Unit description
This unit prepares students in advocacy skills before courts and tribunals. It focuses on the analysis, strategy and preparation of cases in both civil and criminal trials. Direct and cross examination of witnesses; preparation of trial briefs; and opening and closing addresses are among the topics covered. Experienced counsel and judges are also involved.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at http://students.mq.edu.au/student_admin/enrolmentguide/academicdates/

Learning Outcomes

1. Recognise the professional and ethical obligations that arise in the context of social justice advocacy
2. Demonstrate basic trial advocacy skills
3. Understand how non-legal strategies can complement legal strategies to achieve social justice outcomes
4. Design a social justice campaign that would bring together litigation and other advocacy strategies

General Assessment Information

In the absence of a successful application for special consideration due to a disruption to studies, any assessment task submitted after its published deadline will not be graded and will receive a mark of zero. Applications for a Disruption to Studies are made electronically via ask.mq.edu.au and should be accompanied by supporting documentation. Students should refer to the Disruption to Studies policy for complete details of the policy and a description of the supporting documentation required.

Word limits will be strictly applied and work above the word limit will not be marked.

All assessments in the unit are to be submitted electronically. Plagiarism detection software is used in this unit.

Quiz

Due: 8/04/2016
Weighting: 10%

An online quiz consisting of 10 questions drawn from the course readings to be completed the day before the on campus session begins.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:
- Recognise the professional and ethical obligations that arise in the context of social justice advocacy
- Demonstrate basic trial advocacy skills
- Understand how non-legal strategies can complement legal strategies to achieve social justice outcomes
- Design a social justice campaign that would bring together litigation and other advocacy strategies
Seminar Participation
Due: On Campus Session
Weighting: 10%

Seminar participation in the two day on-campus session

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:
• Recognise the professional and ethical obligations that arise in the context of social justice advocacy
• Understand how non-legal strategies can complement legal strategies to achieve social justice outcomes
• Design a social justice campaign that would bring together litigation and other advocacy strategies

Trial Advocacy Skills
Due: 23/04/2016
Weighting: 30%

15 minute oral examination during which students will be called upon to demonstrate the trial advocacy skills covered in the unit. The assessment will take place on Saturday 23 April, from 10am-3pm.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:
• Demonstrate basic trial advocacy skills

Social Justice Campaign Plan
Due: 16/5/2016
Weighting: 50%

Students will work in groups to develop a 2500 word report outlining a strategy for a campaign on a selected social justice issue. The report will consist of a 1000 word legal submission to a coronial inquest, as well as 1500 word plan for non-legal advocacy strategies.

As part of the assessment, students will also each submit a 1000 word Individual Report documenting their contribution to their group’s report and reflecting on the learning in the unit. Both the group report and the individual report are due on the same day.
The 2500 word group report is worth 10% of your final mark. It will be marked on a pass/fail basis.

The individual report is weighted at 40% of your final mark. The quality of the group report will contribute to your grade for your individual report.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Recognise the professional and ethical obligations that arise in the context of social justice advocacy
- Understand how non-legal strategies can complement legal strategies to achieve social justice outcomes
- Design a social justice campaign that would bring together litigation and other advocacy strategies

Delivery and Resources

The unit provides an introduction to the theory and practice of social justice advocacy. We will examine campaigning using a combination of legal and other forms of advocacy. The aim is to teach students how to think creatively about how legal and broader advocacy strategies can be used to achieve social justice outcomes.

Learning in the unit will be structured around case studies of social justice litigation which will be used as a practical basis for exploring effective legal and non-legal strategies.

The unit materials will be delivered online through the unit’s ilearn page. They will consist of links to readings, videos and pre-recorded lectures organised under a weekly structure. Students are expected to have completed all of these readings and watched all videos and recorded lectures prior to the seminars.

We will meet for two days of seminars to be held on Saturday 9 April and Sunday 10 April. We will reconvene on Saturday 23 April to carry out trial advocacy assessment task.

Policies and Procedures

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central. Students should be aware of the following policies in particular with regard to Learning and Teaching:

In addition, a number of other policies can be found in the Learning and Teaching Category of Policy Central.

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation’s historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

• Recognise the professional and ethical obligations that arise in the context of social justice advocacy
Design a social justice campaign that would bring together litigation and other advocacy strategies
