Unit description

Modernity is characterised by a number of specific developments such as: democracy, capitalism, industrialism, nationalism, individualism and bureaucratisation. These are partly antagonistic, partly complementary tendencies. In this unit we will be examining these diverse trends through the prism of a range of classical theories of modern society. We will consider from among the following: Marx, Nietzsche, Weber, Durkheim, Mead, the Frankfurt School and Foucault. None of these has the key but we suggest that all remain a vital source of illumination into tendencies and potentials of the contemporary world.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

General Assessment Information

Extensions and Special Circumstances Extensions Extension requests should be made at least 24 business hours before the assignment due time by completing this online form (https://coemacquarieuniversity.zendesk.com/hc/en-us/requests/new?ticket_form_id=64525).

Unless otherwise stated in your iLearn unit, late submission of written work will result in a deduction of 10% of the mark awarded for each week or part of a week beyond the due date, or date to which an extension has been granted. Extensions are granted only on grounds of illness or misadventure, and appropriate supporting documentation must be submitted. Work submitted after 3 weeks beyond the due date, or the date after which an extension has been given, will not be accepted. If you are having problems completing an assignment, please contact the tutor as early as possible.

Assessment Tasks

| Name | Weighting | Due |
|---------------------------|-----------|----------------|
| Participation | 30% | weekly |
| Written Exercise 1 | 15% | Sunday, Week 4 |
| Written Exercise 2 | 15% | Sunday Week 6 |
| Written Exercise 3 | 20% | Sunday Week 9 |
| Written Exercise 4 | 20% | Sunday Week 12 |

Participation

Due: weekly

Weighting: 30%

Participation in (1) weekly discussions and (2) keeping of a weekly online journal/blog

(1) Participation in weekly discussions as prompted by set questions. Students must contribute to this assessment task to pass the course. A minimum of 8 weeks of discussion is required to pass the Participation component of the assessment. A minimum of 3 weeks discussion is required to pass the course at all.

(2) Keeping of a weekly journal/blog. Here is your chance to earn marks for the kind of note-taking that you should be engaging in for every set reading you ever study. The journal/blog should contain: a brief summary of the argument being offered for each reading; a note of key concepts; any questions that you think of; any reflections/reservations on the material/argument that you have; any connections with contemporary issues/modernity you see. Your response should demonstrate a consistent effort to engage with the material throughout the course. You need to write around 250 words to fulfill these requirements. Your entry should be in your own words. All entries must be completed by 5pm Friday of Week 12.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify the distinguishing figures, topics and texts of Social Theory and Sociology as a field of study, and investigate their points of connection and disconnection in contemporary society
- Analyse and assess a variety of texts and data sources critically within their historical, social and discursive contexts.
- Explain the origin, characteristics and complexity of modern societies.
- Articulate a coherent, developed account of what it means to live in modern societies.
- Learn to think sociologically.

Written Exercise 1

Due: Sunday, Week 4

Weighting: 15%

A formal essay style response in 600 words to one of the discussion questions from Weeks 1-3.

The essay must include reference to the relevance of at least one of the Key Themes of Modernity outlined in Lecture 1.

It must be fully referenced and contain a Bibliography.

A 600 word response in essay form to one of the provided from Weeks 1-4. The task at hand is to choose one (1) of the provided questions from a week before the due week of the exercise and answer it by using lecture material, the required reading(s) and perhaps some of the suggested readings as provided in the outline, if you think it necessary. However, the essay must be focused primarily on the reading.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify the distinguishing figures, topics and texts of Social Theory and Sociology as a field of study, and investigate their points of connection and disconnection in contemporary society

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Identify the distinguishing figures, topics and texts of Social Theory and Sociology as a field of study, and investigate their points of connection and disconnection in contemporary society
