Unit description

This unit introduces students to core concepts and principles of modern theories of legal governance. They will critique and contrast a variety of legal research methodologies and develop practical skills in undertaking such research, including: techniques in researching primary and secondary sources of law; elements of good legal writing; and literature review. Students will combine their skills and apply the lens of governance theory to formulate and execute an independent research project (10,000 words) on a topic of the student's choice.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Achieve learning outcomes set out in LAWS818 Research Methodologies in Law

Carry out an independent research project with an advanced level of written expression

Relate principles and theories of governance to a particular doctrinal or policy area of the student's choice

Analyse, synthesise and integrate scholarship on law, governance and policy to contemporary problems

General Assessment Information

Assessments are to be submitted online through Turnitin using the unit's iLearn page. All tasks must be submitted in Word (.doc or .docx) format.

Assessments are due by 5pm on the Friday of the week indicated.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
LAWS818 Assessment Tasks	50%	n/a
Reflection on Governance	10%	Week 6
Research Essay	40%	Final Week

LAWS818 Assessment Tasks

Due: n/a

Weighting: 50%

Students are required to complete all four assessment tasks set out in LAWS818. The total marks earned for those assessments will be converted to a grade of 50 for the purpose of this unit. Students will be automatically enrolled into the LAWS818 iLearn page and required to submit all assessments for that unit via that page.

The Legal Research Plan (Assessment Task 4 for LAWS818) must relate to the essay topic that will be completed for this unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Achieve learning outcomes set out in LAWS818 Research Methodologies in Law

Reflection on Governance

Due: Week 6

Weighting: 10%

Students will submit a short essay (1,000 - 1,250 words, excluding footnotes and bibliography) reflecting on principles and theories of governance as applied to the broad topic (see topics listed under the Research Essay task) that corresponds with the Research Proposal prepared in the LAWS818 component of the unit. Further instructions will be on the unit's iLearn page.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Relate principles and theories of governance to a particular doctrinal or policy area of the student's choice

- Analyse, synthesise and integrate scholarship on law, governance and policy to contemporary problems

Research Essay

Due: Final Week

Weighting: 40%

Students are required to submit a 6,000 word (maximum length, excluding bibliography, tables, figures and appendices) research essay with references in accordance with the Australian Guide to Legal Citation 3 (AGLC3). They will apply their research skills and understanding of legal research methodologies to execute an independent research project to address a contemporary challenge in legal governance, from a domestic or international perspective, under one of the following broad topic areas:

1. Public Health
2. Environment
3. Commerce
4. Human Rights

The final paper is due by 5pm on the Friday of the final teaching week of the second semester in this year-long unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Carry out an independent research project with an advanced level of written expression
- Relate principles and theories of governance to a particular doctrinal or policy area of the student's choice
- Analyse, synthesise and integrate scholarship on law, governance and policy to contemporary problems

Delivery and Resources

In the first half of this year-long unit, students will complete all assessment tasks and attend seminars for LAWS818.

The second half of the unit will include online materials and seven 2-hour face-to-face seminars over the second semester of this year-long unit. These seminars are not compulsory.

Readings (links to articles) and further instructions will be provided on the unit's iLearn page.
