Unit description This unit explores the evolution of terrorism and politically motivated violence, considers the motivations of terrorists and terrorist groups and assesses trends in terrorist methodology. Contemporary and evolving case studies are employed to enhance students' knowledge and understanding of the contemporary practitioners of terrorism and politically motivated violence.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate a higher level understanding of the concept of terrorism and politically motivated violence

Display engagement with the field of terrorism and politically motivated violence through the examination and exploration of critical texts, concepts and theories.

Investigate a substantial body of contemporary terrorism and politically motivated violence literature.

Demonstrate higher order communication skills including the ability to present sustained and persuasive arguments cogently and coherently.

Model research skills, particularly the ability to select appropriately and integrate knowledge from diverse sources to evaluate its significance and relevance; synthesise material and present findings, rationally and lucidly.

Demonstrate higher level skills in critical analysis.

Delivery and Resources

UNIT REQUIREMENTS AND EXPECTATIONS

Although PICT 802 is presented as a block course, you should spend an average of at least 12 hours per week of the semester on this unit. This includes listening to recorded lectures, reading the required/recommended readings for each session detailed in iLearn, and completing the assignments.

Internal students are expected to attend all block course seminar sessions, while external students are expected to contribute to on-line discussions as required.

Students are required to submit all three assessment tasks in order to pass the unit.

REQUIRED/RECOMMENDED READINGS

The citations for all the required readings for this unit are available to enrolled students through the 802 iLearn site under "Readings" where you will find hotlinks to all of the readings. The readings are continually being updated.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

Personal laptop and internet access are essential for this unit. Computer skills in word processing and PowerPoint are also a requirement.

The unit can only be accessed by enrolled students online through <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au>

SUBMITTING ASSESSMENT TASKS

All assessment tasks are to be submitted, marked and returned electronically through the unit iLearn site. They are NOT to be sent direct to the convenor or tutor.

Assessment tasks must be submitted as a Microsoft word document (NOT a pdf) by the due date.

All assessment tasks will be subject to a 'Turnitin' review as an automatic part of the submission process.

Assessment tasks must be submitted with an assessment coversheet incorporating a plagiarism declaration. A copy of the coversheet can be downloaded at:

www.arts.mq.edu.au/current_students/postgraduate_coursework

The granting of extensions of up to one week are at the discretion of the unit convenor. Any requests for extensions must be made in writing BEFORE the due date for the submission of the assessment task. Extensions beyond one week require special consideration by PICT. The policy for this is detailed under Policy and Procedures.

LATE SUBMISSION OF ASSESSMENT TASKS

There is a penalty for the late submission of assessment tasks. If an assignment is submitted late it will initially be marked as if it had been submitted on time. However, 5% will be deducted for each day it was late. For example if the assessment task's weighting is 20 (20% of the total course mark), 1.00 mark per day will be deducted from the initial mark given per day it is late ie., a task initially given 15/20 but which is submitted four days late will lose 4 x 1.00 marks. That means 15/20-4 marks = 11/20. It is this second mark that will be recorded in gradebook.

The same principle applies if a student seeks and is granted an extension, and the assessment task is submitted later than the amended submission date.

Unit Schedule

The block course for internal students will be held from 9-13 March 2015 inclusive at PICT, Building Y3A on campus. The course runs 0845-1700 each day. ALL sessions must be attended. Failure to attend all sessions will result in you being transferred to the external student list.

External students can do the course in their own time but need to be aware of assignment submission deadlines which are the same for both internal and external students. The course lectures are recorded as they are given and will be posted on iLearn during the block course.

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Capable of Professional and Personal Judgment and Initiative

Our postgraduates will demonstrate a high standard of discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgment. They will have the ability to make informed choices and decisions that reflect both the nature of their professional work and their personal perspectives.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate a higher level understanding of the concept of terrorism and politically motivated violence
- Display engagement with the field of terrorism and politically motivated violence through the examination and exploration of critical texts, concepts and theories.
- Investigate a substantial body of contemporary terrorism and politically motivated violence literature.
- Demonstrate higher order communication skills including the ability to present sustained and persuasive arguments cogently and coherently.
- Model research skills, particularly the ability to select appropriately and integrate knowledge from diverse sources to evaluate its significance and relevance; synthesise material and present findings, rationally and lucidly.

- Demonstrate higher level skills in critical analysis.

Assessment tasks

- PowerPoint Briefing
- Reading Critique
- Research Paper

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills

Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate a higher level understanding of the concept of terrorism and politically motivated violence
- Display engagement with the field of terrorism and politically motivated violence through the examination and exploration of critical texts, concepts and theories.
- Investigate a substantial body of contemporary terrorism and politically motivated violence literature.
