Unit description

This unit builds on material introduced in previous child development units. In doing so, the unit has two main focuses. The first is to develop students' skills in using child development research to develop effective programs and interventions for infants and young children. The second is to introduce students to research-based child development programs and interventions that have direct relevance to early childhood programs. Most topics support understanding of EYLF and PDHPE curriculum although links will not always be made explicitly.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Investigate a child development topic in detail.

Become familiar with peer reviewed journal articles as a source of evidence in child development.

Understand the importance of evidence based approaches.

Understand limits to generalisability of research findings.

Appreciate the need to update knowledge regularly.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Journal article quiz	10%	14/03/2016 midnight
Essay 1 or quiz	45%	19 April or 2 May
Essay 2 or Exam	45%	06/06/2016 (midnight)

Journal article quiz

Due: 14/03/2016 midnight

Weighting: 10%

The purpose of this assessment is to ensure you understand how to access, read and interpret child development journal articles before progressing further in the unit. 10 multiple choice questions will be taken from an article on peer victimization and peer rejection in early childhood - look it up using the doi: 10.1080/15374416.2014.940622

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Become familiar with peer reviewed journal articles as a source of evidence in child development.

Essay 1 or quiz

Due: 19 April or 2 May

Weighting: 45%

Select one of the following:

Quiz option: 9.30am-10.30am 19 April, 2016

Quiz questions will be taken from 4 journal articles. Further details published in your assessment guidelines (posted on iLearn). You need to register by 15 April if you wish to select the quiz as your assessment option. The quiz is currently scheduled to take place in X5B 136, but check the timetable closer to the date in case there are room changes.

Essay option: 2,500 word essay 2 May, 2016 (midnight)

Based on one of the ECH452 topics (refer to your assessment guidelines on iLearn). Please note, earlier submission is encouraged if you are seeking feedback to help you with the second essay. If you submit on the due date for this essay you will not receive feedback early enough to make substantial changes for Essay 2. Essays will be marked early if submitted early.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Investigate a child development topic in detail.
- Become familiar with peer reviewed journal articles as a source of evidence in child development.
- Understand the importance of evidence based approaches.
- Understand limits to generalisability of research findings.
- Appreciate the need to update knowledge regularly.

Essay 2 or Exam

Due: 06/06/2016 (midnight)

Weighting: 45%

Select one of the following:

Essay 2: 2,500 word essay due 6 June, 2016

Based on one of the ECH452 topics (refer to your assessment guidelines on iLearn). Some students select Essay 2 in order to finish the unit early. The essay option allows students to have more control over their assignment completion time and can be useful if managing work, family or other commitments.

Exam: Scheduled during the Session 1 exam period

Questions taken from a selection of journal articles. Refer to the Assessment Guide on iLearn. You must register on iLearn before 30 April if you wish to select the exam as your option.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Investigate a child development topic in detail.
- Become familiar with peer reviewed journal articles as a source of evidence in child development.
- Understand the importance of evidence based approaches.
- Understand limits to generalisability of research findings.
- Appreciate the need to update knowledge regularly.

Delivery and Resources

The on-campus session in ECH452 is optional. If you are interested in attending the on-campus session on 19 April 11am-4pm, please register on unit iLearn site by 14 March (details will be available from Week 1). Discussions at the on-campus will support your understanding of unit material, but is not considered essential for successful completion of the unit. The on-campus session will not run if there are not sufficient numbers. It is recommended that you don't make travel arrangements until the on-campus session is confirmed.

Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Investigate a child development topic in detail.
- Appreciate the need to update knowledge regularly.

Assessment tasks

- Essay 1 or quiz
- Essay 2 or Exam

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Become familiar with peer reviewed journal articles as a source of evidence in child development.
- Understand the importance of evidence based approaches.
- Appreciate the need to update knowledge regularly.

Assessment tasks

- Essay 1 or quiz
- Essay 2 or Exam

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

- Investigate a child development topic in detail.

Assessment tasks

- Journal article quiz
- Essay 1 or quiz
- Essay 2 or Exam

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Investigate a child development topic in detail.
- Understand limits to generalisability of research findings.

Assessment tasks

- Journal article quiz
- Essay 1 or quiz
- Essay 2 or Exam

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Investigate a child development topic in detail.
- Become familiar with peer reviewed journal articles as a source of evidence in child development.
- Understand the importance of evidence based approaches.
- Understand limits to generalisability of research findings.

Assessment tasks

- Essay 1 or quiz
- Essay 2 or Exam

Changes from Previous Offering

This unit previously included a quiz on APA style to help students check their referencing and writing skills. If you are unsure of your abilities with APA style, check the Macquarie University website for their extensive list of links to style guides. For specific concerns, check with the unit convenor.

Assessment Flexibility

This unit provides students with a lot of flexibility in selection of assessment content and type. Think about your goals for the unit in deciding which type of assessment will best suit you.
