<td>This unit looks at how power is exercised and communicated in different cultures and in different ways; legitimacy is a core concept to the study of power. We examine approaches to power in traditional Europe, China, India and Islam, as well as how language and the media can be used to exercise power. A range of modern theories of power are discussed. While there is a strong theoretical aspect to the unit, ultimately it is practical because anyone working internationally must understand power in all its manifestations. Teaching is interactive and students are encouraged to talk about their culture's approach to power and legitimacy.</td>

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at http://students.mq.edu.au/student_admin/enrolmentguide/academicdates/

Learning Outcomes

1. Appraise communication and power theories in discussions and current and past written accounts
2. Develop a clear understanding and contrast different concepts of power
3. Analyse and evaluate how power is used and how to use it
4. Apply power theory and communication techniques to international current affairs
General Assessment Information

Please note: There will be a link on ilearn to upload your written work. The short essay needs to be uploaded in week 4, date and time as indicated in the due dates document available on ilearn. The extended essay is due in week 10 and needs to be uploaded to turnitin (link on ilearn) as well as handed in as hard copy with signed cover sheet to the appropriate box in W6A. Extensions due to serious disruption of study are only available per online academic request only.

Late assignments will be penalized 5 percent of the mark for the first day and 2 percent per subsequent day. In cases of illness and misadventure students must submit official documentation including original copies of medical certificates through the Student Enquiry Service. Advice of Absence forms are available from the Student Enquiry Service or online at the Registrar's website (www.reg.mq.edu.au) and should be submitted by the last day of classes each semester. This is for any assessment during semester. Disruption to Study forms (for assignments submitted after semester ends) can also be downloaded from the Registrar's website or obtained from the Academic Program Section, located on level 4 of the Lincoln Building.

Note: The same essay writing rules (and marking criteria) apply to the short and the extended essays. Make sure your essay is clearly structured (introduction, body, and conclusion) and answer your essay question. Go beyond your reader, there are books in the library. You need fewer references for the short essay, three or four relevant ones may be enough. Use in-text citations to support your argument.

If you are an international student, don’t worry too much about language errors, but do make sure that the essay is easy to read and understand (ask another student to read it before handing it in, but do not have your text ‘polished’ by anyone, use your own words.

Good luck with it!

Late penalty:

Late assignments will be penalized 5 percent of the mark for the first day and 2 percent per subsequent day. In cases of illness and misadventure students must submit official documentation including original copies of medical certificates through the Student Enquiry Service. Advice of Absence forms are available from the Student Enquiry Service or online at the Registrar’s website (www.reg.mq.edu.au) and should be submitted by the last day of classes each semester. This is for any assessment during semester. Disruption to Studies forms (for assignments submitted after semester ends) can also be downloaded from the Registrar’s website or obtained from the Academic Program Section, located on level 4 of the Lincoln Building.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Develop a clear understanding and contrast different concepts of power

Presentation

Due: Week 8/9
Weighting: 20%

This is a 10 minute summary presentation to the class of the main features of your essay. Keep it short and punchy. Do not read your slides (I can read). The most common mistakes here are too much detail, reading instead of presenting and lack of life in the presentation style. You will be assessed on how interesting you make the presentation and the structure of your argument; you will lose marks for excessive length.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:
- Develop a clear understanding and contrast different concepts of power
- Analyse and evaluate how power is used and how to use it
- Apply power theory and communication techniques to international current affairs

Written assignment

Due: Week 10
Weighting: 25%

Description: Essays can be on any topic relevant to the course and should be referenced using the Harvard style. Please consult me on your topic if you wish.?I am looking for a well organised, logical argument leading to some kind of substantive conclusion. ?Examine some aspect of power and/or legitimacy. You may wish to take a case study and discuss what that tells us about theory or you may prefer to compare two or more different approaches to the same aspect of power. What is important is your critical analysis of a relevant topic.

You do not need to have a separate literature review section unless you want to; you can include relevant readings at the appropriate place in the body of your text if you prefer.? Assignments need to be submitted as hard copies to Y3A and also via turnitin. There is a link on ilearn to submit your work to turnitin.

You will be assessed on how you set out and present your arguments, the quality of your arguments, originality of your own thought and on how you use sources.?The most common mistakes students make are: poor structure; a very general conclusion that does not follow from the argument; poor referencing; too much description; topic not directly relevant to the course and not enough analysis.

Special Consideration forms (for assignments submitted after semester ends) can also be downloaded from the Registrar's website or obtained from the Academic Program Section, located on level 4 of the Lincoln Building.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Appraise communication and power theories in discussions and current and past written accounts
- Develop a clear understanding and contrast different concepts of power
- Analyse and evaluate how power is used and how to use it

Class Participation

Due: ongoing
Weighting: 10%

Students are expected to participate in class discussions (which assume a knowledge of the readings) and to attend and be punctual for at least 75% of the sessions. Those who participate actively and sensibly will get the full 10%; those who miss discussion sessions or stay silent will get a low mark.

Criteria: to achieve full marks students need to regularly attend lectures and tutorials (80% each), complete essential readings for each week as outlined in the reader and add to group discussions during tutorials. Informed comments/questions are more important than the quantity of comments made in class.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Appraise communication and power theories in discussions and current and past written accounts
- Develop a clear understanding and contrast different concepts of power
- Analyse and evaluate how power is used and how to use it
- Apply power theory and communication techniques to international current affairs

Test

Due: Week 12
Weighting: 30%

This will require short answers to questions on some basic concepts covered during the course. You will have to answer any three out of six questions in one hour. If you have followed the basic ideas in the course, you should have no difficulty with it. I mark it for content, not for elegance of expression. You can use dot points if you wish. You will be assessed on whether or not you have understood the basic concepts involved in each question.

Teaching and Learning Strategy

You need to attend at least 80% of the lectures as well as 80% of the tutorials. Make sure to read the prescribed texts in your reader before attending the tutorial sessions. Make yourself comfortable - if you have any questions or suggestions, put them on ilearn or talk to your lecturer.

Information

Make sure to log on to ilearn at least once a week. You will find current information, assignment deadlines, reading suggestions, a link to turnitin and much more.

Changes since the last offering of this unit

The weeks for presentations will be chosen together with participants of the unit. Depending on group size and suitability, presentations will be held after week 8.

Other material

Please read the prescribed texts in the course reader each week before attending the tutorials. Make sure to check ilearn for additional material and use additional sources for assignments.

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills
Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

• Appraise communication and power theories in discussions and current and past written accounts
• Develop a clear understanding and contrast different concepts of power
• Apply power theory and communication techniques to international current affairs

Assessment tasks

• Mini Essay
• Presentation
• Written assignment
• Test

PG - Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking
Our postgraduates will be capable of utilising and reflecting on prior knowledge and experience, of applying higher level critical thinking skills, and of integrating and synthesising learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments. A characteristic of this form of thinking is the generation of new, professionally oriented knowledge through personal or group-based critique of practice and theory.
This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Develop a clear understanding and contrast different concepts of power
- Analyse and evaluate how power is used and how to use it

Assessment tasks

- Presentation
- Written assignment
- Class Participation

PG - Research and Problem Solving Capability

Our postgraduates will be capable of systematic enquiry; able to use research skills to create new knowledge that can be applied to real world issues, or contribute to a field of study or practice to enhance society. They will be capable of creative questioning, problem finding and problem solving.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Analyse and evaluate how power is used and how to use it

Assessment tasks

- Mini Essay
- Presentation
- Written assignment

PG - Effective Communication

Our postgraduates will be able to communicate effectively and convey their views to different social, cultural, and professional audiences. They will be able to use a variety of technologically supported media to communicate with empathy using a range of written, spoken or visual formats.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Appraise communication and power theories in discussions and current and past written accounts

Assessment tasks

- Presentation
- Class Participation
PG - Engaged and Responsible, Active and Ethical Citizens

Our postgraduates will be ethically aware and capable of confident transformative action in relation to their professional responsibilities and the wider community. They will have a sense of connectedness with others and country and have a sense of mutual obligation. They will be able to appreciate the impact of their professional roles for social justice and inclusion related to national and global issues.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Apply power theory and communication techniques to international current affairs

Assessment tasks

- Presentation
- Class Participation

PG - Capable of Professional and Personal Judgment and Initiative

Our postgraduates will demonstrate a high standard of discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgment. They will have the ability to make informed choices and decisions that reflect both the nature of their professional work and their personal perspectives.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Develop a clear understanding and contrast different concepts of power
- Analyse and evaluate how power is used and how to use it
