Unit description

This unit concerns artistic creativity within an industrial context. Students will gain critical insights into the structure and function of the global creative industries sector and develop an understanding of the emerging creative and cultural industries arising within a new media ecosystem. This unit will explore the interrelationship between these and will present insights into the future of the Australian arts and entertainment industries in an increasingly globalised context. The unit examines individual artist-led enterprise models, the individual within collaborative groups, the management of creative groups within the creative industries, as well as government policy directed toward the development of the creative industries in local and international contexts.

Assessment Task 1

Due: Week 3–11

Weighting: 20%

At their turn, each student will lead a 30 minute discussion on an assigned topic. The discussion will focus on a text assigned by the teacher (in the unit readings) that describes a particular creative industries theme and concepts related to that theme. Each student will be required to read the text before class, and the student leading the discussion will bring out key elements of the text for everyone to discuss. The class will then collectively evaluate the arguments of the text.

The schedule for the assessment task will be determined during the first seminar session.

In order to complete the task successfully, the student leading the discussion must submit a bullet point list of the key elements (max. 10) they have identified in the text. A hard copy of the list must be submitted in class.

Assessment criteria:

You will assessed on your ability to identify major themes and concepts relating to the creative industries and on your ability to relate these to the structure and dynamics of creative industries phenomena.
This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

• Demonstrate an understanding of the structure and dynamics of the creative industries.

• Identify the major themes, issues and debates relating to the creative and cultural industries.

Assessment Task 2

Due: Week 3–11
Weighting: 30%

At their turn, each student will present a case study of a creative industries phenomenon in class. The 20 minute presentation outlines the structure and dynamics of the phenomenon (for example a crowdfunding project, a pop-up vintage shop, or a community arts festival) and locates it within the cultural history of the phenomenon. The presentation will also make reference to relevant creative industries debates and propose key concepts with which the phenomenon can be evaluated and studied.

The schedule for the assessment task will be determined during the first seminar session.

Assessment criteria:

The presentations will be assessed on the description of the structure and dynamics of creative industries phenomenon as well as on the larger historical and cultural spectrum provided. They will also be assessed on the references made to key debates and the validity of the proposed concepts.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

• Demonstrate an understanding of the structure and dynamics of the creative industries.

• Summarise creative industries literature and collaborate with other students in order to evaluate, contrast and defend personal judgments concerning artistic creativity within an industrial context.

• Identify the major themes, issues and debates relating to the creative and cultural industries.

• Apply concepts to specific creative industries case studies.

• Describe the history of creative industries policy and locate arguments within a broad historical context.

Assessment Task 3

Due: 8.4.
Weighting: 10%
Students will work in groups to produce a crowd funding application for an artistic project. The group project draws on literature and case studies covered in class and groups will present the results in class on April 8. Groups are expected to contextualise their project in relation to other funding models and policies, and to reflect on the industrial context of the artistic project they are applying funding for.

Assessment criteria:

Assessment will be based on the group's ability to collaborate and to reflect on the funding of artistic projects within an industrial context. Emphasis will also be on the reflection of other funding opportunities and the location of crowdfunding within this spectrum.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Summarise creative industries literature and collaborate with other students in order to evaluate, contrast and defend personal judgments concerning artistic creativity within an industrial context.
- Interpret and evaluate various funding opportunities in order to produce a funding application that is designed to nurture and facilitate ground breaking artistic creativity.

Assessment Task 4

Due: 10.6. 5pm
Weighting: 40%

Drawing on the unit readings and the in class presentations, students will write a 2500 word essay on a chosen creative industries theme. Essay topics will be discussed, refined and sealed in class on Friday, June 3. Each student must be present then and submit a hard copy of the outline of their topic.

The outline should include a brief description of the theme and relevant research contexts, main research questions, and a list of 3-5 references (peer-reviewed journal articles, book chapters or books). The outline must be 250-500 words.

The 2500 word essay is a formal essay which will require clear referencing and appropriate research. Students must make use of at least 5 academic sources in the essay.

Submission is via TURNITIN - no hard copy submissions.

Assessment criteria:

The essays will be assessed based on the student's ability to identify major themes relating to the creative industries as well as their ability to refer to and summarise key debates. Assessment will also focus on the student's demonstrated understanding of the structure and historical context of their chosen topic. In addition, assessment will be based on the student's ability to apply concepts to the phenomenon discussed.
This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Demonstrate an understanding of the structure and dynamics of the creative industries.
- Summarise creative industries literature and collaborate with other students in order to evaluate, contrast and defend personal judgments concerning artistic creativity within an industrial context.
- Identify the major themes, issues and debates relating to the creative and cultural industries.
