Unit description

The unit provides theoretical frameworks and practical learning exercises for image analysis and construction by international actors – intergovernmental, state, corporate and non-government. The concepts of symbolic interactionism, soft power, public diplomacy, international public relations, framing, image and branding are examined from strategic and ethical communication perspectives. Theory is related to practice through analysis of existing international public relations campaigns and the design of new ones. Through weekly simulations of press conferences regarding current events, students develop practical skills in analysing strategic opportunities for presenting their organisation to publics.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Evaluate and analyse theories and debates about international public relations, image, frames and public diplomacy.

Evaluate the relationship between hard and soft public diplomacy, soft power and international public relations.

Analyse international public relations/public diplomacy campaigns.

Communicate effectively an international public relations/public diplomacy campaign in an international political context.

Apply practical research and interview skills in IPR/public diplomacy contexts.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Task 1 Mini Essay	10%	27 August (Week 5)
Task 2 Internal Proposal	10%	10 September (Week 7)
Task 3 Critical Essay	40%	Week 12 or Week 13
Task 4 Individual Presentation	20%	Week 12 or Week 13
Task 5 Participation	20%	Ongoing

Task 1 Mini Essay

Due: 27 August (Week 5)

Weighting: 10%

This mini essay will be based on the readings for the first 4 weeks. It should discuss critically the value of the concept of framing in (1) reading images of international actors as depicted in the media and (2) in the branding of international actors by public relations consultants, drawing on theoretical insights.

Word limit: 500 words (exclusive of references)

Due in Week 5 (27 August)

Assessment Criteria are:

1. Sophisticated analysis and evaluation of international public relations concepts (framing, image, branding).
2. Application of PD/PR concepts in PD/IPR campaigns
3. Concise and efficient writing skills

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Evaluate and analyse theories and debates about international public relations, image, frames and public diplomacy.

- Evaluate the relationship between hard and soft public diplomacy, soft power and international public relations.

Task 2 Internal Proposal

Due: 10 September (Week 7)

Weighting: 10%

You are a PR consultant seeking a PR job from a client. Your client must be a real world international 'actor' such as a state (Country A), NGO or IGO. You need to write a 500 word proposal regarding an image problem faced by the actor in Country B. In your proposal you should briefly describe the actor (e.g. the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the country A) based on web research, identify the international image problem that Country A or the NGO or IGO face in Country B in terms of issues, media, stakeholders, locations and the target audience. Your purpose is to interest the prospective client sufficiently in order to be called in to make an oral presentation.

Word limit: 500 words (exclusive of references)

Due in Week 7 (10 September)

Assessment Criteria are:

1. Appropriate identification of actors (PR agency & international actor)
2. Succinct description of the distinctive feature of the actors (PR agency and international actor)
3. Analysis of the actor's image problem(s)
4. Application of Diffusion Theory to identify opinion leaders and target audience
5. Concise and efficient writing skills

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Communicate effectively an international public relations/public diplomacy campaign in an international political context.
- Apply practical research and interview skills in IPR/public diplomacy contexts.

Task 3 Critical Essay

Due: Week 12 or Week 13

Weighting: 40%

Option A

The objective of the assignment is to research, describe, analyse and evaluate an international public relations/public diplomacy campaign. Analyse a specific international public relations/public diplomacy campaign by a state, a Non-Government Organisation or a large business operating internationally. This is essentially an exercise in analysis. You may consider questions such as What was the campaign and what did the actor hope to achieve? What did it do and why? What were the obstacles and the advantages it had? Was it successful? Why or why not? Could it have been improved? How? Make sure that your topic is relevant to the course; if you have any doubts, please ask me.

Remember it must have the following features:

It must be an international campaign. i.e. the PR campaigner's target audience should not be its own domestic audience. The audience should be outside the campaigning institution's own national borders. Such audiences could include members of diasporas. The campaign must have been commissioned by a government, government agency, intergovernmental organisation, nongovernmental organisation or large business; It must be a specific campaign conducted for a specific purpose at a specific time; It must be a public relations or soft public diplomacy exercise, not a hard diplomacy or behind-closed doors diplomatic one, the latter being more relevant to international relations.

Relate what you say about this specific case to some of the general theory that we have discussed in class. In other words, what wider lessons can we learn from this case study and/or how does theory illuminate your case study? Most people do what is, in effect, a case study, so make sure that your conclusion sets out what you think your case study tells us about international public relations and/or public diplomacy in general: What can we learn from this case study? Pay attention to structure, logical flow and conclusions which flow from what you have analysed. You will find that the use of headings helps your setting out because it forces you into some kind of structure. Make sure your conclusion follows from your argument. The most common mistakes students make are: poor structure; too much description and not enough analysis; the conclusion is too general and/or does not follow from the argument in the paper.

Word limit: 2,000 words (exclusive of references)

Due in Week 12 (29 October) & Week 13 (5 November) by arrangement (Week 13 if your presentation is in Week 12 and week 12 if your presentation is in Week 13).

Assessment Criteria are:

1. Research skills and application
2. Analyse and evaluate an existing campaign using theoretical models
3. Originality of, and rigorous argumentation about, their campaign recommendations
4. Style of writing and grammatical skills

Option B

The objective of the assignment is to write a review article for The Journal of International Communication.

You will need to select three or four articles (chapters) from unit readings, read them carefully, summarise them (in terms of propositions, methods, findings, conclusions) and subject them to a critical (weaknesses), comparative discussion (commonalities, differences, resonances with other literature, innovativeness) and synthesise new knowledge. The highest quality review articles will produce new insights, begin to develop new frameworks, and point to new directions for further inquiry. Provide an introduction, summary of each article, critical comparative discussion and a conclusion.

Word limit: 2,000 words (exclusive of references)

Due in Week 12 (29 October) & Week 13 (5 November) by arrangement (Week 13 if your presentation is in Week 12 and week 12 if your presentation is in Week 13).

Assessment Criteria are:

1. Succinct summary of articles (in terms of propositions, methods, findings, conclusions)
2. Critical analyse of articles
3. Inclusion and discussion of appropriate literature in the field
4. Innovative and original arguments about the articles
5. Writing style and grammatical skills

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Evaluate and analyse theories and debates about international public relations, image, frames and public diplomacy.
- Evaluate the relationship between hard and soft public diplomacy, soft power and international public relations.
- Analyse international public relations/public diplomacy campaigns.

Task 4 Individual Presentation

Due: Week 12 or Week 13

Weighting: 20%

The objective of this assignment is to develop and present a creative international public relations/public diplomacy campaign to promote an issue or image for an international client who might be an individual, corporation, NGO, government or IGO for whom international image is important. This differs from assignment 3 (Option A) in that now you are presenting your own campaign instead of criticising that of someone else. It is a sales pitch, not an academic paper, but needs to be well researched. You present your campaign proposal to your prospective client. Remember that you must identify and describe who you are – that is your PR agency and who your prospective client is. For instance, if Australia is experiencing an image problem in Indonesia, your prospective client may be the Australian Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade. You need to analyse the client's image problem and the specific audience in the country where the image problem exists. Saying 'people of Indonesia' will not suffice. Use Diffusion Theory to analyse the audience strategically and identify opinion leaders. Remember it must be an international campaign (e.g. Australian campaign in Indonesia), not a domestic one (e.g. Australian campaign in Australia). It can be public relations, public diplomacy or advertising but it must be a specific campaign.

10 mts. plus 7 Powerpoint slides, one containing references.

If you are in Week 12 for your presentation, your due date for Assignment 3 will be in Week 13 (5 November). If you are in Week 13 for your presentation, your due date for Assignment 3 will be in Week 12 (29 October).

Assessment Criteria are:

1. Demonstrate appropriate and independent research
2. Identify and describe actors
3. Contextualise the actor's image problem
4. Application of Diffusion Theory to analyse the target audience and opinion leaders
5. Design of a new campaign strategy
6. Effectiveness of PPT slides
7. Succinctness of the delivery of the campaign pitch

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Communicate effectively an international public relations/public diplomacy campaign in an international political context.
- Apply practical research and interview skills in IPR/public diplomacy contexts.

Task 5 Participation

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 20%

Participation

- Please remember that in standards-based assessment, it is through assessment tasks that students demonstrate the unit learning outcomes. In this unit, participation will be assessed using a rubric.

Attendance

- Students are required to sign the name sheet in each lecture and tutorial class.
- But please remember that turning up is not a learning outcome.

Basic requirements for tutorials and the weight of each criterion are:

- Participation in discussions in tutorial classes (10%)
- Group research on simulation topics and simulation performance in tutorial classes (10%)

Assessment Criteria are:

1. Demonstrates good preparation for the assigned topics
2. Initiates critical discussions about assigned topics and provides comments that advances the level and depth of dialogue (consistent)
3. Demonstrates an active role in discussions
4. Contributes ongoing discussions
5. Demonstrates group research collaboration and research skills
6. Demonstrates diplomatic skills and interview skills in the simulated press conferences

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Evaluate and analyse theories and debates about international public relations, image, frames and public diplomacy.
- Evaluate the relationship between hard and soft public diplomacy, soft power and international public relations.
- Apply practical research and interview skills in IPR/public diplomacy contexts.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

Online units can be accessed at iLearn: <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au>

iLearn is the main platform for material sharing, communication and assignment submission.

PC and Internet access are required. Basic computer skills (e.g., internet browsing) and skills in word processing are also a requirement. Please consult teaching staff for any further, more specific requirements.

TEACHING AND LEARNING STRATEGY

Theory is related to practice through analysis of existing international public relations campaigns and the design of new ones. Through weekly discussion of current international affairs and review of the publicity of the affairs, students develop practical skills in analysing strategic opportunities for presenting their organisation to publics. There will be two readings in most weeks.

To complete the readings is vitally important in order to benefit from the unit to the fullest extent.

It is recommended that you read the articles listed for class discussion before each class and discuss them on iLearn forum.

REQUIRED READING AND RECOMMENDED TEXTS AND/OR MATERIALS

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Capable of Professional and Personal Judgment and Initiative

Our postgraduates will demonstrate a high standard of discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgment. They will have the ability to make informed choices and decisions that reflect both the nature of their professional work and their personal perspectives.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Analyse international public relations/public diplomacy campaigns.
- Communicate effectively an international public relations/public diplomacy campaign in an international political context.
- Apply practical research and interview skills in IPR/public diplomacy contexts.

Assessment tasks

- Task 2 Internal Proposal
- Task 3 Critical Essay
- Task 4 Individual Presentation
- Task 5 Participation

Learning and teaching activities

- Discussion during tutorials
- Group research activities during tutorials
- Simulation sessions during tutorials

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills

Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Evaluate and analyse theories and debates about international public relations, image, frames and public diplomacy.
- Evaluate the relationship between hard and soft public diplomacy, soft power and international public relations.
- Analyse international public relations/public diplomacy campaigns.

Assignment Submission

No Hard Copy Submissions, all the assignments will be submitted to Turnitin on iLearn.

Information about how to submit work online can be accessed through the iLearn unit.

Return of marked work

During semester, marked work will be returned to students via Turnitin on iLearn.

Late Penalties

Any assessment task that is handed in late, that is after the due date, will incur a late penalty of 10% per day (including weekends), unless the student has applied for 'Disruption to Studies' for the assessment tasks.

Requirements to Complete the Unit Satisfactorily

- Timely submission of assessment tasks

Assessment tasks are aligned to the unit Learning Outcomes. Timely submission of assessment tasks is a unit requirement or penalties apply. 10% per day (including weekends) will be deducted for all late submissions unless Disruption to Studies (including a request for an extension) is approved.

- Participation in tutorials

You are required to attend all tutorials. As participation in the process of Learning is linked to and underpins the unit Learning Outcomes, you will need to either apply for Disruption to Studies to cover any missed tutorial (if the disruption is greater than three consecutive days) or supply appropriate documentation to your unit convenor for any missed tutorial (if less than three consecutive days).
