General Assessment Information

Submission

Assessment tasks are compulsory and must be submitted on time. Grammar tests will be completed and handed in during tutorials. Assignments will be submitted on the iLearn site. The exam will take place during the university examination period.

Extensions

As a general rule, extensions will not be granted without a valid and documented reason (e.g. medical certificate). All requests for extensions should go via ask.mq.edu.au and should be supported by appropriate documentation. Late submissions will be penalised by 2% for each day (including weekends) the assignment task is late. No assignments will be accepted after assignments have been corrected and feedback has been provided. Extensions are available on medical grounds and may be requested under other special circumstances.

Satisfactory Completion of Unit

In order to complete this unit satisfactorily students must gain a mark of 50% or more, and undertake all assessment tasks.

Delivery and Resources

Lecture times and locations

The unit will be taught every Monday from 2 to 4 pm. The first hour will be a lecture, and the second a tutorial. The class will be held in Y3A 246.

Readings

The textbook we shall be using is: Thomas O. Lambdin, Introduction to Sahidic Coptic, Macon 1983, 2nd edition 1992.

This book is a textbook, it is not a reference grammar. Students with previous knowledge of Coptic or those becoming interested, in the course of this class, in more advanced problems of Coptic grammar may want to consult the grammars indicated in the bibliography. From there they can obtain directions towards specialised studies on individual problems they may be interested in. In addition to the textbook, the unit website will make written coursenotes available, which summarise the most important points of the face-to-face teaching in writing. Selected readings from books, journals, and encyclopedias may be used to complement the textbook and will be available in various forms:

- e-reserve (see below “Accessing the unit on-line”)
- internet

- subscriptions to electronic journals and other electronic resources Macquarie University Library has entered into and which students can access from their own computers.
- collection of materials students will be able to download from the electronic reserve part of the unit's website (see below "Accessing the unit on-line"). Further readings may also be provided or indicated on a continuing basis during the semester on the website of this unit.

Technology Used

The unit has an iLearn page which can be accessed at <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/login/index.php>. PC and internet access are therefore required. Basic computer skills (e.g., internet browsing) and skills in word processing are also a requirement. Material for this unit may be delivered via the unit iLearn page. As this unit has no external enrolments, the lectures for this unit will not be recorded.

Unit Schedule

See iLearn site.

Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify and recall Coptic grammatical structures at more advanced level
- Assess the grammar required for the translation of Coptic texts appropriate to level of study
- Investigate the significance of Coptic for the study of relevant ancient cultures

Assessment task

- Assignment 1

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify and recall Coptic grammatical structures at more advanced level
- Assess the grammar required for the translation of Coptic texts appropriate to level of study
- Explore and appraise relevant grammatical and lexical reference tools
- Employ linguistic metalanguage
- Investigate the significance of Coptic for the study of relevant ancient cultures

Assessment tasks

- Assignment 1
- Assignment 2

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify and recall Coptic grammatical structures at more advanced level
- Recognize and memorize extended Coptic vocabulary
- Assess the grammar required for the translation of Coptic texts appropriate to level of study
- Explore and appraise relevant grammatical and lexical reference tools
- Employ linguistic metalanguage
- Integrate knowledge of grammar and vocabulary in reading and/or writing Coptic texts
- Investigate the significance of Coptic for the study of relevant ancient cultures

Assessment tasks

- Grammar Tests
- Assignment 1
- Assignment 2
- Exam

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify and recall Coptic grammatical structures at more advanced level
- Assess the grammar required for the translation of Coptic texts appropriate to level of study
- Integrate knowledge of grammar and vocabulary in reading and/or writing Coptic texts
- Investigate the significance of Coptic for the study of relevant ancient cultures

Assessment tasks

- Assignment 1
- Assignment 2
- Exam

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Recognize and memorize extended Coptic vocabulary
- Assess the grammar required for the translation of Coptic texts appropriate to level of study
- Explore and appraise relevant grammatical and lexical reference tools
- Investigate the significance of Coptic for the study of relevant ancient cultures

Assessment tasks

- Assignment 1
- Assignment 2
- Exam

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Employ linguistic metalanguage

Assessment tasks

- Assignment 2
- Exam

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.
