Unit description

This unit studies macroeconomic theory and policy in a global context. It develops standard open economy macroeconomic models including: the Mundell-Fleming model; Dornbusch's overshooting model; and baseline intertemporal models. Exchange rate determination models are also analysed. These models are used to understand important issues in international macroeconomics including: the exchange rate; the current account; international capital mobility; exchange rate regimes; monetary unions and monetary and fiscal policies in open economies. Empirical evidence and policy issues are discussed where appropriate, using examples from both Australia and the rest of the world.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

To understand and explain the assumptions and structure of standard theoretical models that form the body of modern international macroeconomics.

To apply these models and to interpret and analyse real problems in international macroeconomics.

To understand the associated empirical implications and important policy issues in the global economy.

To be intellectually ready to participate in public policy discussions arising in business and government environments.

Delivery and Resources

Classes

Lecture & Tutorial: Friday 12-3pm E6A 102 Theatrette. Some lectures will be delivered in online mode only.

The timetable for classes can be found on the University web site at: <http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au/>

Class attendance is only one part of university study. In addition to class attendance, students will need to spend around six hours per week in private study in order to perform well in this unit.

Required and Recommended Texts and/or Materials

Required Text:

* Krugman, P., M. Obstfeld, and M.J. Melitz (2012), International Economics: Theory and Policy, 9th ed., Global Edition, Pearson. (Hereafter referred to as KOM) The book is available for purchase at the Co-op Bookshop.

* Schmitt-Grohe S. and M. Uribe (2011), International Macroeconomics (Hereafter referred to as SGU). The text can be downloaded at http://www.econ.umn.edu/~deniz/teaching\_spring2012/uribe-schmitt%20grohe-2011.pdf

Technology Used and Required

Unit Web Page

Course material as well as up to date information concerning any aspect of the unit, including any changes to the schedule, will be available to students by logging on to the learning management system (iLearn) that can be accessed via <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/login/MQ/>

Assignment have to be submitted electronically through turnitin.

Learning and Teaching Strategies

This unit is taught as a mix of lectures and tutorials. Some lectures will be delivered in online format only. The lectures are designed to provide the tools which can then be applied in tutorials. Tutorial questions will be discussed in the third hour in some weeks where the lectures are shorter than others. Together with understanding lectures, practicing tutorial questions helps you to prepare for the quizzes, class test and assignments.

Changes since the last offering of this Unit

- The weights of assessments were changed.

- Class participation was added as an assessment.

In addition, a number of other policies can be found in the Learning and Teaching Category of Policy Central.

Student Code of Conduct

Macquarie University students have a responsibility to be familiar with the Student Code of Conduct: https://students.mq.edu.au/support/student\_conduct/

Results

Results shown in iLearn, or released directly by your Unit Convenor, are not confirmed as they are subject to final approval by the University. Once approved, final results will be sent to your student email address and will be made available in eStudent. For more information visit ask.mq.edu.au.

Academic Honesty

The nature of scholarly endeavour, dependent as it is on the work of others, binds all members of the University community to abide by the principles of academic honesty. Its fundamental principle is that all staff and students act with integrity in the creation, development, application and use of ideas and information. This means that:

- all academic work claimed as original is the work of the author making the claim
- all academic collaborations are acknowledged
- academic work is not falsified in any way
- when the ideas of others are used, these ideas are acknowledged appropriately.

Further information on the academic honesty can be found in the Macquarie University Academic Honesty Policy at http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/academic\_honesty/policy.html

Graduate Capabilities

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To understand and explain the assumptions and structure of standard theoretical models that form the body of modern international macroeconomics.
- To apply these models and to interpret and analyse real problems in international macroeconomics.
- To understand the associated empirical implications and important policy issues in the global economy.
- To be intellectually ready to participate in public policy discussions arising in business and government environments.

Assessment tasks

- Assignments
- Class Test
- Class participation
- Online quizzes

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To understand and explain the assumptions and structure of standard theoretical models that form the body of modern international macroeconomics.
- To understand the associated empirical implications and important policy issues in the global economy.
- To be intellectually ready to participate in public policy discussions arising in business and government environments.

Assessment tasks

- Assignments
- Class Test

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To understand and explain the assumptions and structure of standard theoretical models that form the body of modern international macroeconomics.
- To apply these models and to interpret and analyse real problems in international macroeconomics.
- To understand the associated empirical implications and important policy issues in the global economy.
- To be intellectually ready to participate in public policy discussions arising in business and government environments.

Assessment tasks

- Assignments
- Class Test
- Class participation

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:
