Unit description

This unit focuses attention on curriculum and pedagogical approaches to teaching and learning with children from birth to two years. The unit introduces students to research relating to how infants and toddlers learn and the role of intentional teaching in promoting learning and development. Students will engage in a critical analysis of curriculum approaches, relationship-based teaching and learning, and environmental contexts that are recommended for infants and toddlers. The unit will culminate in the planning and documentation of an effective learning environment for children in this age group.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Articulate an in-depth understanding of theoretical and pedagogical ideas relating to the effective learning and teaching of infants and toddlers in early childhood settings.

Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the ways in which different relationships and relationships characteristics are played out in, and impact on, infant-toddler learning and teaching.

Plan an effective learning environment for infants and toddlers that takes account research understandings, issues of agency and participation, contemporary early years curriculum outcomes and health and safety issues

Draw on contemporary literature and real-world experience to demonstrate an reflective, evidence-based understanding of the role of the early childhood teacher in supporting the learning and development of infants and toddlers

General Assessment Information

Full instructions for each assignment, including the assessment criteria can be found in the Assignment and Assessment guide attached to the ECHE311 iLearn site.

UNIT EXPECTATIONS

To achieve a passing grade in ECHE311, students must meet with the 3 following expectations

1. All assignments are submitted, and demonstrate a serious attempt to address the assessment task and criteria
2. Students must attend for the full day on both On-campus sessions
3. Students must meet the required academic literacy standards set out below.

Failure to meet any of the 3 expectations listed above will result in a maximum grade of 45% for the unit.

EXPECTED ACADEMIC LITERACY LEVEL

As a 300-level unit, students are expected to demonstrate a fully functional level of academic literacy in their assignment work. The expectation levels are listed below. Students whose work does not meet these standards are at serious risk of failing the unit.

Students will receive feedback on their demonstrated level of academic literacy in assignment 1. Students who do not meet the minimum level in assignment 2 will have their work returned, unmarked. These students will have the opportunity to re-submit within a designated time frame, for a maximum grade of 50% for that assignment. Any further work that does not meet these minimum standards in any area will result in a fail grade for the unit of a maximum of 45%.

Note that work that breaches the Macquarie University academic honesty policy (see Academic honesty and plagiarism section below) will attract significant deductions in marks and may, in some cases, be referred to the IEC Academic honesty committee for consideration. Penalties may apply beyond those specified above.

Key academic literacy skill	Expected level of performance
-----------------------------	-------------------------------

Assignments are correctly formatted and are submitted as per instructions in the Unit Guide.	The assignment meets unit expectations in regards to the required formatting and submission of the work.
Assignment requirements are addressed using a satisfactory level of academic written expression, appropriate to the genre of the assignment.	Each required part of the assignment has been addressed. The assignment is generally well structured, demonstrating logically organised ideas and concepts. There may be minor spelling or grammatical errors which make the meaning unclear in small portions of the assignment. The assignment complies with the specified word limit.
Unit readings and other appropriate academic sources are used to support the views expressed in assignments	Academic sources, including the set unit readings, have been used to support the ideas expressed in the work. The assignment shows an ability to identify the key arguments in the required readings and relate these to the topic in question.
APA 6 th referencing style is used to correctly acknowledge sources through in-text citations and a reference list.	A consistent effort has been made to use the APA 6th referencing and citation style. There may be a few style errors and/or some inconsistencies that will need to be addressed in future assignments. All consulted sources have been acknowledged through in-text citations and included in the reference list. Quoted material has been appropriately represented in quotation marks, with in-text citations to correctly identify the source.

PRESENTATION AND SUBMISSION GUIDELINES

When preparing your assignments, it is essential that you note that:

- Students must retain a copy of all assignments before submission, and retain the copy until your final grade for the unit has been received;
- Assignment marks will be deducted if you submit your assignment late (refer to the 'late assignments' section below for more details);
- Unless there are exceptional circumstances, no assignment will be accepted after the date that the assignment has been returned to other students;
- All assignments will be assessed against criteria set out in a marking rubric, and provided to students at least 10-day before the submission of the assignment. Students will receive feedback in terms of their performance against that criteria.
- Assignments will not necessarily be marked by your tutor.

Assignment presentation

All written submissions are to be legible and professionally presented. Please follow the guidelines below:

- All assignments must include the academic honesty declaration as required by all Macquarie University students.

- Assignments must represent the student's individual work (see Academic Honesty section below).
- Please type all assignments using 12 point font and 1.5 or double-space the lines. Save your file in .doc, .docx or pdf format.
- Allow a left and right-hand margin of at least 3cm in all assignments. This allows us to attach, and you to read your feedback comments easily.
- Use APA 6th referencing style to acknowledge your sources and support your ideas with in-text referencing (See IEC referencing guide for more information).
- Include a full reference list of all works that are cited within your assignment.

Assignment submission

Information about how to submit each piece of assessment is included with the assignment instructions. Please read these instructions carefully.

Word limit

All sections of the assignment, apart from references and appendices, are included in the word limit. If your assignment seriously exceeds the word limit, it will be marked only to the point at which the word limit is reached.

Work awarded fail

All assignments awarded a grade of "fail" will be checked by a second marker for accuracy, however you may not receive feedback from the second marker. Please note that, with the exception of the academic literacy provisions explained above, there are no resubmissions in this unit.

Academic honesty and plagiarism

You should be aware that there are rules governing good practice and acceptable academic procedures. One of the most important elements of good practice involves carefully acknowledging the people whose ideas we have used, borrowed or developed, precisely because all scholarly work depends in one way or another on the work of others.

Macquarie University has high standards in regards to the academic honesty of both staff and students. In particular, students are advised to ensure that the work that they submit is solely their own, and that supporting material is clearly and correctly referenced. The University defines plagiarism as follows: “Using the work or ideas of another person, whether intentionally or not, and presenting this as your own without clear acknowledgement of the source of the work or ideas. This includes, but is not limited to, any of the following acts:

a) copying out part(s) of any document or audio-visual material or computer code or website content without indicating their origins b) using or extracting another person's concepts, experimental results, or conclusions c) summarising another person's work without correctly referencing its source d) submitting substantially the same final version of any material as another student in an assignment where there was collaborative preparatory work e) use of others (paid or otherwise) to conceive, research or write material submitted for assessment f) submitting the same or substantially the same piece of work for two different tasks (self-plagiarism).” (Glossary; www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/academic_honesty/policy.html)

Plagiarism is considered a serious offence at IEC and across the University, and carries significant penalties. Students must consult the full university policy on academic honesty, which is available at http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/academic_honesty/policy.html

Late assignments

A deduction of 5% of the total possible mark allocated for that assignment will be made for each day or part day that assignment is late, weekends counting as two days. For example, if an assignment is worth 20 marks and you submit it 2 days late, you will have 2 marks (2 x 5% of 20 marks = 2 marks) subtracted from your awarded mark.

Requesting an extension

In extenuating circumstances, students may apply to the unit convener for an extension to the assignment due date. Reasons must be documented through the Disruption to Study form accessible through Ask.mq.edu.au and supported (e.g., a doctor's certificate in the case of illness).

Note that:

- Students MUST communicate with the Unit Convener prior to submitting their request through Ask.mq.edu.au. Please do this via the dialogue communication tool on the iLearn site.
- Extensions will only be granted in receipt of the completed form submitted through ask.mq.edu.au, plus documentation.
- It is essential that you plan ahead and organise your study time effectively. Poor time management, existing family or work commitments, or demands from other units of study are not grounds for an extension.
- In the case of computer malfunctions, a draft of your assignment may be requested. Ensure that you back up your work regularly and print out a draft regularly, so that it is available for submission on request.
- Extensions are usually not granted on or after the due date. Should sudden illness or misadventure prevent you from submitting on the due date, please contact the unit convener immediately.
- Students cannot submit an assignment once assessed work is returned to other students.

Your final grade for ECHE311

Your final grade and mark for ECHE311 is determined based on your performance, as compared to the Macquarie University grade descriptors listed here. Please note that your final mark may be scaled to reflect your overall level of performance, and therefore may not necessarily be a raw sum of the marks of your assignments.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Critical Research Reflection	20%	21st August
Educator Information Article	30%	2nd October
Learning Environment	50%	24th November

Critical Research Reflection

Due: 21st August

Weighting: 20%

Write a critical reflection based on an a quality feature chosen from a provided research review

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Articulate an in-depth understanding of theoretical and pedagogical ideas relating to the effective learning and teaching of infants and toddlers in early childhood settings.

Educator Information Article

Due: 2nd October

Weighting: 30%

Construct a short professional journal article that explains to educators to importance of one kind of curriculum experience for the learning and development of 0-2 year old children.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Articulate an in-depth understanding of theoretical and pedagogical ideas relating to the effective learning and teaching of infants and toddlers in early childhood settings.
- Draw on contemporary literature and real-world experience to demonstrate an reflective, evidence-based understanding of the role of the early childhood teacher in supporting the learning and development of infants and toddlers

Learning Environment

Due: 24th November

Weighting: 50%

Design a learning environment to meet the learning and developmental capabilities of a group of under-two-year-old children

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Articulate an in-depth understanding of theoretical and pedagogical ideas relating to the effective learning and teaching of infants and toddlers in early childhood settings.
- Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the ways in which different relationships and relationships characteristics are played out in, and impact on, infant-toddler learning and teaching.
- Plan an effective learning environment for infants and toddlers that takes account research understandings, issues of agency and participation, contemporary early years curriculum outcomes and health and safety issues
- Draw on contemporary literature and real-world experience to demonstrate an reflective, evidence-based understanding of the role of the early childhood teacher in supporting the learning and development of infants and toddlers

Delivery and Resources

TUTORIAL CLASSES AND LECTURES

ECHE311 is offered in external mode which involves web-based delivery and compulsory face-to-face on-campus sessions.

Lectures: Lectures have been pre-recorded to support the knowledge that is built through readings, tutorial activities and assignment preparation. You will note that they do not occur every week. It is expected that students will have listened to the required lectures before attending the related on-campus session. Please note that some of these lectures are labelled as ECST220, which was the previous code assigned to this unit..

On Campus sessions: There are two compulsory on-campus days . These on-campus dates are Monday 19th September and Saturday 5th November. It is a requirement to have listened to all lectures and completed all required readings set for the tutorial weeks prior to each on-campus day. Please note that non-attendance will lead to unit failure due to having not met unit expectations. Students who are unable to attend due to illness or other unavoidable disruption will be supported in their application to withdraw without academic penalty.

WORK REQUIREMENTS

ECHE311 is worth three credit points and you would usually be expected to allocate about 9 hours a week in your study for a three credit point unit over 13 weeks. This workload guide gives an indication of the amount of time that would be expected for the various learning tasks for ECHE311.

Learning Experience	Estimated time over the semester	Description
Lectures	8 hours	Listening to and viewing lectures

Preparation and reading	20 hours (allow 2 hrs per teaching week)	Accessing and reading set materials.
Tutorials	12 hours	On-campus attendance
Assignment 1	8 hours	Professional Reflection 1
Assignment 2	20 hours	Parent presentation on a chosen aspect of an infant-toddler curriculum
Assignment 4	30 hours	Design a learning environment

Note that this is an approximation only, and some students may require to invest more time in order to successfully complete the unit. Note also, that a time allowance has been made to reflect the fact that many students will be completing ECHP325 at the same time as this unit.

UNIT WEBSITE AND STAFF CONTACT

The website for this unit, which you can access, using your Macquarie University login details, is available via: <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au>. This is a password protected website open to both internal and external students and staff of ECHE311. You are expected to visit this website regularly (at least weekly) as important information will be posted under “Announcements”. The “General Discussion” component is a useful way to communicate and interact with your fellow students for support. The method of contacting the unit convener is via this website through the “Dialogue with teaching staff” if you have any queries relating to the unit. Please do not email the convener using her MQ email address. Individual consultations can be arranged via dialogue at a mutually convenient time.

Graduate Capabilities

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Articulate an in-depth understanding of theoretical and pedagogical ideas relating to the effective learning and teaching of infants and toddlers in early childhood settings.
- Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the ways in which different relationships and relationships characteristics are played out in, and impact on, infant-toddler learning and teaching.
- Plan an effective learning environment for infants and toddlers that takes account research understandings, issues of agency and participation, contemporary early years curriculum outcomes and health and safety issues
- Draw on contemporary literature and real-world experience to demonstrate an reflective, evidence-based understanding of the role of the early childhood teacher in supporting the learning and development of infants and toddlers

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Articulate an in-depth understanding of theoretical and pedagogical ideas relating to the effective learning and teaching of infants and toddlers in early childhood settings.
- Demonstrate an in-depth understanding of the ways in which different relationships and relationships characteristics are played out in, and impact on, infant-toddler learning and teaching.

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Articulate an in-depth understanding of theoretical and pedagogical ideas relating to the effective learning and teaching of infants and toddlers in early childhood settings.

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.
