GEOP802 Social Impact Assessment and Cross-Cultural Negotiation

Unit description

Social impact assessment is a key tool in managing development in multicultural environments where stakeholders have different views of the world. Social impact assessment is a form of applied social science research. Using case studies of resource projects, major infrastructure developments, native title, post-disaster recovery and climate change adaptation this unit develops conceptual, methodological and practical skills relevant to government, community and private sectors. Students will examine several major social impact studies and native title negotiations.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Develop a critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.

Discuss the history of Social Impact Assessment and its basic theoretical and methodological foundations in Australia and internationally.

Explain the requirements for negotiations-based approaches to Social Impact Assessment in cross-cultural settings.

Demonstrate an understanding of the lessons of recent negotiations about resource industry and infrastructure developments in Australia and the region for their own field(s) of practice.

Demonstrate skills in researching issues affecting cross-cultural negotiations and Social Impact Assessment.

Demonstrate written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

General Assessment Information

Assignment Submission

To successfully complete GEOP702 students must complete all assessment tasks. Failure to complete any single assessment task may result in failure of the unit. The final grade is based on the total mark accumulated from all four assessment tasks.

All students must keep a clean electronic copy of all assignments (preferably as a PDF) submitted for assessment.

For both internal (D1) and external (X1) students all assignments in GEOP702 must be submitted via Turnitin as part of the submission process, and the Turnitin receipt number recorded on the coversheet of each assignment. You will be able to access the result of the Turnitin scan and be able to review your assignments in light of this result. Not everything that Turnitin picks up as comparable to other work is plagiarised. Use this process constructively to ensure you are referencing correctly and effectively. Instructions for submitting assignment to Turnitin can be found at: http://mq.edu.au/iLearn/student_info/assignments.htm

Your assignment must be submitted with a cover sheet. Please use the barcoded coversheets which can be downloaded from the web at :

http://www.arts.mq.edu.au/current_students/undergraduate/coversheet

Students must complete all the details on the cover sheet and sign the declaration regarding academic honesty that is part of the cover sheet. You must attach a copy of the email approval or medical certificates to justify any late submission.

Late Penalties and Grading

Please note that the penalty for late submission of assignments is 10% per day or part thereof, calculated from midnight on the due date listed. This penalty will be applied unless you are granted an extension by the unit convenor (Fiona Miller) and provide appropriate supporting documentation. Please talk to (or email) Fiona about any circumstances that affect your assignments before the due date.

Each assignment will be marked and commented upon before it is returned to you. The mark will be in the form of a graded letter as shown on the table below and as consistent with University policy. If you are uncertain or unhappy with any aspect of your comments or results please contact Fiona Miller as Unit Convenor to discuss these (in person or via email). Formal requests for special consideration or grading appeal should be made according to university policy and procedure (see below).

Graded letter	Meaning	% equivalent
F	Fail	<50
P	Pass	50-64
Cr	Credit	65-74
D	Distinction	75-84
HD	High Distinction	85-100

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Due
Key Issues Summary	25%	21/08/2016 (midnight)
ResearchMethods Paper&Present.	30%	Weeks 4-12
Research Essay	40%	06/11/16 (midnight)
Class Participation	5%	Weeks 1-13

Key Issues Summary

Due: 21/08/2016 (midnight)

Weighting: 25%

Write a concise review (1000 words) of the literature presented in the required readings for weeks 1-2 and the introductory lectures. Your review should identify key themes in the literature and relate those themes to your own learning objectives and fields of interest or professional practice.

The purpose of this assessment task is to ensure that you understand key principles and processes in Social Impact Assessment. You are required to demonstrate a critical understanding of the introductory readings and lectures, the issues they raise, and the relevance of these issues to your own fields of interest and professional practice. This assessment aims to provide you with a clear overview of the field and issues in doing SIA in cross-cultural settings.

Please note that the reference list for this paper is not included in the word limit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop a critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- Discuss the history of Social Impact Assessment and its basic theoretical and methodological foundations in Australia and internationally.
- Demonstrate written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Research Methods Paper & Present.

Due: Weeks 4-12

Weighting: 30%

Write a 1500 word paper that focuses on a particular aspect of research methods associated with Social Impact Assessment and relates the readings, discussion and your own understanding of the issues raised to the broad themes of the unit such as power, culture and ethics.

The purpose of this assessment task is to allow you to demonstrate a deeper understanding of research methods associated with SIA. It requires a written paper, an oral presentation and some leadership of discussion. For external students the 'oral' presentation will take the form of an online posting on iLearn and leadership of online discussion. The goal is to demonstrate a capacity to draw others into a thoughtful and high level (i.e. conceptual rather than simply descriptive) discussion.

Each student is required to present to the class. You will nominate your preferred tutorial (from weeks 4 -12) in week 1 the best allows you to explore methodological issues associated with SIA. In every tutorial session all students (including external students) are expected to prepare by reading at least 2-3 papers per week. The role of the student(s) leading the tutorial class is not to summarise papers that everyone should have read for themselves, but to lead a discussion of the issues raised in the papers. It is recognised that as adult learners the class members bring a range of experience and insights to the task of understanding SIA and cross-cultural negotiation, and that a wide range of fields of practice are implicated. Different students will bring different perspectives, approaches, experience and expectations to the tutorial topic they are leading. Co-presenters are encouraged to work together to present stimulating and provocative discussion sessions. It is certainly not expected that each student will 'read' a pre-prepared paper. It is therefore required that your written paper reflects upon your presentation and is responsive to the class/online discussion rather than simply a reflection on the literature.

Your contribution to the class presentation (or online presentation) and how well you lead and encourage discussion in class (or online) are important to this assessment. Written papers will not be assessed if a student fails to present to the class or, in the case of external students, make an online posting and clear contribution to leading the online discussion for their chosen topic.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop a critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the lessons of recent negotiations about resource industry and infrastructure developments in Australia and the region for their own field(s) of practice.
- Demonstrate skills in researching issues affecting cross-cultural negotiations and Social Impact Assessment.
- Demonstrate written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Research Essay

Due: 06/11/16 (midnight)

Weighting: 40%

Choose one of the following topics and write a case study based essay (3000 words) that addresses the question: What conceptual, methodological and practical considerations are required in the conduct of SIA to support sustainable and ethical outcomes for different stakeholders? Illustrate your argument with reference to a case study in a cross-cultural context.

- SIA and Indigenous rights
- SIA as a tool in addressing vulnerability in disaster settings
- SIA in formal planning systems
- SIA and conflict in cross-cultural settings
- SIA and forced resettlement

The purpose of this assessment is to apply your understanding of SIA in cross-cultural settings, and the principles and practices of using negotiated approaches, to a research-based case study essay. You will select an essay topic and present evidence to report on an example relevant to the topic. The target is to produce work of publishable quality.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop a critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- Discuss the history of Social Impact Assessment and its basic theoretical and methodological foundations in Australia and internationally.
- Explain the requirements for negotiations-based approaches to Social Impact Assessment in cross-cultural settings.
- Demonstrate an understanding of the lessons of recent negotiations about resource industry and infrastructure developments in Australia and the region for their own field(s) of practice.
- Demonstrate skills in researching issues affecting cross-cultural negotiations and Social Impact Assessment.
- Demonstrate written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Class Participation

Due: Weeks 1-13

Weighting: 5%

For internally enrolled students, class attendance is compulsory and the roll will be marked. Students must come to class prepared every week ready to discuss the essential readings, as you may be called upon to discuss and reflect upon any one of these readings in class in any given week. We will also have class activities based on the readings, so it is necessary to come prepared.

For external students, it is expected that they will make regular postings (150-300 words) on the unit's iLearn website in response to the questions posted by the convenor or lead discussant, others' comments and the readings.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Develop a critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- Demonstrate written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Delivery and Resources

Study Modes

This unit is available in both internal and external study modes.

Internal (D1) - GEOP702 is based on a three-hour weekly class on Mondays from 11:00am - 2:00pm in room X5B 132, from Monday 01/08/16. Classes will run as a combination of both lectures and student-led seminar sessions as indicated in the class schedule. All internal students are expected to attend all classes and the roll will be taken as part of the determination of your participation mark.

External (X1) - External students will be expected to access recordings of the sessions online via iLearn. There is a weekend on-campus session, which will run on Saturday 20/08/16 (10.00am-4.00pm) in E5A 140. For external (X1) students, attendance at this session is compulsory unless you are studying GEOP702 from a remote Australian location or outside Australia, in which case you should contact the unit convenor early in the semester to discuss alternative arrangements.

Workload Expectation

GEOP702 uses a combination of lecture and seminar style classes with a number of role-play and web-based learning opportunities. It is expected that all students in the unit will both participate and contribute to classes, including completing the required readings and participating in classroom and web-based discussions. Internal students are expected to attend all classes and external students are expected to routinely access material online each week. All students are required to complete all the required assessment set for the unit.

The credit point value of a unit reflects the amount of work required in the unit. Each credit point in a half-year unit (such as GEOP702) would indicate that you should expect to spend about three hours each week on that unit (including class contact hours). With GEOP702 being a 4 credit point unit, you should therefore expect to spend about 12 hours each week on it. The expected hours per credit point per week is over the 15 weeks of the session - the 13 weeks of classes PLUS the two weeks of the mid-session break. The following table is a guide for how you should allocate these hours to the various activities and tasks. . If you are unable to make this commitment to your study, then you should reconsider your decision to enrol – or reassess your priorities.

Activity	Estimated hours per week	Estimated total hours
Lectures	1-2	14
Tutorials	2	19
Reading	8	120
Assignments		27
Total	12	180

Technology Used and Required

GEOP702 provides all students with significant web-based support using iLearn, Macquarie University's learning management system. If you need help with iLearn please refer to http://www.mq.edu.au/iLearn/student_info/index.htm or contact the unit convenor as soon as possible. The unit website will be maintained regularly, providing you with copies of lecture PowerPoint slides immediately before each lecture. Digital audio recordings of the lectures will be available via Echo360 linked to the unit's iLearn site.

Learning and Teaching Activities

Lectures

Lectures delivered by staff and guest lecturers provide an introduction to and overview of SIA in cross-cultural contexts; history of SIA; key paradigms, theories, concepts, methods and practices; and SIA case studies and professional practice.

Tutorials

Seminar style tutorials led by staff and students.

Personal reading

Personal reading of journal articles, books, online material and SIA documents.

Reflection

Reflection on personal/professional experience and interests and key themes in SIA.

Research

In-depth research on a particular case study.

In-class and online discussions

Teaching staff and students will actively lead in-class and online discussion on weekly tutorial topics and other related topics.

Presentations and facilitation of discussions

Student presentations and facilitation of group discussions.

Small group work

Small group work in tutorials (face-to-face or online).

Experiential Learning

Experiential learning opportunity of a role play in the tutorial and on-campus session.

Policies and Procedures

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central. Students should be aware of the following policies in particular with regard to Learning and Teaching:

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Capable of Professional and Personal Judgment and Initiative

Our postgraduates will demonstrate a high standard of discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgment. They will have the ability to make informed choices and decisions that reflect both the nature of their professional work and their personal perspectives.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Develop a critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- Demonstrate skills in researching issues affecting cross-cultural negotiations and Social Impact Assessment.
- Demonstrate written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Changes from Previous Offering

Significant change was made to this unit in 2012 with the appointment of a new convenor. Since 2014 a number of more up-to-date and relevant readings have been added, including from the recommended text book. More explicit reference to the assessments is incorporated into the lecture program and Assessments 2 and 3 have been modified, with an additional participation mark assessment task added. A new module on resettlement and compensation has been added this year.
