Unit description

This unit covers the key areas of language teaching methodology. Learners gain an appreciation of the variety of language teaching and learning contexts, and are introduced to methods of analysing and interpreting those contexts. It explores a range of approaches to language teaching, focusing on integrating language knowledge and skills into language learning activities. Learners are introduced to the principles of planning activities and lessons, teaching the language macro-skills, evaluating materials, teaching knowledge about language, and language assessment.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Understand the variety of contexts in which TESOL is taught

Understand various approaches and methodologies appropriate to TESOL

Design language learning activities that promote relevant, meaningful and appropriate language use for the learners

Plan language teaching programs based on well-designed activities, lessons, units of work and teaching sequences which will enable learners to develop skills in speaking, listening, reading and writing

Evaluate commercially available materials (paper and digital) for their fit with a specific teaching/learning context and specific objectives

Prepare materials suitable for a range of learner types

Be aware of the repertoire of classroom management strategies to maximise classroom and out-of-class learning

Implement a range of approaches to teaching grammar and vocabulary

Implement a range of assess instruments in order to assess students' language skills and achievement

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Evaluating ELT Materials	25%	end week 6
Materials Design	30%	week 8
Lesson Plans + Essay	45%	week 13

Evaluating ELT Materials

Due: end week 6

Weighting: 25%

On successful completion you will be able to:

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills

Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Understand the variety of contexts in which TESOL is taught
- Understand various approaches and methodologies appropriate to TESOL
- Design language learning activities that promote relevant, meaningful and appropriate language use for the learners
- Plan language teaching programs based on well-designed activities, lessons, units of work and teaching sequences which will enable learners to develop skills in speaking, listening, reading and writing
- Prepare materials suitable for a range of learner types
- Be aware of the repertoire of classroom management strategies to maximise classroom and out-of-class learning
- Implement a range of approaches to teaching grammar and vocabulary
- Implement a range of assess instruments in order to assess students' language skills and achievement

Assessment tasks

- Evaluating ELT Materials
- Materials Design
- Lesson Plans + Essay

PG - Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

Our postgraduates will be capable of utilising and reflecting on prior knowledge and experience, of applying higher level critical thinking skills, and of integrating and synthesising learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments. A characteristic of this form of thinking is the generation of new, professionally oriented knowledge through personal or group-based critique of practice and theory.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Understand the variety of contexts in which TESOL is taught
- Understand various approaches and methodologies appropriate to TESOL

- Implement a range of approaches to teaching grammar and vocabulary

Assessment tasks

- Evaluating ELT Materials
- Materials Design
- Lesson Plans + Essay

PG - Research and Problem Solving Capability

Our postgraduates will be capable of systematic enquiry; able to use research skills to create new knowledge that can be applied to real world issues, or contribute to a field of study or practice to enhance society. They will be capable of creative questioning, problem finding and problem solving.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Design language learning activities that promote relevant, meaningful and appropriate language use for the learners
- Plan language teaching programs based on well-designed activities, lessons, units of work and teaching sequences which will enable learners to develop skills in speaking, listening, reading and writing
- Prepare materials suitable for a range of learner types
- Implement a range of approaches to teaching grammar and vocabulary

Assessment task

- Evaluating ELT Materials

PG - Effective Communication

Our postgraduates will be able to communicate effectively and convey their views to different social, cultural, and professional audiences. They will be able to use a variety of technologically supported media to communicate with empathy using a range of written, spoken or visual formats.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes
