Unit description
This unit is designed to integrate psychological perspectives with the practical, day-to-day opportunities and challenges faced by organisations. At a macro level, we examine organisational learning and decision making, how organisations respond to diversity and competition, and how they can engender innovation and creativity amongst its workforce. At a micro-level, we consider knowledge management strategies, contracts and negotiation, and expert witness reports. Students completing this unit should be capable of acknowledging and responding to diversity within an organisational setting, improving knowledge management within an organisation, reviewing contracts as appropriate, and providing efficient and appropriate expert witness testimony on request.

Important Academic Dates
Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at http://students.mq.edu.au/student_admin/enrolmentguide/academicdates/
Learning Outcomes

1. Demonstrate an understanding of diversity in organisations and the impact of diversity on organisational functioning.
2. Critique how organisations collect, store and use organisational knowledge.
3. Critique a contract for the provision of psychological services in an organisational setting.
4. Apply knowledge of cognitive processes to identify the limitations of human strategic decision-making.
5. Demonstrate an understanding of how to use incentives and other strategies to manage human performance.
6. Apply psychological perspectives on power and influence processes.

Knowledge Management Report
Due: 11th September 2015
Weighting: 50%

This exercise has been designed to assess students' competence in preparing a report that reviews current knowledge management strategies within an organisation and proposes alternative strategies to improve the capture and retention of corporate knowledge.

An 'elements of assessment' document is provided to assist in completing this assessment task.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

- Critique how organisations collect, store and use organisational knowledge.
- Apply knowledge of cognitive processes to identify the limitations of human strategic decision-making.

Organisational Contract
Due: 30th October 2015
Weighting: 29%
This exercise has been designed to assess students’ capacity to critique a contract for the delivery of organisational psychological services to an external body. Issues such as intellectual property, copyright, duty of care, and insurance will need to be addressed.

An ‘elements of assessment’ document is provided to assist in completing this assessment task.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

• Critique a contract for the provision of psychological services in an organisational setting.
• Apply psychological perspectives on power and influence processes.

Weekly online quizzes

Due: on-going
Weighting: 21%

Seven short on-line quizzes relating to each of the topic areas (e.g., managing organisational knowledge) to be completed before each of the workshops.

This Assessment Task relates to the following Learning Outcomes:

• Demonstrate an understanding of diversity in organisations and the impact of diversity on organisational functioning.
• Apply knowledge of cognitive processes to identify the limitations of human strategic decision-making.
• Demonstrate an understanding of how to use incentives and other strategies to manage human performance.

Delivery and Resources

This unit consists of:

• Weekly on-line lectures
• Fortnightly 2 hour workshops
• Weekly compulsory readings
• Three assessment tasks
