Unit description

The Asia-Pacific is undergoing rapid strategic change which has significant implications for Australia's security. This includes the rise of China and its challenge to the US-led rules-based regional security order; the response of other major powers to these dynamics; unresolved maritime territorial disputes in the East China Sea and South China Sea; instability on the Korean Peninsula; as well as the fragility in the South Pacific. This unit examines contested concepts of regional order as well as the evolving power dynamics between the major regional powers, including China, the United States, Japan, and India. It analyses the evolution and prospects for peacefully resolving regional flashpoints such as the Korean Peninsula, Taiwan and the South China Sea. Finally, it examines the role of regional security institutions, Indonesia's role in regional security, security trends in the South Pacific, ending with an assessment of Australia's security and defence options in a changing Asia.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

- Critique literature relating to the current issues in Asia Pacific security
- Demonstrate familiarity with key current security concepts, issues and events in the Asia Pacific
- Evaluate the role of small, medium and major powers, as well as regional organizations, in the shifting balance of power in Asia
- Formulate sustained and persuasive written and oral arguments

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Engagement (20%)	20%	No	Ongoing
Literature Review (30%)	30%	No	Week 6
Research Essay (50%)	50%	No	Week 11

Engagement (20%)

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 20%

Ongoing assessment. For internal students, active participation in a two hour seminar each week is expected. For external students, the recordings of the seminars will be posted and active participation through at minimum 10 online forums is required. Active participation involves demonstrating critical thinking and understanding of the required readings, as well as demonstrated ability to address the focus questions with regards to all unit materials (readings, and pre-recorded lectures and seminars).

Active participation in seminar activities must be completed by the end of the week. Participation will not be counted beyond the allocated timeframe. Grades are dependent on such criteria (but not limited to) the quality of the engagement with the text and any supplementary course materials, new lines of inquiry posed, and engagement with peers and the convener.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critique literature relating to the current issues in Asia Pacific security
- Demonstrate familiarity with key current security concepts, issues and events in the Asia Pacific
- Evaluate the role of small, medium and major powers, as well as regional organizations, in the shifting balance of power in Asia

- Formulate sustained and persuasive written and oral arguments

Literature Review (30%)

Due: Week 6

Weighting: 30%

This review of the literature which aims for students to demonstrate critical understanding of the theoretical approaches of International Security. This mid-term assessment is a 1500-word review.

All of the required readings must be reviewed together in one literature review—it is not three separate reviews of each reading. Research for the literature review should go beyond the required readings (a good place to start is the recommended readings), and the aim is to demonstrate critical understanding of the literature. Each literature review should:

1. Indicate the puzzle, problem, or debate that the authors address.
2. Identify what you see as the strengths and weaknesses of the authors' arguments (contributions as well as the shortcomings in the work).
3. Suggest one or more contemporary empirical problems or policy debates to which the authors' work is relevant and its usefulness.

In this regard, each literature review should place the authors in their specific context, the broader context of the debate and how the text made an impact on the field of study, demonstrate understanding of the methods and values behind each text, and evaluate the key arguments made and why it has continuing relevance to the field. In this regard, the reviews should reflect that the student has completed the readings, but they should not be summaries of the readings.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critique literature relating to the current issues in Asia Pacific security
- Demonstrate familiarity with key current security concepts, issues and events in the Asia Pacific
- Evaluate the role of small, medium and major powers, as well as regional organizations, in the shifting balance of power in Asia
- Formulate sustained and persuasive written and oral arguments

Research Essay (50%)

Due: Week 11

Weighting: 50%

The completion of a research essay is intended to encourage students to develop core disciplinary knowledge, enhance research skills, display effective communication through academic writing, and demonstrate original and critical thinking. This final assessment is 3000-word essay and students must choose one essay question from a list of three. Questions will be released by Week 6 on the iLearn site.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Critique literature relating to the current issues in Asia Pacific security
- Demonstrate familiarity with key current security concepts, issues and events in the Asia Pacific
- Evaluate the role of small, medium and major powers, as well as regional organizations, in the shifting balance of power in Asia
- Formulate sustained and persuasive written and oral arguments

Delivery and Resources

UNIT REQUIREMENTS AND EXPECTATIONS

- You should spend an average of 12 hours per week on this unit. This includes listening to lectures prior to seminar or tutorial, reading weekly required materials as detailed in iLearn, participating in iLearn discussion forums and preparing assessments.
- Internal students are expected to attend all seminar or tutorial sessions, and external students are expected to make significant contributions to on-line activities.
- In most cases students are required to attempt and submit all major assessment tasks in order to pass the unit.

REQUIRED READINGS

- The citations for all the required readings for this unit are available to enrolled students through the unit iLearn site, and at Macquarie University's library site. Electronic copies of required readings may be accessed through the library or will be made available by other means.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

- Computer and internet access are essential for this unit. Basic computer skills and skills in word processing are also a requirement.
- This unit has an online presence. Login is via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>

- Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient.
- Information about IT used at Macquarie University is available at http://students.mq.edu.au/it_services/

SUBMITTING ASSESSMENT TASKS

- All text-based assessment tasks are to be submitted, marked and returned electronically. This will only happen through the unit iLearn site.
- Assessment tasks must be submitted as a MS word document by the due date.
- Most assessment tasks will be subject to a 'Turnitin' review as an automatic part of the submission process.
- The granting of extensions is subject to the university's Disruptions Policy. Extensions will not in normal circumstances be granted by unit conveners or tutors, but must be lodged through Disruption to Study: http://www.students.mq.edu.au/student_admin/manage_your_study_program/disruption_to_studies/.

LATE SUBMISSION OF ASSESSMENT TASKS

- If an assignment is submitted late, 5% of the available mark will be deducted for each day (including weekends) the paper is late.
- For example, if a paper is worth 20 marks, 1 mark will be deducted from the grade given for each day that it is late (i.e. a student given 15/20 who submitted 4 days late will lose 4 marks = 11/20).
- The same principle applies if an extension is granted and the assignment is submitted later than the amended date.

WORD LIMITS FOR ASSESSMENT TASKS

- Stated word limits include footnotes and footnoted references, but not bibliography, or title page.
- Word limits can generally deviate by 10% either over or under the stated figure.
- If the number of words exceeds the limit by more than 10%, then penalties will apply. These penalties are 5% of the awarded mark for every 100 words over the word limit. If a paper is 300 words over, for instance, it will lose $3 \times 5\% = 15\%$ of the total mark awarded for the assignment. This percentage is taken off the total mark, i.e. if a paper was graded at a credit (65%) and was 300 words over, it would be reduced by 15 marks to a pass (50%).

- The application of this penalty is at the discretion of the course convener.

REASSESSMENT OF ASSIGNMENTS DURING THE SEMESTER

- Macquarie University operates a Grade Appeal Policy in cases where students feel their work was graded inappropriately: <http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/gradeappeal/policy.html>
- In accordance with the Grade Appeal Policy, individual works are not subject to regrading.

STAFF AVAILABILITY

- Department staff will endeavour to answer student enquiries in a timely manner. However, emails or iLearn messages will not usually be answered over the weekend or public holiday period.
- Students are encouraged to read the Unit Guide and look at instructions posted on the iLearn site before sending email requests to staff.

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Capable of Professional and Personal Judgment and Initiative

Our postgraduates will demonstrate a high standard of discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgment. They will have the ability to make informed choices and decisions that reflect both the nature of their professional work and their personal perspectives.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Critique literature relating to the current issues in Asia Pacific security
- Demonstrate familiarity with key current security concepts, issues and events in the Asia Pacific
- Evaluate the role of small, medium and major powers, as well as regional organizations, in the shifting balance of power in Asia
- Formulate sustained and persuasive written and oral arguments

Assessment tasks

- Engagement (20%)
- Research Essay (50%)

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills

Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Critique literature relating to the current issues in Asia Pacific security
- Demonstrate familiarity with key current security concepts, issues and events in the Asia Pacific
- Evaluate the role of small, medium and major powers, as well as regional organizations, in the shifting balance of power in Asia

- Formulate sustained and persuasive written and oral arguments

Assessment tasks

- Literature Review (30%)
- Research Essay (50%)

PG - Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

Our postgraduates will be capable of utilising and reflecting on prior knowledge and experience, of applying higher level critical thinking skills, and of integrating and synthesising learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments. A characteristic of this form of thinking is the generation of new, professionally oriented knowledge through personal or group-based critique of practice and theory.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Critique literature relating to the current issues in Asia Pacific security
- Demonstrate familiarity with key current security concepts, issues and events in the Asia Pacific
