Unit description

This unit prepares students for professional practice as translators and/or interpreters. Students will be required to complete the fieldwork components (Practicum) required for NAATI Accreditation in the context of this unit. In addition to the fieldwork, the unit will cover a range of knowledge and skills that are essential to working as a freelance practitioner or as part of an in-house team of translators and interpreters. These include a profound understanding of translator and interpreter ethics, business creation and administration, marketing, building good client relationships, and lifelong learning.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Students should be able to undertake field practice in a professional manner with or without supervision

Students should be competent to launch their career as a freelance translator/interpreter

Students should demonstrate effective communication with clients and good client relationship management

Students should be able to competently apply the AUSIT Code of Ethics

Students should be able to demonstrate competent management of translation and interpreting tasks in a teamwork environment

General Assessment Information

To reflect the flexibility of the unit to be a practical-oriented one, the students are allowed to extend their completion of all the tasks beyond the current semester, so long as they stay with the T&I Program. However, the students doing so will not get a final result until all the requirements are met.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Seminar attendance	20%	Week 7
Reflective journals	30%	Week 13
Portfolio	50%	Week 13

Seminar attendance

Due: Week 7

Weighting: 20%

The students are required to attend 6 seminars on various topics in relation to their professional practise, including code of ethics, court interpreting, coping with translation projects, etc. A journal is required for each seminar.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Students should be competent to launch their career as a freelance translator/interpreter
- Students should be able to competently apply the AUSIT Code of Ethics

Reflective journals

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 30%

The students are required to keep journals to the activities included in the unit, including the seminars, interpreting placements, translation projects, observations, etc. The journals shall be submitted with the portfolio by the end of Week 13.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Students should be able to undertake field practice in a professional manner with or without supervision
- Students should be competent to launch their career as a freelance translator/interpreter
- Students should demonstrate effective communication with clients and good client relationship management
- Students should be able to competently apply the AUSIT Code of Ethics
- Students should be able to demonstrate competent management of translation and interpreting tasks in a teamwork environment

Portfolio

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 50%

The students are required to submit a portfolio by the end of Week 13, enclosing all the activities they have done for the unit, including log sheets for interpreting placements and court observations, journals of the activities (seminars, placements, translation projects, observations, etc.), supervisors' reports and evaluation forms of the translation projects, feedback forms of interpreting placements, and so on.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Students should be able to undertake field practice in a professional manner with or without supervision
- Students should be competent to launch their career as a freelance translator/interpreter
- Students should demonstrate effective communication with clients and good client relationship management
- Students should be able to competently apply the AUSIT Code of Ethics
- Students should be able to demonstrate competent management of translation and interpreting tasks in a teamwork environment

Delivery and Resources

The main on-campus delivery method of the unit is seminars by guest lectures to cover different topics of working as a professional translator and/or interpreter. Other than attending the seminar, the T&I Program is also liaising with the community to secure interpreting placement opportunities and translation projects for the students to practise in the real mode, with the final products supervised by qualified interpreters and/or translators. Students will also be required to act as practising interpreters/translators for various clients sourced by the program or by themselves (pre-approval of the program is needed before the actual work is carried out).
