Unit description

This unit will introduce students to core financial and legal aspects of selecting, forming and structuring a business. By understanding the elements of financial planning, budgeting and capital raising students will be able to make commercially sound choices in relation to starting a business and comparing business structures. The unit also covers the relevant legal concepts and principles underpinning the regulation of business. Students will be introduced to the legal frameworks and issues relevant to different types of business structures and develop an awareness of corporate management responsibilities. The regulation of the operational aspects of a business will also be considered. At the conclusion of the unit students will have had an opportunity to gain a valuable perspective on commencing and running business operations.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Delivery and Resources

Classes

Classes will progress through the various Lecture Areas referred to in this Unit Guide. Students will attend one seminar each week. There may be some reorganisation, overlapping, and/or integration of areas to accommodate assessment and unit structure. Note that together with the designated practice questions, the classes may cover other issues relevant to the unit.

The timetable for classes can be found on the University web site at:

<http://www.timetables.mq.edu.au/>

Required Texts

Law Text: Quilter, Company Law Perspectives, 3rd ed. 2017, Thomson Reuters (Lawbook Co.)

Finance Text: Berk, J., DeMarzo P., Harford J., Ford, G., Mollica, V. and Finch, N., Fundamentals of Corporate Finance, 2nd Australian Edition, 2014, Pearson Australia,

Both of the above texts can be purchased from the Macquarie University Co-op Bookshop, and are available in the Macquarie University library.

Seminars may make use of PowerPoint; overhead projectors; visualisers.

Unit material will be available on the learning management system (iLearn)

There is a web page for this unit.

This unit is taught by way of seminars. Practice questions are discussed to enable application of content.

Students should take responsibility for their own learning and this will incorporate reading as required, attendance at seminars, developing effective study strategies, reflection on their abilities, and a task oriented approach to assessment – that is, do not think solely about gathering information - think about what will be required - what makes for successful performance in tests and assignments - how you will use the material you have studied.

Students should be ready to allocate at least 150 hours during session time for FOBE202. This includes all classes, assessment, personal study and other learning activities. Here is a sample breakdown of a student workload:

	Activities	Hours
1	Weekly Seminars including required assessment (3×12)	36
2	Assessment Task 1 and 2 (self-study plus preparation)	57
3	Assessment Task 3 and 4 (Self-study plus preparation)	57
	Total	150

Graduate Capabilities

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Examine the characteristics of the commercial legal environment and the Australian corporate legislative framework.
- Distinguish between, and examine the characteristics of business organisations - particularly as to aspects of formation
- Effectively recognise corporate management issues, in particular formulate an understanding of the role and obligations of directors, together with financial aspects and insolvency regulation.

- Class Test - Finance

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Effectively recognise corporate management issues, in particular formulate an understanding of the role and obligations of directors, together with financial aspects and insolvency regulation.
- Evaluate sources of funding and financing needs

Assessment tasks

- Class Test - Law 1
- Class Test - Law 2

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Examine the characteristics of the commercial legal environment and the Australian corporate legislative framework.
- Distinguish between, and examine the characteristics of business organisations - particularly as to aspects of formation
- Effectively recognise corporate management issues, in particular formulate an understanding of the role and obligations of directors, together with financial aspects and insolvency regulation.

Research and Practice, Global and Sustainability

This unit addresses global and sustainability issues as direct areas of study and as necessary implications arising from the materials, assessment and academic discussion and debate in classes/seminars. We promote sustainability by developing ability in students to research and locate information within accounting discipline. We aim to provide students with an opportunity to obtain skills which will benefit them throughout their career.

The unit materials provide some guidance to references that could be used to research particular issues.

Both texts for this unit (Company Law Perspectives and Fundamentals of Corporate Finance) are the result of research in relation to the areas of corporate law and finance. The material in these texts provides you with a thorough coverage of the relevant issues. Interested students can pursue further research into any of the areas of this unit via the various scholarly journals available. Examples of journals that can be consulted to follow up matters of interest in company law are: Australian Journal of Corporate Law; Company and Securities Law Journal.
