Unit description

This unit is designed to follow AHIS108. A selection of graded Greek texts from a number of authors are studied to build skills in reading Greek. By the end of semester students read some unadapted Greek, eg by Euripides.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Identify and recall Greek grammatical structures at more advanced level

Recognize and memorize extended Greek vocabulary

Analyse the grammar required for the translation of Greek texts appropriate to level of study

Explore and appraise relevant grammatical and lexical reference tools

Employ linguistic metalanguage

Integrate knowledge of grammar and vocabulary in reading and writing Greek texts

Explore the significance of Greek for the study of relevant ancient cultures

General Assessment Information

Extensions and penalties for late assignments

It is important to keep up with the weekly assignments. Your assignment must be completed on time. Without documentation (eg. medical certificate), a penalty of 2% a day (including weekends) will be applied. If you need an extension and have a valid reason you must apply online. See below for the procedure for this.

Disruption to Study All work for this course must be submitted by the Friday of week thirteen, unless there are special circumstances (normally illness or serious misadventure) and unless an extension of time has been granted by the Unit Convenor. The granting of an extension of time requires the approval of disruption to study. You must apply online. Do not email the unit convenor or your tutor directly. Go to: http://www.arts.mq.edu.au/current_students/undergraduate

Online Quizzes At 9pm on the Friday of week 13 the access to the quizzes will close and no further attempts will be possible. No extensions of time are possible. You may complete the quizzes at any time in the semester before this date. Grade Appeals A Grade Appeal can only be lodged on specific grounds. Please ensure you understand these grounds clearly before submitting any application. A grade appeal may be made on the final result only, not on results received for individual assessment tasks. For more information and for the link to make an appeal go to: http://www.arts.mq.edu.au/current_students/undergraduate

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Translation	40%	No	Each week: Friday 9pm
Vocabulary Tests	10%	No	Week 13: Friday 9pm
Final Examination	50%	No	MQ Exam Period

Translation

Due: Each week: Friday 9pm

Weighting: 40%

Weekly exercises to practise vocabulary, grammar and syntax knowledge. The exercises come from the unit textbook. There is a separate schedule of the exercises for assessment on the unit's website. Some require translation from Ancient Greek, some into Ancient Greek. You do not need to submit all the exercises in the textbook--just the ones listed in the assessment schedule.

Weekly assignments are submitted by uploading your document (eg .doc or pdf) to ilearn. For instructions on how to do this, see below: iLearn Assignment Upload Procedure

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify and recall Greek grammatical structures at more advanced level
- Recognize and memorize extended Greek vocabulary
- Analyse the grammar required for the translation of Greek texts appropriate to level of study
- Explore and appraise relevant grammatical and lexical reference tools
- Integrate knowledge of grammar and vocabulary in reading and writing Greek texts
- Explore the significance of Greek for the study of relevant ancient cultures

Vocabulary Tests

Due: Week 13: Friday 9pm

Weighting: 10%

These are short quizzes on the vocabulary and paradigms covered in the course, set chapter by chapter. There are some short questions on grammar too. The quizzes may be attempted at any time before they close: Friday of week 13 at 9pm. It will not be possible to attempt them after that time. I strongly advise you not to leave your attempts at the quizzes until the final week!

The quizzes are attempted online. Click on the Quizzes link in the blue Activities box to find them. Please note: you are only allowed one attempt at each quiz.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify and recall Greek grammatical structures at more advanced level
- Recognize and memorize extended Greek vocabulary

Final Examination

Due: MQ Exam Period

Weighting: 50%

This will examine knowledge of grammar, syntax and vocabulary. Sample examinations from previous years will be provided on the unit website. You may take your textbook (An Introduction to Ancient Greek: A Literary Approach by C.A.E. Luschnig, revised by C.A.E. Luschnig & Deborah Mitchell Second Edition (Hackett: Indianapolis & Cambridge, 2007)) into the examination room.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Identify and recall Greek grammatical structures at more advanced level
- Recognize and memorize extended Greek vocabulary
- Analyse the grammar required for the translation of Greek texts appropriate to level of study
- Employ linguistic metalanguage
- Integrate knowledge of grammar and vocabulary in reading and writing Greek texts

Delivery and Resources

Delivery: Internal (Day) and External. This unit will use live lectures, ECHO recordings, ilearn website and ZOOM (live web-class).

Lectures: Please see the Timetable for the scheduled classes. All lectures are recorded by the ECHO system.

ilearn: The unit's webpage may be accessed via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>. Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient. - For technical support go to: http://mq.edu.au/about_us/offices_and_units/informatics/help - For student quick guides on the use of iLearn go to: http://mq.edu.au/iLearn/student_info/guides.htm

ZOOM: This provides a live web link to the lectures. Students who are not in class are able to interact with the lecturer and class live via the internet. Students may participate by listening, watching texts being written and edited live, asking questions or answering questions. It will take a few moments to join each time (particularly the first time), so please login early if you want to join a session live. You need to JOIN the session through the link for the class on the unit webpage.

Textbook: This unit uses a textbook which is essential for classwork and weekly exercises: C.A.E. Luschnig, revised by C.A.E. Luschnig & Deborah Mitchell, An Introduction to Ancient Greek: A Literary Approach. Second Edition (Hackett: Indianapolis & Cambridge, 2007). This is available from the Co-op Bookshop. Please note that the second edition is substantially different from the first edition. I recommend that you acquire the hardcopy (ie paper) version of the textbook as you will be allowed to take this into the final examination. There is an electronic (pdf) version of the textbook available, but you will not be able to take this into the examination.

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Integrate knowledge of grammar and vocabulary in reading and writing Greek texts

Assessment tasks

- Translation
- Final Examination

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Analyse the grammar required for the translation of Greek texts appropriate to level of study
- Explore and appraise relevant grammatical and lexical reference tools
- Integrate knowledge of grammar and vocabulary in reading and writing Greek texts
- Explore the significance of Greek for the study of relevant ancient cultures

Assessment tasks

- Translation
- Final Examination

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Explore the significance of Greek for the study of relevant ancient cultures

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes
