Unit description

This unit, together with IRPG850, requires the completion of a dissertation of approximately 15,000 words. The research topic is chosen by the student but must be approved by the convenor as suitable for an MIR dissertation and for which supervision is available. The unit cannot be undertaken until at least four units in the MIR program have been completed, and entry is conditional on the achievement of a High Credit or Distinction average in these units. Applications for enrolment are made through the MIR office and are assessed individually.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate research skills of an advanced character

Demonstrate extended ability to write from a research base and to explicate argument

Demonstrate self-management in complex tasks of research and writing

General Assessment Information

Note that this unit is 'twinned' with IRPG 850 and that the two units, valued at 4cp, are taken in sequence across a two-semester period, giving an equivalence to IRPG846 (8cp). The twinned units are suitable for those unable to take the 8cp unit within a single semester. Successful completion of the first of the units in the sequence (whether IRPG850 or IRPG851) results in a "K" for "Continuing" grade, and the final assessment comes with the completion of the second unit.

The assessment criteria and learning outcomes shown in this source are identical to those for IRPG846 but must be read as applying within the context of the explanation here of the linked units.
