Unit description

This unit initially examines the way in which laws relating to taxation impact social and economic issues in Australia. Taxation of various kinds is the primary means by which wealth can be distributed: inequities and distortions can promote investment in specific economic activities, encourage or discourage savings and lead to exploitation and avoidance by the wealthy through the use of loopholes and complex business structures. Ultimately, this affects the government's ability to provide essential social services such as health, education and housing. The second part of the unit entails a sophisticated examination of the fundamental elements of the Australian taxation system including residency, income, deductions, capital gains tax and the taxation of trusts.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

General Assessment Information

General Assessment Information

Extensions and penalties.

Assessments or assignments uploaded after the cut-off time on the dates given above will not be accepted for marking (that is, a zero mark will be awarded), except for cases of serious and recognised disruption to study (see below).

When a student suffers a disruption to study which is 'serious and unavoidable' they may apply for special consideration. In order to do so the student must meet the criteria under the Macquarie University "Disruption to Studies" policy and be approved by the Unit Convenor. Applications are made online at ask.mq.edu.au. Outcomes for recognized serious and unavoidable disruptions to studies are as set out in the University schedule -http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/disruption_studies/schedule_outcomes.html

When a disruption to study is not serious or unavoidable, the approach to special consideration and the impact on your assessment will be as follows:

1. Marked Attendance - tutorials: In general no special consideration is given. However for tutorials missed because of illness a medical certificate can be presented at the next tutorial attended. If compulsory excursions or trips are required by other subjects enrolled in, documentary evidence of this will be accepted
2. Marked Attendance - On-Campus Session for External Students: No special consideration, attendance is compulsory.
3. Graded Participation - tutorial: In general no special consideration is given. However for tutorials missed because of illness a medical certificate can be presented at the next tutorial attended. If compulsory excursions or trips are required by other subjects enrolled in, documentary evidence of this will be accepted
4. Final Examination – no or late submission: no special consideration; a grade of zero

Tutorials Procedures

Students are provided on iLearn with a weekly document containing readings for the topic being covered and up to 4 questions. Every week each student prepares a brief written attempt at answering all of the week's questions, maximum total 2 A4 sheet sides.

Students photocopy their answers for their own records or keep an electronic copy.

Answers must be submitted via Turtitin only. Answers will not be received in the tutorial under any circumstances.

At the start of the semester the tutor will assign students to permanent groups. The tutorial questions are discussed based on presentations by individual students. The week before a tutorial a student is assigned to each of the tutorial questions for that week. During the week leading up to the tutorial the assigned presenter's group assists them in preparing a presentation of the answer for their assigned question. A presentation should be of about 10 minute's duration and should be accompanied by appropriate slides. The Tutor (and students not in that group) question the spokesperson (and other members of their group if the spokesperson cannot answer) until the correct answer for the question is arrived at and understood by all. Students take notes on their photocopy of their answers where they were wrong.

Each student has to give at least one presentation during the semester.

Marks are assigned as below:

1. There are 12 tutorials. One mark is assigned for a hand-in which is a satisfactory attempt at answering all the questions for that week, that is showing evidence of study and understanding of the topic, but not necessarily fully correct. A maximum of 10 marks total for the semester can be earned in this way – i.e. 10 satisfactory hand-ins. Answers can only be handed in at the relevant tutorial, or if absent through illness then at the following tutorial if a medical certificate is supplied.
2. Students are expected to attend and participate in at least 10 out of the 12 tutorial classes during the semester. Failure to do so will result in a penalty of 0.5 marks for each tutorial less than 10 attended. These marks will be deducted from the overall tutorial participation mark that would have otherwise been allocated.
