Unit description

This unit provides students with an opportunity to undertake a work-integrated project relevant to urban, social and environmental planning. The unit is designed to develop knowledge and skills for a new career path in the planning profession across a range of sectors including government, industry, not-for-profit, professional associations and university research partnerships. In some cases, there may be an opportunity for students to include activities in a current workplace or apply for recognition of prior learning. Students will complete a self-contained project drawing on their environmental planning knowledge and will be required to prepare a reflective journal of their experience.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Prepare a project brief and identify the key steps in its execution

Undertake targeted research, including creative work

Execute problem-solving, critical, analytical and integrative thinking

Utilise written communication skills

Demonstrate collaborative skills including negotiation, teamwork and interpersonal skills

Demonstrate self-management skills and personal judgement and initiative

Exhibit skills in career-building including skills in developing relationships and networks

General Assessment Information

A Note on the difference between 600 and 800 level unit offerings in Gateway to the Planning Profession

GEOP851 Gateway to the Planning Profession and GEOP601 Gateway to the Planning Profession are offered in the same mode, there are no formal classes and students will work with the unit convenor, other academics and (where applicable) planning professionals to develop and carry out their projects. There will be some variations to the marking rubrics and criteria handed out for 600-level and 800-level students to reflect the different expectations for students working at each level. All students enrolled in Gateway are encouraged to produce professional quality work to the highest standards.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Project Plan	15%	Week 3
Literature Review	25%	Week 6
Final Project Report	45%	Week 12
CV and Project Portfolio	15%	Week 13

Project Plan

Due: Week 3

Weighting: 15%

1. Understanding of project

The project work plan should reflect the project Brief and set out

- the purpose of the project to be undertaken by the student and its broad scope
- the specific activities to be undertaken by the student
- the approximate timeframe for these and resources to be applied
- any foreseeable risks or potential impediments to completion (including whether ethics approval may be required for any surveys or supporting data)
- the nature of the product to be prepared (description, approximate word length etc)
- whether the presentation about the project is to be made in a workplace or to a student seminar.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Prepare a project brief and identify the key steps in its execution
- Undertake targeted research, including creative work
- Execute problem-solving, critical, analytical and integrative thinking
- Utilise written communication skills
- Demonstrate collaborative skills including negotiation, teamwork and interpersonal skills
- Demonstrate self-management skills and personal judgement and initiative
- Exhibit skills in career-building including skills in developing relationships and networks

Literature Review

Due: Week 6

Weighting: 25%

A 2000 word literature review is required. Once the project has been identified, students are required to identify the relevant academic research as well as current policy and any legislation and governance issues which may apply. The literature review is to clearly articulate the issues that are central to the problem under investigation, particularly as it relates to environmental and planning practice and to the planning profession generally, that is how the theory and practice converge.

Students will be provided with a marking rubric and an emphasis will be placed on writing skills.

The review should be written in an academic style.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Execute problem-solving, critical, analytical and integrative thinking
- Utilise written communication skills

Final Project Report

Due: Week 12

Weighting: 45%

The final product will vary from project to project and may take the form of a report, a submission, a proposal, an assessment, a review or such other product as set out in the Brief. Included in your final project should be a revised literature review (based on feedback from assignment 2).

The word limit is 8000 for this assignment and should also include your revised literature review (max 2000), an executive summary/abstract, all diagrams, maps, tables etc and references.

Criteria for assessment include

- Consistency with the agreed work plan, including the revised agreed work plan if revision has been necessary

- Written expression, including readability, fluency, grammar, and structure, succinctness
- Clarity of presentation of the purpose of the placement project, tasks undertaken and the results achieved

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Undertake targeted research, including creative work
- Execute problem-solving, critical, analytical and integrative thinking
- Utilise written communication skills
- Demonstrate self-management skills and personal judgement and initiative

CV and Project Portfolio

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 15%

The aim of this assessment is to prepare you for a future job as an environmental planner. As part of the assessment you are required to submit an up-dated CV that you would submit for a related job in the environmental or planning field. You are also required to prepare a portfolio of your professional and / or student work that you could bring to a job interview as a demonstration of your skills and experience.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Utilise written communication skills
- Demonstrate self-management skills and personal judgement and initiative
- Exhibit skills in career-building including skills in developing relationships and networks

Delivery and Resources

Getting Started

This is a self-directed unit where you are required to undertake a substantive planning related project relevant to your studies and to your career aspirations. To get the most out of this unit, it is important to plan early. Please get in contact with Donna (donna.houston@mq.edu.au) before the beginning of the semester in which you plan to take the unit. Please note that some projects will require a partner agreement, insurance and ethics clearances. It is a good idea to come into this unit with some idea about what you plan to do!

Required and recommended reading

There is no required text. It is anticipated that topic-related background reading will be required for each project and assignment.

Technology used and required

Students will have access to Macquarie Library resources and also the support of planning staff.

Unit Schedule

This is a self directed, project based unit where you are expected to work to the plan set out in the first 2 weeks of semester. There are no scheduled classes for this unit. You are encouraged to investigate possible topics before semester begins. This can involve developing a planning-related project in your workplace; developing a planning based project based on an area where you would like to enhance your planning knowledge; working with local council or planning consultants to develop a project; consulting with academic in Geography and Planning about potential projects. Please get in contact with Donna to discuss your ideas before the beginning of the first week of semester! There is no shortage of planning issues and projects to work on - the purpose of the 'Gateway' unit is to tailor a unit to suit your own interests.

Individual and group 'catch-ups' will be scheduled with Donna throughout the semester to discuss your progress.
