Unit description

Under the supervision of the editors of Macquarie Law School's journals, this unit is limited to approximately 15 students per semester, who are selected on the basis of their academic results, experience and writing ability. Each student completes a range of tasks with respect to the Journal, which include communicating with authors and reviewers; checking articles for accuracy and compliance with style; editing and proofreading of accepted articles in the production process; and potentially writing a case note or book review. Classes on editing, research and writing are provided, and students also meet regularly with the editors.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing

Define and describe the production and peer review processes of an academic law journal

Critique legal academic articles and other works

Produce written academic work to a publishable standard

Demonstrate a capacity to proofread, edit, check and critique legal academic works in terms of substance and style

Demonstrate a capacity to collaborate effectively and develop interpersonal and communication skills as part of an editorial team

General Assessment Information

In the absence of a successful application for special consideration due to a disruption to studies, any assessment task submitted after its published deadline will not be graded and will receive a mark of zero. Applications for a Disruption to Studies are made electronically via ask.mq.edu.au and should be accompanied by supporting documentation. Students should refer to the Disruption to Studies policy for complete details of the policy and a description of the supporting documentation required.

Word limits will be strictly applied and work above the word limit will not be marked.

All assessments in the unit are to be submitted electronically. Plagiarism detection software is used in this unit.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Written Work 1	25%	8 April
Written Work 2	25%	27 May
Class Participation	40%	During semester
Portfolio	10%	10 June

Written Work 1

Due: 8 April

Weighting: 25%

Each student is to provide a short written proposal (approx 200 words) in week 2 for the first written work. The work is to be one of the following: a case note, legislation note, book review or literature review on a legal topic of the student's choice. Once the proposal for the first written work is presented and accepted, students will proceed to write their fully referenced written work (max 2,000 words plus footnotes) to a publishable standard and submit the work to the unit convenor in week 6 (8 April). The work will require independent research of materials beyond those provided by the unit convenor. Further detailed information about this assessment task will be provided by the unit convenor.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critique legal academic articles and other works
- Produce written academic work to a publishable standard
- Demonstrate a capacity to proofread, edit, check and critique legal academic works in terms of substance and style

Written Work 2

Due: 27 May

Weighting: 25%

Once students have been allocated a submitted article from an author for carriage towards potential publication in a journal edition, they will commence working on their second written work, a critical review of the article (max 2,000 words plus footnotes). The work will require independent research of materials beyond those provided by the unit convenor and will require students to fact check, verify sources and references and place the article in the context of relevant literature in the field. They will submit it to the unit convenor in week 11 (27 May). Further detailed information about this assessment task will be provided by the unit convenor.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critique legal academic articles and other works
- Produce written academic work to a publishable standard

Class Participation

Due: During semester

Weighting: 40%

1. Students will be assessed on their participation in the seminar classes of weeks 1-6, their understanding of required readings and contributions to class discussion and exercises on substantive materials (15%).
2. Students will also be assessed on their participation in the editorial meetings as required by the editors of the journals, their carriage of submitted works, communications with authors and reviewers and their attendance to journal production matters in a competent and timely manner (25%).

Further detailed information about this assessment task will be provided by the unit convenor.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Define and describe the production and peer review processes of an academic law journal
- Demonstrate a capacity to proofread, edit, check and critique legal academic works in terms of substance and style
- Demonstrate a capacity to collaborate effectively and develop interpersonal and communication skills as part of an editorial team

Portfolio

Due: 10 June

Weighting: 10%

Students are required to create and submit a Portfolio during the semester as a record of their activities and work. It must also contain appropriate reflection statements. Further information about the contents of the Portfolio will be provided by the unit convenor. The format of the Portfolio will be at the discretion of the student. Further detailed information about this assessment task will be provided by the unit convenor.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Define and describe the production and peer review processes of an academic law journal
- Critique legal academic articles and other works
- Demonstrate a capacity to collaborate effectively and develop interpersonal and communication skills as part of an editorial team

In addition, a number of other policies can be found in the Learning and Teaching Category of Policy Central.

Student Code of Conduct

Macquarie University students have a responsibility to be familiar with the Student Code of Conduct: https://students.mq.edu.au/support/student\_conduct/

Results

Results shown in iLearn, or released directly by your Unit Convenor, are not confirmed as they are subject to final approval by the University. Once approved, final results will be sent to your student email address and will be made available in eStudent. For more information visit ask.mq.edu.au.

Any student seeking an extension of time to complete any assessment task must contact the unit convenor as soon as possible and formally apply for special consideration. Supportive documentary evidence must be provided. In cases of extensions sought on medical grounds, a certificate signed by a medical practitioner must be submitted as supportive evidence. Extensions of more than seven (7) days will not usually be granted. Students are referred to the university special consideration policy at:

The policy applies to all who connect to the MQ network including students.

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Define and describe the production and peer review processes of an academic law journal
- Critique legal academic articles and other works
- Produce written academic work to a publishable standard

Assessment tasks

- Written Work 1
- Written Work 2
- Class Participation

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Define and describe the production and peer review processes of an academic law journal
- Critique legal academic articles and other works
- Demonstrate a capacity to proofread, edit, check and critique legal academic works in terms of substance and style
- Demonstrate a capacity to collaborate effectively and develop interpersonal and communication skills as part of an editorial team

Assessment tasks

- Written Work 2
- Class Participation
- Portfolio

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Critique legal academic articles and other works
- Produce written academic work to a publishable standard

Assessment task

- Portfolio

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Produce written academic work to a publishable standard
- Demonstrate a capacity to proofread, edit, check and critique legal academic works in terms of substance and style

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Define and describe the production and peer review processes of an academic law journal
- Critique legal academic articles and other works
- Produce written academic work to a publishable standard
- Demonstrate a capacity to proofread, edit, check and critique legal academic works in terms of substance and style

Assessment tasks

- Written Work 1
- Written Work 2
- Class Participation

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Define and describe the production and peer review processes of an academic law journal
- Demonstrate a capacity to proofread, edit, check and critique legal academic works in terms of substance and style
- Demonstrate a capacity to collaborate effectively and develop interpersonal and communication skills as part of an editorial team

Assessment tasks

- Written Work 1
- Written Work 2

- Portfolio

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Define and describe the production and peer review processes of an academic law journal
- Critique legal academic articles and other works
- Produce written academic work to a publishable standard
- Demonstrate a capacity to proofread, edit, check and critique legal academic works in terms of substance and style
- Demonstrate a capacity to collaborate effectively and develop interpersonal and communication skills as part of an editorial team

Assessment tasks

- Written Work 1
- Written Work 2
- Class Participation
- Portfolio

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Critique legal academic articles and other works

- Produce written academic work to a publishable standard
- Demonstrate a capacity to collaborate effectively and develop interpersonal and communication skills as part of an editorial team

Assessment tasks

- Written Work 1
- Class Participation
- Portfolio

Socially and Environmentally Active and Responsible

We want our graduates to be aware of and have respect for self and others; to be able to work with others as a leader and a team player; to have a sense of connectedness with others and country; and to have a sense of mutual obligation. Our graduates should be informed and active participants in moving society towards sustainability.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Recognise and identify the fundamentals of legal academic publishing
- Demonstrate a capacity to collaborate effectively and develop interpersonal and communication skills as part of an editorial team
