Unit description

This unit introduces students to some of the major theories and movements, including marxism, psychoanalysis, feminism, structuralism, deconstruction, post-colonialism, ecocriticism etc., that have framed and continue to frame the way we understand the production and consumption of media, its meaning and its affect.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Identify a range of theories that frame our encounters with media texts and practices (1,2)

Understand key issues in a wide and far ranging theoretical, historical and cultural debate about media texts and practices (1,2,3)

Analyse different media texts using different theories (1,2,3)

Communicate in written academic discourse (4,5)

Communicate in oral academic discourse (2,5)

General Assessment Information

Written work must be submitted via Turnitin. You do not need to attach a cover sheet to your essays.

Late Penalties

Essays that are submitted late will be penalised 10% per day late unless the student has organised an extension of time beforehand. Students will be expected to provide a medical certificate or other written evidence of serious misadventure. Weekends count towards the late period.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Task 1	20%	28th August (Week 5)
Task 2	20%	Continuous
Task 3	40%	26 October (Week 12)
Task 4	20%	Week 13 Tutorial

Task 1

Due: 28th August (Week 5)

Weighting: 20%

Students will analyse a set text through one of the following foundational cultural theories-- Marxism, Psychoanalysis, Feminism. The set texts for each theory will be made available through Ilearn during the first weeks of semester.

In this assignment students will be assessed on their critical engagement with unit and individually researched reading material, their undertaking of the task, their knowledge of theory, their critical and relational thinking and their use of academic writing conventions like structure, academic english and referencing.

Minimum Research Requirement: At least two unit readings from the relevant week plus at least two other relevant and appropriate academic publications.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify a range of theories that frame our encounters with media texts and practices (1,2)
- Understand key issues in a wide and far ranging theoretical, historical and cultural debate about media texts and practices (1,2,3)

- Analyse different media texts using different theories (1,2,3)
- Communicate in written academic discourse (4,5)

Task 2

Due: Continuous

Weighting: 20%

Students are expected to read the material in the unit reader prior to tutorials, to take part in class discussion and group work, and attend lectures. Participation will be graded twice (2 X 10%) during the semester (in weeks 7 and 13).

Students will be assessed on their informed participation in the group work that features in each week's tutorial.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify a range of theories that frame our encounters with media texts and practices (1,2)
- Understand key issues in a wide and far ranging theoretical, historical and cultural debate about media texts and practices (1,2,3)
- Analyse different media texts using different theories (1,2,3)
- Communicate in oral academic discourse (2,5)

Task 3

Due: 26 October (Week 12)

Weighting: 40%

Students will analyse a set text, or a small range of texts, through one of the following theories-- Postcolonialism, Ecocriticism, Psychogeography. As with essay one, the set texts will be circulated via ilearn during the semester.

In this assignment students will be assessed on their critical engagement with unit and individually researched reading material, their undertaking of the task, their knowledge of theory, their critical and relational thinking and their use of academic writing conventions like structure, academic english and referencing.

Minimum Research Requirement: At least three unit readings from the relevant week plus at least three other relevant and appropriate academic publications.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify a range of theories that frame our encounters with media texts and practices (1,2)
- Understand key issues in a wide and far ranging theoretical, historical and cultural debate about media texts and practices (1,2,3)

- Analyse different media texts using different theories (1,2,3)
- Communicate in written academic discourse (4,5)

Task 4

Due: Week 13 Tutorial

Weighting: 20%

A closed-book class test in which students will answer three questions in one hour. The questions will be based on lecture and tutorial material from Weeks 2,6,7,11 and 12; one question per week/theory. Questions will test students' knowledge of the key concepts of that week's particular theory.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify a range of theories that frame our encounters with media texts and practices (1,2)
- Understand key issues in a wide and far ranging theoretical, historical and cultural debate about media texts and practices (1,2,3)
- Communicate in written academic discourse (4,5)

Delivery and Resources

The MAS215 unit reader will initially be available from the Co-op Bookshop. Once these have been sold further copies will be available 'on demand' from the Printery. There will be a link in ilearn to facilitate this procedure.

Lectures will be available through Eco360. Tutorials will be held at various times on Wednesday and Thursday.

Essays must be submitted to Turnitin.

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Analyse different media texts using different theories (1,2,3)

Assessment tasks

- Task 1
- Task 2
- Task 3

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify a range of theories that frame our encounters with media texts and practices (1,2)
- Understand key issues in a wide and far ranging theoretical, historical and cultural debate about media texts and practices (1,2,3)
- Analyse different media texts using different theories (1,2,3)

Assessment tasks

- Task 1
- Task 2
- Task 3
- Task 4

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify a range of theories that frame our encounters with media texts and practices (1,2)
- Understand key issues in a wide and far ranging theoretical, historical and cultural debate about media texts and practices (1,2,3)
- Analyse different media texts using different theories (1,2,3)
- Communicate in oral academic discourse (2,5)

Assessment tasks

- Task 1
- Task 2
- Task 3
- Task 4

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Understand key issues in a wide and far ranging theoretical, historical and cultural debate about media texts and practices (1,2,3)
- Analyse different media texts using different theories (1,2,3)

Assessment tasks

- Task 1
- Task 2
- Task 3

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Communicate in written academic discourse (4,5)
- Communicate in oral academic discourse (2,5)

Assessment tasks

- Task 1
- Task 2
- Task 3
- Task 4

Changes from Previous Offering

There are two new lecture topics for the 2015 version of MAS215: mass culture theory and situationism.

Research Requirements

There are minimum research requirements for both essay assignments:

- Essay One Minimum Research Requirement: At least two unit readings from the relevant week plus at least two other relevant and appropriate academic publications.
- Essay Two Minimum Research Requirement: At least three unit readings from the relevant week plus at least three other relevant and appropriate academic publications.

When looking for relevant publications outside the unit reader don't place your trust in online sources of doubtful provenance. To help you in your research you'll find in ilearn a brief list of 'suggested reading', including some reliable online material: please use this list as a starting point for your independent research. The quality of your research will be reflected in the quality of your analysis.

Referencing

For this unit the Harvard referencing style should be used. For a comprehensive referencing style guide please go to <http://www.lib.monash.edu.au/tutorials/citing/harvard.html>. Please note that footnote-style referencing is not acceptable for this unit.

Turnitin

All written assignments must be processed through the Turnitin anti-plagiarism software. Essays are to be uploaded via ilearn.
