Unit description

This unit will explore what language is and how it develops in early childhood from birth to eight years of age. The relationship between language, learning and culture will be investigated. Students will consider different definitions of literacy and examine how oral language in the early years of life relates to subsequent knowledge of written, visual and aural texts. Issues to be addressed include how to create a language and literacy rich environment and the central role of adults in supporting children's language and literacy development in a range of contexts. All enrolment queries should be directed to Open Universities Australia (OUA): see www.open.edu.au.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Use appropriate metalanguage when analysing language structure and function.

Demonstrate understanding of the relationship between oral language, adult-child interaction and literacy development.

Evaluate EC settings in terms of language and literacy development.

Pedagogical strategies for promoting language and literacy development.

Use peer reviewed research to justify decision making.

Use academic language appropriately to express ideas and arguments.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Shared Reading	35%	week 6
Observation of infants	35%	Week 9
Special Interest Topic	30%	Week 13

Shared Reading

Due: week 6 Weighting: 35%

Students analyse an interaction between an adult and a child during shared reading of a picture book.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Use appropriate metalanguage when analysing language structure and function.
- Demonstrate understanding of the relationship between oral language, adult-child interaction and literacy development.
- Use academic language appropriately to express ideas and arguments.

Observation of infants

Due: Week 9 Weighting: 35%

Students observe the nursery in a Long Day Care centre and evaluate the language and literacy potential.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate understanding of the relationship between oral language, adult-child interaction and literacy development.
- Evaluate EC settings in terms of language and literacy development.
- · Use peer reviewed research to justify decision making.
- Use academic language appropriately to express ideas and arguments.

Special Interest Topic

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 30%

Students choose an area of special interest in early childhood language and literacy development from a list of topics.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Use appropriate metalanguage when analysing language structure and function.
- · Pedagogical strategies for promoting language and literacy development.
- · Use peer reviewed research to justify decision making.
- Use academic language appropriately to express ideas and arguments.

Delivery and Resources

The unit is delivered fully online.

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Capable of Professional and Personal Judgment and Initiative

Our postgraduates will demonstrate a high standard of discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgment. They will have the ability to make informed choices and decisions that reflect both the nature of their professional work and their personal perspectives.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate understanding of the relationship between oral language, adult-child interaction and literacy development.
- Evaluate EC settings in terms of language and literacy development.
- Pedagogical strategies for promoting language and literacy development.
- · Use peer reviewed research to justify decision making.

Assessment task

· Observation of infants

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills

Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Use appropriate metalanguage when analysing language structure and function.
- Evaluate EC settings in terms of language and literacy development.
- Pedagogical strategies for promoting language and literacy development.
- Use academic language appropriately to express ideas and arguments.

Assessment tasks

- Shared Reading
- Special Interest Topic

PG - Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

Our postgraduates will be capable of utilising and reflecting on prior knowledge and experience, of applying higher level critical thinking skills, and of integrating and synthesising learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments. A characteristic of this form of thinking is the generation of new, professionally oriented knowledge through personal or group-based critique of practice and theory.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Use appropriate metalanguage when analysing language structure and function.
- Use peer reviewed research to justify decision making.

Use academic language appropriately to express ideas and arguments.

Assessment tasks

- · Shared Reading
- Special Interest Topic

PG - Research and Problem Solving Capability

Our postgraduates will be capable of systematic enquiry; able to use research skills to create new knowledge that can be applied to real world issues, or contribute to a field of study or practice to enhance society. They will be capable of creative questioning, problem finding and problem solving.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- · Pedagogical strategies for promoting language and literacy development.
- · Use peer reviewed research to justify decision making.

Assessment task

Special Interest Topic

PG - Effective Communication

Our postgraduates will be able to communicate effectively and convey their views to different social, cultural, and professional audiences. They will be able to use a variety of technologically supported media to communicate with empathy using a range of written, spoken or visual formats.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Use appropriate metalanguage when analysing language structure and function.
- Demonstrate understanding of the relationship between oral language, adult-child interaction and literacy development.
- Evaluate EC settings in terms of language and literacy development.
- Use academic language appropriately to express ideas and arguments.
