Unit description

This unit is a study of contemporary Asia through cinema. Students develop an understanding of cultural diversity, commonality and exchanges amongst Asian countries. The unit examines, through the study of various films, how social shifts (local, Asia-wide or global) affect the everyday life of the individual. The unit also examines how cinema can challenge and influence the viewer's perception of such issues as identity, race and nationality, and thereby have an impact upon wider changes in society.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Develop understanding of a wide range of films from Asian countries, and of how specific themes and preoccupations become varied and diversified

Develop general understanding of Asian societies in relation to the function of cinema as critique and a mode of advocacy

Generate informed and original analysis of Asian film in its local and global contexts and express findings in a clear and focused manner in oral and written form

Demonstrate initiative and competence in research, including locating and interpreting relevant materials and writing in an efficient and disciplined manner within a recognised referencing system

Build interpersonal communication skills through in-class discussions

General Assessment Information

University regulations stipulate that a student must attempt all required assessment tasks in order to be eligible to pass a unit of study. In ASN201 this means that all four tasks should be fulfilled in order to complete requirements of the unit and be eligible for a passing grade.

ASN201 also has unit-specific assessment policies. Please refer to the Study Guide on the iLearn site for details. Rubrics for all assessment tasks will be available on the iLearn site.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Unit Participation	15%	Ongoing
Tutorial Presentation	20%	Once between Weeks 3 and 11
Film Review Critique	25%	4 Sept
Essay	40%	30 Oct

Unit Participation

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 15%

Unit participation comprises attendance and participation and will be assessed in terms of the quality and consistency of participation in class. Students are required to be punctual and well prepared for all classes.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop understanding of a wide range of films from Asian countries, and of how specific themes and preoccupations become varied and diversified
- Develop general understanding of Asian societies in relation to the function of cinema as critique and a mode of advocacy
- Build interpersonal communication skills through in-class discussions

Tutorial Presentation

Due: Once between Weeks 3 and 11

Weighting: 20%

A topic is presented in the relevant tutorial. It will be supported by a PPT Presentation and will be the basis for leading class discussion of the topic. Working in groups of two (Sign-up to groups will be available on the iLearn site), choose one week's topic, read the essential reading and other relevant materials and create 10-12 PPT slides with notes. The presentation should include a summary of the important points of the week's topic and questions designed to generate active discussion. The assignment includes a self-/peer-evaluation component.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop understanding of a wide range of films from Asian countries, and of how specific themes and preoccupations become varied and diversified
- Develop general understanding of Asian societies in relation to the function of cinema as critique and a mode of advocacy
- Generate informed and original analysis of Asian film in its local and global contexts and express findings in a clear and focused manner in oral and written form
- Build interpersonal communication skills through in-class discussions

Film Review Critique

Due: 4 Sept

Weighting: 25%

From the sets of reviews included on the iLearn site, choose a set for one. Watch the film carefully, and write a 1500-word analysis of the film in the form of a critical assessment of the set of reviews chosen (e.g. Are the film's themes adequately discussed? Is the film placed in context? Are its genre, conventions and techniques appropriately discussed?).

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop understanding of a wide range of films from Asian countries, and of how specific themes and preoccupations become varied and diversified
- Develop general understanding of Asian societies in relation to the function of cinema as critique and a mode of advocacy
- Demonstrate initiative and competence in research, including locating and interpreting relevant materials and writing in an efficient and disciplined manner within a recognised referencing system

Essay

Due: 30 Oct

Weighting: 40%

Answer one of the four set questions. In your essay, compare two films from different countries.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop understanding of a wide range of films from Asian countries, and of how specific themes and preoccupations become varied and diversified
- Develop general understanding of Asian societies in relation to the function of cinema as critique and a mode of advocacy
- Demonstrate initiative and competence in research, including locating and interpreting relevant materials and writing in an efficient and disciplined manner within a recognised referencing system

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Demonstrate initiative and competence in research, including locating and interpreting relevant materials and writing in an efficient and disciplined manner within a recognised referencing system

Assessment tasks

- Film Review Critique
- Essay

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Generate informed and original analysis of Asian film in its local and global contexts and express findings in a clear and focused manner in oral and written form

Assessment tasks

- Tutorial Presentation
- Film Review Critique
- Essay

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Develop general understanding of Asian societies in relation to the function of cinema as critique and a mode of advocacy

Assessment tasks
