Unit description

This unit introduces students to the Australian legal system and to essential legal principles and concepts that inform the way in which commercial activities are regulated. The unit prepares students for more advanced units such as BUSL301 and BUSL315. Studying this unit may also be of interest to students from varied disciplines as it provides them with a broad knowledge and understanding of how the laws apply to ordinary commercial transactions. A range of assessment tasks are used in the unit to monitor the progress of students and to develop important analytical and generic professional skills. Topics include: contract law, tort law (with a focus on negligence), property law (including intellectual property), consumer protection law, and the law of agency.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Understanding of how laws are made and enforced.

Unit Structure and Requirements

- The course will consist of 13 x 2 hour lectures beginning in week one (1); and
- 12 x 1 hour tutorials beginning in week two (2). (The timetable for classes can be found on the University web site at: <http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au/>).
 - Students can only change their lecture or tutorials in the first three (3) weeks through the eStudent system and only when there is space in the other tutorial or lecture.
 - All lectures are recorded audio and screen-capture video.
 - If a student changes tutorials in the first 3 weeks it is their responsibility to inform both their old tutor and their new tutor.
 - Failure to inform tutors about changing tutorials may result in a student missing out on eligible participation marks.
 - It is strongly advised that students attend all lectures and tutorials. Tutorials are not compulsory but failure to attend tutorials will mean that students will not be awarded any tutorial participation marks.
 - Medical certificates must be provided justifying tutorial absence and in order to avoid the deduction of tutorial participation marks.
 - If you have a recurring problem that makes you late, or forces you to leave early, please discuss this with your lecturer/tutor.
- Mobile phone should not be used in lectures or tutorials.
- Laptops can be used in tutorials only if prior arrangements have been made with the tutor.
- Students who disturb or disrupt in lectures and tutorial class will be asked to leave.
- As a guide the workload for the semester 150 hours should be allocated for BUSL250. This includes all classes, assessments, personal study and other learning activities.
 - sample breakdown of workload

Learning and Teaching Activities

How the Unit is Taught

As noted, this unit is taught through a combination of two (2) -hour lecture style seminars and smaller one (1)-hour tutorial discussion groups. Each week certain topics are covered in the lecture and subsequently discussed in the tutorial that is held in the following week. Tutorial questions form the basis of discussion in each weeks tutorial. A tutorial may include a mixture of group work, open class discussion, tutor facilitated discussion and individual problem solving. Tutorials also provide the context where students are encouraged to openly discuss related issues and ask questions of their tutor and peers. Issues covered in the lecture but not in the tutorial ARE STILL EXAMINABLE.

Suggested learning strategies:

Everyone is different and learns differently. Some general suggestions that may benefit students include i) completing the tutorial questions prior to tutorials. ii) previewing the lecture notes prior to lecture. A small investment of time prior to lectures and tutorials will save a large amount of time later in the session. The readings for this course can be demanding - particularly the language used to discuss legal issues. If there is a word that you do not understand spend a few seconds looking it up immediately (even on your smartphone). The time invested understanding that word now will make your reading easier as the course advances. If you cannot understand a particular word or phrase even after looking it up - ask your lecturer or tutor. As a guide, the readings, study and assessment for this subject will require approximately 6 hours per week above the 3 hours allocated for formal lectures and tutorials.

Graduate Capabilities

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Understanding of how laws are made and enforced.
- Understanding of the legal principles that apply to business law in Australia
- Ability to research business law related topics through using hard copy materials and electronic/online information systems
- Ability to work in a team to solve legal problems likely to arise in a business setting

Assessment tasks

- Online Quizzes
- Class Participation
- In Class Test
- Final Exam

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Understanding of how laws are made and enforced.
- Ability to analyse the legal aspects of problems relevant to business
- Ability to critically assess and make judgements on the merits of legal arguments
- Ability to work in a team to solve legal problems likely to arise in a business setting

Assessment tasks

- Online Quizzes
- Class Participation
- In Class Test
- Final Exam

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Understanding of the legal principles that apply to business law in Australia
- Ability to analyse the legal aspects of problems relevant to business
- Ability to critically assess and make judgements on the merits of legal arguments
- Ability to research business law related topics through using hard copy materials and electronic/online information systems
- Ability to work in a team to solve legal problems likely to arise in a business setting

Assessment tasks

- Online Quizzes
- Class Participation
- In Class Test
- Final Exam

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Understanding of how laws are made and enforced.
- Understanding of the legal principles that apply to business law in Australia
- Ability to analyse the legal aspects of problems relevant to business
- Ability to critically assess and make judgements on the merits of legal arguments

Research and Practice, Global and Sustainability

The following are some selected works of interest that are being worked on or have been published by BUSL250 teaching staff:

FOFA Legislation: A Brief Overview, BUTTERWORTHS CORPORATION LAW BULLETIN, 2012. (Co-authored by Andrew Dahdal and Ms Eylem Kammerakas, Vice-President Legal Morgan Stanley Smith Barney)

Dahdal, A. The Survival of Fiduciary Obligations despite the Death of a Commercial Opportunity: The case of Omnilab Media, BUTTERWORTHS CORPORATION LAW BULLETIN, 2012.

This unit addresses global and sustainability issues as direct areas of study and as necessary implications arising from the materials, assessment and academic discussion and debate in classes/seminars. We promote sustainability by developing ability in students to research and locate information within the accounting discipline in particular legal rules and regulations. We aim to provide students with an opportunity to obtain skills which will benefit them throughout their career.

The unit materials have a reference list at the end of each chapter/module/text containing all references cited by the author. These provide some guidance to references that could be used to research particular issues.
