Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Ability to find, analyse and interpret primary and secondary sources and present the information in a written format to a high standard.
- Ability to evaluate how historical information may be extracted from ancient sources, written and archaeological.
- Ability to formulate arguments and articulate ideas to an advanced level.

- Ability to plan, revise and submit work according to the unit schedule.

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Ability to find, analyse and interpret primary and secondary sources and present the information in a written format to a high standard.
- Ability to evaluate how historical information may be extracted from ancient sources, written and archaeological.

Assessment tasks

- Essay
- Exam

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Ability to find, analyse and interpret primary and secondary sources and present the information in a written format to a high standard.
- Ability to evaluate how historical information may be extracted from ancient sources, written and archaeological.
- Ability to formulate arguments and articulate ideas to an advanced level.
- Ability to plan, revise and submit work according to the unit schedule.

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Ability to find, analyse and interpret primary and secondary sources and present the information in a written format to a high standard.
- Ability to evaluate how historical information may be extracted from ancient sources, written and archaeological.
- Ability to formulate arguments and articulate ideas to an advanced level.
- Ability to plan, revise and submit work according to the unit schedule.

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Ability to find, analyse and interpret primary and secondary sources and present the information in a written format to a high standard.
- Ability to evaluate how historical information may be extracted from ancient sources, written and archaeological.
- Ability to formulate arguments and articulate ideas to an advanced level.
- Ability to plan, revise and submit work according to the unit schedule.

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Ability to find, analyse and interpret primary and secondary sources and present the information in a written format to a high standard.
- Ability to evaluate how historical information may be extracted from ancient sources, written and archaeological.
- Ability to formulate arguments and articulate ideas to an advanced level.
