Unit description

This is a unit in auditing and assurance services which examines the process of auditing and the concepts which underlay the practice. Although the focus of attention is on audits of financial reports undertaken in compliance with the Corporations Act 2001, reference is also made to other forms of audit and assurance. The unit is intended to provide an overview of the audit process as it exists in Australia, and is consistent with International Auditing Standards. Students will be required to exercise judgement in order to identify and assess risks of material misstatement, to develop audit procedures that respond to those risks, and to form an opinion on the financial report based on the audit evidence obtained. The unit is both practical and theoretical, with students required to apply their knowledge to discussing cases developed from practice. Students will also be exposed to current research and contemporary issues in auditing and assurance.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Discuss the purpose of the audit function and the need for an audit.

Analyse case studies, including a real life case study, using professional judgment and develop techniques used by auditors such as being able to perform a risk analysis, internal control assessment, collect and evaluate sufficient appropriate audit evidence including the appropriate use of computer assisted audit techniques.

Synthesize audit events to analyse and determine the appropriate audit report.

Critically analyse and explain the professional, legal, ethical and regulatory framework within which audits and other audit related and assurance engagements are carried out.

Research and critique current developments in audit practice.

General Assessment Information

What is required to pass the Unit?

To achieve a passing grade for the unit students MUST:

(i) Obtain an overall passing mark AND (ii) Obtain a pass in the Final examination.

What are the expectations and workload?

Students are expected to spend 150 hours working on this unit. As a guide a student should spend these approximate amounts of time on each of the following activities:

	Activities	Hours
1	Weekly Seminars	39
2	Participation	20
3	Assessed Coursework	20
4	Group Assignment	40
5	Readings/self-study	31
	TOTAL	150

How are assessment tasks submitted?

The group assignment will be submitted online via the unit webpage. Feedback for each assessment task will be posted online within three weeks of the assessment submission date.

Are there other relevant policies and procedures?

Please refer to the Policies and procedures section below.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Class participation	10%	Weeks 3 to 12
Assessed Coursework	15%	Week 3 to 12
Group Assignment	25%	Week 8 - 28 September 2015
Final examination	50%	University examination period

Class participation

Due: Weeks 3 to 12

Weighting: 10%

All students are required to participate, engage and take part in the weekly seminars.

Are there extensions and penalties for this extension task?

No extensions will be granted. Class participation can only be completed during seminar time periods in week 3 to week 12, This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for Disruption to Studies is made and approved.

Students are required to participate in the class discussion (worth 10%). The purpose of the activity is to encourage students to actively engage with the material covered in the Unit and to provide students with timely feedback on their performance regularly throughout the session.

The marking criteria to be applied to class discussion will be provided in the Weekly Seminar Guide. Students should note, in particular, that zero (0) marks will be awarded if a student did not participate in the class discussion.

Students are advised to familiarise themselves with the University's Disruption to Studies Policy available at: http://mq.edu.au/policy/docs/disruption_studies/policy.html.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Discuss the purpose of the audit function and the need for an audit.
- Analyse case studies, including a real life case study, using professional judgment and develop techniques used by auditors such as being able to perform a risk analysis, internal control assessment, collect and evaluate sufficient appropriate audit evidence including the appropriate use of computer assisted audit techniques.
- Synthesize audit events to analyse and determine the appropriate audit report.
- Critically analyse and explain the professional, legal, ethical and regulatory framework within which audits and other audit related and assurance engagements are carried out.

Assessed Coursework

Due: Week 3 to 12

Weighting: 15%

Students are required to complete weekly activities consisting of analyzing research articles (worth 10%) and submit homework questions (5%). With respect to homework questions, only three (3) random collections of 2.5% each will be collected over the 10 weeks and best two (2) will be counted towards the coursework. Details on research articles and homework questions will be provided in the Weekly Seminar Guide. The purpose of the activities is to encourage students to actively engage with the material covered in the Unit and to provide students with timely feedback on their performance regularly throughout the session.

Research articles analyses are to be submitted in the relevant class. The marking criteria to be applied to research articles will be provided in the Weekly Seminar Guide. Students should note, in particular, that zero (0) marks will be awarded for non-submission or late submission.

Are there extensions and penalties for this extension task?

No extensions will be granted. Students who do not submit research articles analyses by the due date will receive a mark of zero (0), except in cases in which an application for Disruption to Studies is made and approved.

Students are advised to familiarise themselves with the University's Disruption to Studies Policy available at: http://mq.edu.au/policy/docs/disruption_studies/policy.html.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Research and critique current developments in audit practice.

Group Assignment

Due: Week 8 - 28 September 2015

Weighting: 25%

Students are required to complete a group assignment concerning current developments in audit and assurance practices. The group assignment topic and the marking rubric detailing the criteria and standards for grading will be made available within the research group assignment document on iLearn. The group assignment will be marked based on the appropriate application of research knowledge and skills to specific audit and assurance issues.

The group assignment is to be submitted using Turnitin on iLearn. The marking criteria will be provided on iLearn.

Are there extensions and penalties for this assessment task?

No extensions will be granted. Late tasks will be accepted up to 72 hours after the submission deadline. There will be a deduction of 20% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 40% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for Disruption to Studies is made and approved.

Students are advised to familiarise themselves with the University's Disruption to Studies Policy available at: http://mq.edu.au/policy/docs/disruption_studies/policy.html.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critically analyse and explain the professional, legal, ethical and regulatory framework within which audits and other audit related and assurance engagements are carried out.
- Research and critique current developments in audit practice.

Final examination

Due: University examination period

Weighting: 50%

A two hour examination covering the entire course. Details regarding the format will be made available during Week 13. In relation to the criteria and standards for grading, the final examination will be marked based on the appropriate application of knowledge and skills to short answer and case based questions. Students MUST pass the final examination to pass the unit.

What are the final examination conditions?

A two (2) hour closed book final examination will be held during the University Examination period. No dictionaries, books, or other materials or aids are permitted in the final examination.

If a Supplementary Examination is granted as a result of the Disruption to Studies process for the Final examination, the supplementary examination will be scheduled as per the determination of the Faculty. The Supplementary Examination will be of the similar format to the Final examination.

A student may withdraw their Disruption to Studies Notification up to the point where the determination of whether it is Serious and Unavoidable has been made. After this determination, the student may not withdraw the Disruption to Studies Notification and must submit themselves to partake in the Supplementary Examination.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Discuss the purpose of the audit function and the need for an audit.
- Analyse case studies, including a real life case study, using professional judgment and develop techniques used by auditors such as being able to perform a risk analysis, internal control assessment, collect and evaluate sufficient appropriate audit evidence including the appropriate use of computer assisted audit techniques.
- Synthesize audit events to analyse and determine the appropriate audit report.
- Critically analyse and explain the professional, legal, ethical and regulatory framework within which audits and other audit related and assurance engagements are carried out.

Delivery and Resources

Delivery

The unit requires three hours of face-to-face teaching per week in the form of a three hour seminar. It should be emphasized that attendance at the seminar is a necessary but not sufficient condition for adequate examination preparation.

Each week all students should study the relevant materials prescribed and attempt the assigned seminar questions PRIOR to attending the class, and participate in class discussions regarding the concepts and their application in practical cases. The weekly reading and homework guide for the semester will be available in week one. Lecture slides for the seminars will be also be available by week one.

With the exception of the first week the seminar is divided into two parts. The first part of each seminar will comprise a lecture which aims to cover the key concepts of the unit material set for that week. These lectures will be critical to the coverage and understanding of the unit content. Although the auditing and assurance course is broken down into a number of segments, students should recognise that each segment / lecture forms part of the audit process. The second part of the seminar is designed to complement the lecture program by working through the practical seminar questions and readings set for that week. When working through these questions it is expected that seminar participants will contribute to the discussion and raise particular issues or problems that they have had with the seminar questions. Remember that answers to these questions are not easily bracketed as “right” or “wrong” but are the product of a logical and well structured analysis.

Please note that solutions to the weekly seminar assigned questions will not be made available to students. Therefore it is imperative that students attend the weekly seminar in order to correct their work and to clarify any issues they may have in understanding the material assigned.

The timetable for classes can be found on the University web site at:

<http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au/>

Changes to student timetables may only be made through eStudent. Students wishing to change their allocated seminar should log onto to eStudent and enrol in a seminar where there is a vacancy. Any question of an administrative nature in relation to seminar allocations should be addressed to accg925@mq.edu.au.

Student enrolments must be finalised by the end of Week 1. No further changes may be made after this date.

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Capable of Professional and Personal Judgment and Initiative

Our postgraduates will demonstrate a high standard of discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgment. They will have the ability to make informed choices and decisions that reflect both the nature of their professional work and their personal perspectives.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Discuss the purpose of the audit function and the need for an audit.
- Analyse case studies, including a real life case study, using professional judgment and develop techniques used by auditors such as being able to perform a risk analysis, internal control assessment, collect and evaluate sufficient appropriate audit evidence including the appropriate use of computer assisted audit techniques.

- Synthesize audit events to analyse and determine the appropriate audit report.
- Critically analyse and explain the professional, legal, ethical and regulatory framework within which audits and other audit related and assurance engagements are carried out.
- Research and critique current developments in audit practice.

Assessment tasks

- Class participation
- Assessed Coursework
- Group Assignment
- Final examination

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills

Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Discuss the purpose of the audit function and the need for an audit.
- Analyse case studies, including a real life case study, using professional judgment and develop techniques used by auditors such as being able to perform a risk analysis, internal control assessment, collect and evaluate sufficient appropriate audit evidence including the appropriate use of computer assisted audit techniques.
- Synthesize audit events to analyse and determine the appropriate audit report.
- Critically analyse and explain the professional, legal, ethical and regulatory framework within which audits and other audit related and assurance engagements are carried out.

Assessment tasks

- Class participation
- Group Assignment
- Final examination

PG - Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

Our postgraduates will be capable of utilising and reflecting on prior knowledge and experience, of applying higher level critical thinking skills, and of integrating and synthesising learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments. A characteristic of this form of thinking is the generation of new, professionally oriented knowledge through personal or group-based critique of practice and theory.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Discuss the purpose of the audit function and the need for an audit.
- Analyse case studies, including a real life case study, using professional judgment and develop techniques used by auditors such as being able to perform a risk analysis, internal control assessment, collect and evaluate sufficient appropriate audit evidence including the appropriate use of computer assisted audit techniques.

Changes from Previous Offering

To facilitate student competency with the material relevant to the discipline of the auditing and assurances discipline, the major changes from the offering in Semester 1, 2015 include:

Introduction of participation and research articles readings

Research and Practice, Global and Sustainability

This unit addresses global and sustainability issues as direct areas of study and as necessary implications arising from the materials, assessment and academic discussion and debate in seminars. We promote sustainability by developing ability in students to research and locate information within the auditing and assurance services discipline. We aim to provide students with an opportunity to obtain skills which will benefit them throughout their career.

The unit text book (Leung et al., 2014) has a reference list at the end of each chapter containing all references cited by the author. These provide some guidance to references that could be used to research particular issues.
