Unit description

This unit will enable students to attain well-developed cognitive and practical key legal skills (legal research, reasoning, and writing; applying precedent; statutory interpretation; and legal problem solving) and to acquire an advance level of foundational legal knowledge (Australia legal institutions; legal theory; comparative legal systems; parliamentary process; role of the judiciary) necessary for further graduate study in law. This unit will challenge students to apply their skills and knowledge to examine a contemporary socio-legal issue through a collaborative group project. Students will also engage in reflective practice.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC3)

Apply principles of statutory interpretation and the doctrine of precedent to interpret primary legal sources (case law and legislation) for the purpose of deriving legal rules and principles

Analyse factual problem scenarios and prepare a structured response using the HIRAC framework for legal problem solving

Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis

Communicate effectively in written form to both legal and non-legal audiences

Consider, critique and recommend innovative solutions to contemporary legal problems in their broader social context

Identify and explain the broader philosophical, ethical and socio-political context of legal issues and problems

Define, describe and relate sources of legal norms in the Australian legal system (including private and public law, indigenous customary law, international law) and other legal systems in the world

Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

General Assessment Information

Unless otherwise noted or instructed by the Unit Convenor or your tutor, Assessment Tasks are due by 10pm on the Sunday at the end of the Week indicated for each assessment task.

This unit is graded on a Satisfactory (Pass) or Fail basis. Assessment weightings are merely indicative of relative workload. In order to pass this unit, each task must be completed at a Satisfactory level.

In the case of online quizzes (Tasks 1 and 2, which are graded automatically), student have unlimited attempts to achieve the satisfactory level (100% for Task 1; 60% for each quiz in Task 2). For Tasks 3, 4 and 5, if deemed to be 'satisfactory' by their tutor in accordance with the rubric provided, students will be required to reflect on the feedback provided and re-submit their work, indicating explicitly within their resubmitted work how they have taken the feedback on board. Deadlines for resubmissions are indicated under the relevant assessment task.

Students who fail to submit a genuine attempt (indicated by having attempted to answer all parts of the assessment as provided in the instructions) will be graded as Unsatisfactory for that task.

Students may also be directed to undertake supplementary work or access learning supports provided by the University. Subject to variation by written agreement with their tutor, students have two weeks from receipt of feedback to review, revise and resubmit their work.

Students who fail to obtain a 'satisfactory' grade on a resubmission of any assessment task will be referred to the unit convenor. The Convenor will, at this point, either:

- direct the tutor to provide a further and final opportunity to resubmit their work (depending on the demonstrated level of engagement of the student with the assessment task, feedback provided by the tutor and likelihood that a further resubmission will result in a successful outcome for the assessment task); or
- enter a 'Fail' grade for the Unit.

Unless a student has been granted a time extension under the University's Disruption to Studies Policy, any outstanding work (including resubmissions) submitted after the resubmission deadline indicated under the relevant assessment will be deemed late, will not be graded and will result in a grade of 'Fail' being recorded for the unit.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Academic Honesty &amp; Referencing	5%	Week 2
Legal Research Quizzes	15%	Week 13
Core Skills	30%	Week 5
Hypothetical Problem	20%	Week 8
Law &amp; Policy Reform Project	30%	Week 12

Academic Honesty & Referencing

Due: Week 2

Weighting: 5%

Students will be required to complete two multiple choice quizzes with a score of 100% to demonstrate:

- Understanding and application of principles of academic honesty; and
- Ability to follow the correct rules for citation (AGLC3).

Students may re-attempt these two quizzes an unlimited number of times.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC3)

Legal Research Quizzes

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 15%

The Quiz topics are:

1. The Constitution
2. Commonwealth Legislation
3. NSW Legislation
4. Case Law
5. HANSARD
6. Domestic Legislation (outside NSW)
7. International Law
8. Law Reform Commissions
9. Judicial Commission

Quizzes 1-5 should be attempted before by Week 5 to prepare for Task 3 and quizzes 6-9 should be attempted before Week 8 to prepare for Tasks 4 and 5. All quizzes must be completed with a minimum score of 60% (each) by the end of Week 13 in order to pass this assessment and achieve the associated learning outcome. Students may re-attempt these quizzes an unlimited number of times.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis

Core Skills

Due: Week 5

Weighting: 30%

This assignment (1,000-1500 words) will require students to demonstrate the following core skills:

- understanding of principles of statutory interpretation;
- the ability to clearly and concisely summarise a case;
- understanding of the doctrine of precedent;
- the ability to interpret case law and legislation for the purpose of deriving and constructing legal rules and principles;
- the ability to carry out basic legal research tasks, including finding and analysing relevant primary and secondary sources; and
- the ability to communicate effectively in a written form.

Students may be required to resubmit their assessment, incorporating feedback provided by their tutor, by a deadline prescribed by the Tutor.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC3)
- Apply principles of statutory interpretation and the doctrine of precedent to interpret primary legal sources (case law and legislation) for the purpose of deriving legal rules and principles
- Communicate effectively in written form to both legal and non-legal audiences
- Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Hypothetical Problem

Due: Week 8

Weighting: 20%

In this essay (1,000 - 1,500 words), students will solve a hypothetical problem in public law. Students will be required to demonstrate:

- the ability to analyse factual scenarios and identify relevant legal issues;
- the ability to understand and apply basic principles of legal problem solving and reasoning;
- the ability to carry out basic legal research tasks, including finding and analysing relevant primary and secondary sources;
- the ability to communicate effectively in a written form to a legal audience.

Students may be required to resubmit their assessment, incorporating feedback provided by their tutor, by a deadline prescribed by the Tutor.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC3)
- Apply principles of statutory interpretation and the doctrine of precedent to interpret primary legal sources (case law and legislation) for the purpose of deriving legal rules and principles
- Analyse factual problem scenarios and prepare a structured response using the HIRAC framework for legal problem solving
- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis
- Communicate effectively in written form to both legal and non-legal audiences
- Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Law & Policy Reform Project

Due: Week 12

Weighting: 30%

This Assessment is divided into two parts:

Part 1: Students will prepare a written submission (1,000 – 1,500 words) advocating legal and policy reforms drawn from a list of pre-selected current issues. Students will be required to demonstrate:

- the ability to interpret primary and secondary sources for the purpose of deriving and constructing legal rules and principles;
- the ability to engage creatively with contemporary legal problems in their social context and to propose innovative solutions;
- the ability to communicate effectively in written form with a non-legal audience; and
- the ability to demonstrate their understanding of the broader philosophical, ethical and/or socio-political context of legal issues and problems.

Part 2:

Drawing upon their readings from Laying Down the Law, students will write a short reflection (500-600 words) in which they consider their own Law and Policy Reform Report and apply relevant sources of legal norms in the Australian legal system (including private and public law, indigenous customary law, international law) to the issues at stake.

Through this assessment task, students will also be required to demonstrate their understanding of the Australian Legal System and Sources of Law (derived from their reading of the course text) and capacity to engage in reflective practice.

Students may be required to resubmit their assessment, incorporating feedback provided by their tutor. The absolute deadline for such resubmissions will be specified by the Tutor.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis
- Communicate effectively in written form to both legal and non-legal audiences
- Consider, critique and recommend innovative solutions to contemporary legal problems in their broader social context
- Identify and explain the broader philosophical, ethical and socio-political context of legal issues and problems
- Define, describe and relate sources of legal norms in the Australian legal system (including private and public law, indigenous customary law, international law) and other legal systems in the world
- Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Consider, critique and recommend innovative solutions to contemporary legal problems in their broader social context

Assessment task

- Law & Policy Reform Project

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC3)
- Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Assessment task

- Academic Honesty & Referencing

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Apply reflective practice to learning as law students and as future legal professionals

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC3)
- Apply principles of statutory interpretation and the doctrine of precedent to interpret primary legal sources (case law and legislation) for the purpose of deriving legal rules and principles
- Analyse factual problem scenarios and prepare a structured response using the HIRAC framework for legal problem solving
- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis
- Define, describe and relate sources of legal norms in the Australian legal system (including private and public law, indigenous customary law, international law) and other legal systems in the world

Assessment tasks

- Academic Honesty & Referencing
- Legal Research Quizzes
- Core Skills
- Hypothetical Problem
- Law & Policy Reform Project

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Apply principles of statutory interpretation and the doctrine of precedent to interpret primary legal sources (case law and legislation) for the purpose of deriving legal rules and principles
- Analyse factual problem scenarios and prepare a structured response using the HIRAC framework for legal problem solving
- Consider, critique and recommend innovative solutions to contemporary legal problems in their broader social context
- Identify and explain the broader philosophical, ethical and socio-political context of legal issues and problems
- Define, describe and relate sources of legal norms in the Australian legal system (including private and public law, indigenous customary law, international law) and other legal systems in the world

Assessment tasks

- Core Skills
- Hypothetical Problem
- Law & Policy Reform Project

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Analyse factual problem scenarios and prepare a structured response using the HIRAC framework for legal problem solving
- Locate relevant primary and secondary sources through legal research using online databases, library resources and internet sources, and apply research skills to legal problem solving and analysis

Assessment tasks

- Legal Research Quizzes
- Core Skills
- Hypothetical Problem

- Law & Policy Reform Project

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Communicate effectively in written form to both legal and non-legal audiences
- Consider, critique and recommend innovative solutions to contemporary legal problems in their broader social context

Assessment tasks

- Core Skills
- Hypothetical Problem
- Law & Policy Reform Project

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Apply principles of academic honesty and rules for correct legal citation (AGLC3)
- Identify and explain the broader philosophical, ethical and socio-political context of legal issues and problems

Assessment task

- Law & Policy Reform Project

Socially and Environmentally Active and Responsible

We want our graduates to be aware of and have respect for self and others; to be able to work with others as a leader and a team player; to have a sense of connectedness with others and country; and to have a sense of mutual obligation. Our graduates should be informed and active participants in moving society towards sustainability.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Identify and explain the broader philosophical, ethical and socio-political context of legal issues and problems

Assessment task

- Law & Policy Reform Project

Changes from Previous Offering

This revision of the LAWS600 unit guide for s2 2015 includes the following change:

- aequence of assessment tasks revised;
- assessments consolidated from 9 into 5 assessment tasks;
- associated learning outcomes and graduate capabilities updated;
- details and deadlines for assessment tasks adjusted; and
- instructions under General Assessments clarified.
