Unit description

To succeed in a globalised business environment, it is imperative for managers to understand contemporary approaches to leading and managing in culturally diverse environments and explore strategies and tactics for managing international assignments and teams. Core objectives of this unit are to enhance multicultural competence and skills and impart an understanding of how cultural diversity affects managerial behaviour and processes which is highly valued by future employers. The unit utilises a range of assessments such as simulations, experiential exercises, forums, reflective tasks, case studies, presentations and group activities in order to synthesise students' understanding of cross-cultural theories and their ability to apply their learning.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Interpret and analyse the diversity of cultures and its implication as they relate to business management and demonstrate a consciousness of the intricacy of operating in the global market

Appraise the multicultural 'big picture' in which global trade and government forces operate, and summarise the major culture-based challenges faced by international managers (political, social, legal, economic and technological)

Identify major cultural characteristics, including communication styles that characterise regions, nations, communities, organisations, groups and individuals

Investigate major cultural differences in views on strategy for international alliances, including controls, labour relations and management a range of culture-based tactics for international negotiation

Classify, characterize and critique arguments for adopting particular leadership styles globally in given situations, and for varying motivational techniques depending on circumstances

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
CLASS PARTICIPATION(ONLINE)	20%	Ongoing
CASE STUDY	20%	WEEK 2- 12
REPORT	20%	16.5.2016 @5pm (evening)
FINAL EXAM	40%	University examination period.

CLASS PARTICIPATION(ONLINE)

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 20%

Online forums will be conducted during the Semester.

These are analogous to tutorials in a traditional course.

You are required to participate actively in these, and your contributions will be assessed.

A. CASE STUDY FORUM:

Students must read every case study and make a post expressing your opinion, connecting current discussions by other students, relating to concepts learned in the video lectures, readings, your work experience or material from the case study. There is no word limit for the post. For each case study the forum will only be open for 2 weeks, which means that the forum for the first case study will close end of week 3 .

B. EXPERIENTIAL EXERCISE FORUM:

These are comprised of application tasks and reflective activities. Reflective tasks are exercises designed to encourage reflection on Unit topics and associated readings. Each lecture will have one experiential exercise, and one video reflective task. Students must read these and post their perspectives in these forums. A rubric for online presentation is used to mark online participation which can be seen on iLearn. Each of these forums will close after 3 weeks .

LATE SUBMISSIONS

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for disruption of studies is made and approved. No submission will be accepted after solutions have been posted.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Interpret and analyse the diversity of cultures and its implication as they relate to business management and demonstrate a consciousness of the intricacy of operating in the global market
- Identify major cultural characteristics, including communication styles that characterise regions, nations, communities, organisations, groups and individuals
- Classify, characterize and critique arguments for adopting particular leadership styles globally in given situations, and for varying motivational techniques depending on circumstances

CASE STUDY

Due: WEEK 2- 12

Weighting: 20%

Weekly (Case Analysis- Group work)

Every week nominated student groups will submit the case analysis through Turnitin.

The case analysis should address the following:

A. Introduction

A brief of the case environment, company, industry, country, culture and case problem

B. Body

Should include the following sections: Identification of major stakeholders and their problems, objectives and concern, recommended solutions, managerial implications.

C. Conclusion

Briefly summarize the essential complexities posed in this case and the practical implications and lessons learned.

D. Case question

Every case will have questions at the end which will serve as a direction to analyse the case. You do not have to answer these questions.

Detailed marking rubrics can be seen on iLearn and a document titled "How to analyse a case study" will provide further guidance.

This is a group activity and one student from the group will upload their case analysis through Turnitin as stated below.

SUBMISSION PROCEDURE (Group)

Students are required to submit an electronic copy of their assessment to Turnitin via the Internet as part of the submission process for assignments. Your assignment will then be automatically compared to work of your classmates, previous students from Macquarie and other universities, with material available on the Internet, both freely available and subscription-based electronic journals. Before submission, name your electronic file in a Word document with your surname and student number, e.g., Smith20101309. Please make sure that only one member of your group submits the report to Turnitin for plagiarism check. The word doc will then have his/her surname and student number.

LATE SUBMISSIONS

Late Submissions (All assignments)

Brief description :

THE EU CULTURE

Britain may be in the front line of the Euro crisis, but it is not the only country affected. The Eurozone consists of a massive market for businesses from the United States, China, India, Japan, Russia and the other major world economic powers.

To preserve the Eurozone's massive consumer market. A staggering 322 million Europeans use the Euro every day. It's the currency of seventeen nations. Besides daily activities, these people use the Euro to buy goods and services from overseas — if there was a collapse in its value, then they would be less able to buy imports.

To prevent a global recession. A collapse of the Euro or a situation where some European governments would be unable to repay their debt would have a huge, negative impact on the world economy. It would resemble the financial crisis of 2007 and 2008 (in truth, it could be much worse than that). At the very least, businesses around the globe would think twice about investing and taking on new staff while others might start to trim their operations and cut jobs. A global economic recession would be highly likely.

To protect the world financial system. Banks around the globe have invested in the government debt of Eurozone countries. These banks also hold large amounts of Euros. If the current crisis gets much worse, then the government debt and currency that they hold will fall in value, which could undermine their own financial well being. It could be like the 2007 and 2008 financial crash all over again, with the global banking system under threat. This would be bad news for everyone.

It's not just the 322 million people in the Eurozone which depend on their currency — there are 150 million people in African countries whose currencies are pegged to value the Euro. If the Eurozone fragments and the value of the Euro collapses, these African countries will see the value of their currency collapse too.

Against a backdrop of this ongoing Euro zone volatility, companies are continuing to review their exposures in Europe, including the nature and extent of their Euro-related contracts, and are asking what measures they can put in place to protect their assets and limit cash flow threats. This uncertainty has affected business confidence in different ways in nations across the world.

Please read the following extracts and papers in the context of the task outlined below -

YOUR TASK: You are a consultant tasked with a submission, of a comprehensive analysis of the impact of the Euro crisis on "THE WORLD" in general and "AUSTRALIAN BUSINESS" in particular to assist them with their strategy in the Euro zone.

Whilst doing this your focus will be on the "CULTURE" of the European country you select and you will analyse the situation based on the cultural dimensions and cultural theories that you study in class. Your report should encompass all risks: Political, Cultural, Social, Legal, Economic and provide advice on their impact to Australia business operating in EU. Please note you can select any country of your choice in the EU. In particular you are required to critique, analyze and assess the following four issues with CULTURE as a basis:

- i. Global impact of Euro crisis on businesses and industries in EU, Australia and the World.
- ii. Country (EU country of your choice) specific economic, political, legal, cultural, social, cultural characteristics and history
- iii. Possible implications and contingency planning for Australian business

Required and Recommended Texts and/or Material

Required text: 'International Management: Managing Across Borders and Cultures – Text and Cases', Eight Edition (International Edition) by Helen Deresky, Pearson Education, 2014. This contains all the required chapter readings and case studies in addition to material posted on iLearn. A copy of the required text is also available in the Macquarie Library and obtainable from Macquarie University Coop Bookshop (macq_byr@coop-bookshop.com.au)

Students should have their own copy of this text. It is mandatory that you have the 8th edition, 2014 version as this text contains all the case studies and experiential exercises that will be done in class. There are some copies on the library shelves and in library reserve. Lectures support and add to the textbook but cannot replace it. It is a standard work of reference on cross cultural management. Classroom sessions are backed up online with lecture notes, case studies, articles and discussion

KickStart

This unit includes a KickStart package, designed to help you get a head start with your studies. Being well prepared can be the key to success, so be sure to take advantage of KickStart and make it work for you.

What is it?

KickStart is a package of resources and activities in iLearn that is specific to studying this unit. Your package may include welcome videos from the Unit Convenor, quizzes (not counting toward your final grade), insights from industry experts and tips from previous students on how to succeed in the unit.

When is it available?

Two weeks before the start of the session, log into iLearn and access the KickStart package.

Please note that the activities in the KickStart package do not count towards the final grade of the unit.

Technology Used and Required

Access to a personal computer is required in order to complete tasks on iLearn. Students are required to use information technology in this unit. Students will need to use: Library databases to source materials for the research reports, which are accessed electronically for conducting, research for assignments;

Electronic (internet) access to ilearn to download unit learning resources and upload assignments or other materials required for class activities and assignments; Microsoft word and Power point (where applicable) for the research reports and presentations). You can check that your computer's software and hardware are compatibility with Macquarie University standard requirements at:

<https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/webct/RelativeResourceManager/25994001/Public%20Files/uw/softw>

Unit Web Page

Course material is available on the learning management system (ilearn) .

The web page for this unit can be found at: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/login/MQ/>

Recommended readings are available through eReserve.

Timetable portal: <http://timetables.mq.edu.au>

No extensions will be granted. Students who have not submitted the task prior to the deadline will be awarded a mark of 0 for the task, except for cases in which an application for special consideration is made and approved.

Learning and Teaching Activities

Learning and Teaching Activities

This unit will be taught via the participant-centered and experiential learning method of teaching. “Experiential learning takes place when a person is involved in an activity, then looks back and evaluates it, determines what was useful or important to remember and uses this information to perform another activity” (John Dewey, 1938). Online teaching would comprise of lecture videos and forum participation of three hours' duration. Students will partake in discussions on forums for cases, video cases and experiential exercises online. Case studies will be the extensively used. Case analyses are intended to be analytical critiques on some central issues of the case being discussed. As this is a discussion-oriented class, students will read all of the case studies indicated on the course schedule and discuss and defend themselves online. Every student is expected to participate. In your case analyses, please refrain from writing a summary of the case or repackaging the information already provided in the case. Based on the information provided in the case, be analytically judgmental, propose alternative managerial views and action plans, and discuss the relevance and appropriateness of the frameworks proposed in the readings and lectures to the case. In short, write what you think of the situation in the case and not merely repeat what the author says. The course teaches several models for cultural analysis of case studies. Some examples are: Hofstede, Trompenaars, and Edward Hall. These models are to be used for group case study assignments and the research paper. This unit is presented through the following learning media: Thirteen weekly video lectures combined with online discussions, case studies, experiential exercise and videos. Lectures are supported online on ilearn: <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au> Lecture notes, assignment details, assessment methods, case studies, reading and reference materials and a sample exam paper are posted on ilearn.
