Unit description

In this unit students examine the principles of administrative law, that is, the law governing government decision-making within the Commonwealth of Australia. It considers the fundamental principles that underpin good decision-making, such as accountability, integrity and procedural fairness, and explores the various avenues available to challenge the merits and the legality of government decisions. It also considers modern developments, such as the increasing involvement of the private sector in providing goods and services traditionally provided by the public sector, and the impact this is having in the field of administrative law

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- Acquire an advanced understanding of key mechanisms and principles of administrative law (merits review, judicial review, Freedom of Information, natural justice, errors of law).
- Identify contemporary administrative law questions and develop, critical, coherent and well-researched arguments

Contextualise administrative law within the government, legal, constitutional and social settings

Demonstrate advanced legal problem-solving skills

Collaborate with peers to develop arguments and optimise learning and reflective practices

Produce clear and grammatical writing and analysis

General Assessment Information

Macquarie Law School Policy on Assessment

In the absence of a successful application for special consideration due to a disruption to studies, any assessment task submitted after its published deadline will not be graded and will receive a mark of zero. Applications for a Disruption to Studies are made electronically via ask.mq.edu.au and should be accompanied by supporting documentation. Students should refer to the Disruption to Studies policy for complete details of the policy and a description of the supporting documentation required.

Word limits will be strictly applied and work above the word limit will not be marked.

All assessments in the unit are to be submitted electronically. Plagiarism detection software is used in this unit.

Supplementary examinations

Any student who is unable to sit the final exam or who sits the exam but then makes a successful application for Disruption to Studies will be provided with an alternative assessment. This may be in the form of an oral examination to be conducted by the unit convenor.

Moderation

Detailed marking rubrics will be made available on ilearn.

OCS

For external students, the on-campus session is compulsory. Students who are unable to attend must apply for a disruption to studies. If that application is accepted, alternative work will be set in lieu of on-campus attendance.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Group Presentation	15%	No	Beginning Week 5
Research Essay	35%	No	Friday 6 October
Final Examination	50%	No	Examination Period

Group Presentation

Due: Beginning Week 5

Weighting: 15%

Internal students:

From Week 5, groups will begin the seminar with a 20 minute presentation, followed by questions. Groups will be allocated in Week 1, and presentation weeks will be randomly allocated. As a group, your task will be to:

1. Formulate a question, based on that week's topic, to be discussed and argued before the class. Groups must check their question with the convenor prior to presenting.
2. Develop a thesis. The group must present an argument that answers the question they have chosen. This should include: presenting the question and why it is important; addressing counter-argument; reaching well-reasoned conclusions.
3. Deliver the presentation in an articulate, accessible, and engaging manner; involve the entire presenting group; and provide a well-researched resource for the class.
4. Be able to answer subsequent questions from the convenor and/or class members

External students:

An individual presentation of ten minutes, followed by questions, will be required on either day two of the first compulsory on campus session (27 September) or the final, voluntary on campus session (28 October). Topics will be allocated online; students should then check their chosen question with the convenor. The requirements are the same as those set out above.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Acquire an advanced understanding of key mechanisms and principles of administrative law (merits review, judicial review, Freedom of Information, natural justice, errors of law).
- Identify contemporary administrative law questions and develop, critical, coherent and well-researched arguments
- Contextualise administrative law within the government, legal, constitutional and social settings
- Demonstrate advanced legal problem-solving skills
- Collaborate with peers to develop arguments and optimise learning and reflective practices

Research Essay

Due: Friday 6 October

Weighting: 35%

Students will develop a 2000 word research essay on a topic that will consolidate their learning in this subject.

Detailed instructions regarding this assessment task will be provided on iLearn and outlined in the Seminars regularly from Week 1.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Acquire an advanced understanding of key mechanisms and principles of administrative law (merits review, judicial review, Freedom of Information, natural justice, errors of law).
- Identify contemporary administrative law questions and develop, critical, coherent and well-researched arguments
- Contextualise administrative law within the government, legal, constitutional and social settings
- Produce clear and grammatical writing and analysis

Final Examination

Due: Examination Period

Weighting: 50%

A sit-down closed book exam; but student may take 2 A4 pages of notes into the exam room.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Acquire an advanced understanding of key mechanisms and principles of administrative law (merits review, judicial review, Freedom of Information, natural justice, errors of law).
- Identify contemporary administrative law questions and develop, critical, coherent and well-researched arguments
- Contextualise administrative law within the government, legal, constitutional and social settings
- Demonstrate advanced legal problem-solving skills
- Produce clear and grammatical writing and analysis
