Unit description

This unit explores the historical and social contexts in which Australian education occurs. The perspectives that inform the unit are predominantly sociological and historical, but the disciplines of cultural studies, philosophy, politics and economics also have a strong influence. The unit begins with an overview of the development of education in Australia by discussing a number of key moments in the history of Australian education. The unit gives emphasis to issues of social justice and social disadvantage and also considers these matters in relation to contemporary issues in education: media, technology and community.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Develop an understanding of the key historical and social issues in Australian education, and identify links to contemporary situations and events

Be able to find relevant information about social and historical events in education from a range of sources including the library, newspapers and electronic sources

Develop skills in the analysis and critical review of academic and media material, and anticipate how this understanding could be applied

Present ideas in creative ways that assist in developing new understandings and solutions to problems

Be able to effectively communicate ideas

Be able to work collaboratively and ethically with others

Develop an understanding of the ways issues in Australian education impact the teaching profession and others.

General Assessment Information

Assessment tasks in EDUC106 are linked and together develop a set of skills and knowledge. To successfully complete the unit you are required to submit a RAL, a Research essay, present (or submit for externals) an ACRR digital artefact and submit the report, and participate in all classes: e.g. lectures and tutorials

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Reviewing Academic Literature	10%	Week 5, 24 Aug 2015
Educational disadvantage	40%	21 Sep 2015
Artefact Creation and Report	30%	Week 11, 19 Oct 2015
Examination	20%	Exam period

Reviewing Academic Literature

Due: Week 5, 24 Aug 2015

Weighting: 10%

Submit a 400 word review of the following article:

Kenway, J. (2013) Challenging inequality in Australian schools: Gonski and beyond, Discourse: Studies in the Cultural Politics of Education, 34:2, 286-308, DOI: 10.1080/01596306.2013.770254

This article is available in the library's electronic journal collection.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop an understanding of the key historical and social issues in Australian education, and identify links to contemporary situations and events
- Develop skills in the analysis and critical review of academic and media material, and anticipate how this understanding could be applied

Educational disadvantage

Due: 21 Sep 2015

Weighting: 40%

Write an essay in which you consider the situation of students disadvantaged by: socioeconomic background, disability, English language proficiency, the particular needs of Indigenous students, school size, or school location. Comment on how effectively schools, and the education system more generally, prepares these disadvantaged students for employment, further education and training, and life beyond school.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop an understanding of the key historical and social issues in Australian education, and identify links to contemporary situations and events
- Be able to find relevant information about social and historical events in education from a range of sources including the library, newspapers and electronic sources
- Develop skills in the analysis and critical review of academic and media material, and anticipate how this understanding could be applied
- Be able to effectively communicate ideas
- Develop an understanding of the ways issues in Australian education impact the teaching profession and others.

Artefact Creation and Report

Due: Week 11, 19 Oct 2015

Weighting: 30%

In a group of three or four students, devise a problem concerning education and either media, popular culture or technology, and create a digital artefact as a response to that problem. The artefact must be submitted to the unit website. Students must also submit documentation of the group's processes and an individually written, 750-word report. Group members must attend the same tutorial

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Be able to find relevant information about social and historical events in education from a range of sources including the library, newspapers and electronic sources

- Develop skills in the analysis and critical review of academic and media material, and anticipate how this understanding could be applied
- Present ideas in creative ways that assist in developing new understandings and solutions to problems
- Be able to effectively communicate ideas
- Be able to work collaboratively and ethically with others
- Develop an understanding of the ways issues in Australian education impact the teaching profession and others.

Examination

Due: Exam period

Weighting: 20%

Final exam

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop an understanding of the key historical and social issues in Australian education, and identify links to contemporary situations and events

Delivery and Resources

University regulations require that students attend all lectures and tutorials for which they have nominated.

There are two different lectures provided each week

- Lecture 1 is first given at 10:00 am Tuesday in Macquarie Theatre and repeated at 9:00 am Wednesday in C5CT1
- Lecture 2 is first given 9:00 am Thursday in Macquarie Theatre and repeated at 10:00 am Friday in C5CT1.

Tutorials are conducted on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays

Make use of information and computer technology for the production of assignments, research and communication.

Learning and Teaching Activities

Overview

This series of lecture presentations, and the accompanying learning activities, is divided into four modules. The four assessment tasks submissions, including the low risk early assessment task, largely assess material in each of the sections while the exam questions are drawn from all areas of the unit. The first module presents a traditional sociology of education and the familiar themes of class, race and gender as they relate to education. The second module considers education and governance and presents a more contemporary sociology of education. Here the themes of governance, subjectivity and pre-adulthood are addressed. Both these sections explore the social context of education and issues of social disadvantage in education. The third module deals with cultural context of education and the final module considers philosophy, ethics and law as it relates to education.

Module 1. A traditional sociology of education

The unit begins with a framing of education that will be familiar to most, and this is a view established by sociologists of education on a foundation of theories and concerns about matters of class, gender and race. All weeks of this unit comprise: two lectures, a suggested reading and discussion activities. Tutorials commence in week 1.

1.1 INTRODUCTION: MASS EDUCATION AND THE SENSE OF IT (28 & 29 JUL 2015)

This presentation provides an introduction to EDUC106. • EDUC106: where and why it fits • What will be done in EDUC106 o Assessment, learning objectives, capabilities and standards o Teaching staff o Presentations and tutorials o Unit website • Terminology (mass education, public schooling, etc.)

2 Tutorial activities

- Discuss the myths regarding social class outlined by Tait
- Revise locating articles: Connell (2013); Somerville and Rennie (2012)
- How to review academic literature. You might ask yourself the following questions:
 - o What is the article about?
 - o What is the author's line of argument?
 - o What evidence or information is used to support these claims?
 - o How is this information analyzed?
 - o Are these findings significant, and if so, why?
 - o Do you find the argument plausible?
- Review the RAL rubric items

Essential readings

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Present ideas in creative ways that assist in developing new understandings and solutions to problems
- Be able to effectively communicate ideas

Assessment task

- Artefact Creation and Report

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Be able to work collaboratively and ethically with others
- Develop an understanding of the ways issues in Australian education impact the teaching profession and others.

Assessment task

- Artefact Creation and Report

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Develop skills in the analysis and critical review of academic and media material, and anticipate how this understanding could be applied

Assessment task

- Artefact Creation and Report

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Develop an understanding of the key historical and social issues in Australian education, and identify links to contemporary situations and events
- Develop an understanding of the ways issues in Australian education impact the teaching profession and others.

Assessment tasks

- Reviewing Academic Literature
- Educational disadvantage
- Artefact Creation and Report
- Examination

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Develop skills in the analysis and critical review of academic and media material, and anticipate how this understanding could be applied

Assessment tasks

- Reviewing Academic Literature
- Educational disadvantage
- Artefact Creation and Report

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Be able to find relevant information about social and historical events in education from a range of sources including the library, newspapers and electronic sources

Assessment tasks

- Educational disadvantage
- Artefact Creation and Report

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Be able to effectively communicate ideas

Assessment tasks

- Educational disadvantage
- Artefact Creation and Report

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Be able to work collaboratively and ethically with others
- Develop an understanding of the ways issues in Australian education impact the teaching profession and others.

Assessment tasks

- Educational disadvantage
- Artefact Creation and Report

Socially and Environmentally Active and Responsible

We want our graduates to be aware of and have respect for self and others; to be able to work with others as a leader and a team player; to have a sense of connectedness with others and country; and to have a sense of mutual obligation. Our graduates should be informed and active participants in moving society towards sustainability.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Be able to work collaboratively and ethically with others
- Develop an understanding of the ways issues in Australian education impact the teaching profession and others.

Assessment tasks

- Educational disadvantage
- Artefact Creation and Report

Changes from Previous Offering

The following changes have been made for the 2015 version of this unit:

- The readings set for assessment and tutorial work have been changed
- The name of the Current Issue Collaboration (CIC) task has been changed to Artefact Creation and Reflective Report (ACRR) and substantially revised
- Assessment rubrics have been revised and improved
