving.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Able to synthesise, analyse and evaluate relevant theoretical perspectives and articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions.
- Understand the main ethical issues and the interrelationships and connections between them and professional accounting and corporate governance practices.
- Evaluate relevant scholarly publications which specific focus on the importance of professional judgments in accounting and corporate governance.
- Demonstrate research skills to articulate clearly well-reasoned solutions and conclusions on topics examined in the unit.
- Communicate accounting and corporate governance theories and findings in a research team.

Assessment tasks

- 1. Class Tests
- 2. Essay
- 3. Presentation
- 4. Final Examination

Changes from Previous Offering

The following topics are excluded in 2014 ACCG927 curriculum: Ethics in Accounting and Corporate Governance, Earnings Management and Multidimensional Ethics Measure. The following topics are included in 2014 ACCG927 curriculum: introduction to critical thinking, academic essay writing skills and Intellectual Capital.

Research and Practice

- This unit uses research by Macquarie University researchers (see weekly unit schedule)
- This unit uses research from external sources (see weekly unit schedule)
- This unit gives you practice in applying research findings in your assignments
- This unit gives you opportunities to conduct your own research

Technology Used and Required

- Students need to have knowledge about downloading materials from iLearn (<http://ilearn.mq.edu.au>).
- Students are required to have access to personal computers in order to complete tasks on iLearn.
- Students are required to conduct their own research and as such, they should be familiar with library databases.
- Students are required to use Microsoft Word and Microsoft PowerPoint.
