Unit description

This unit provides students with practical and professional experience to undertake applied social research (including policy and evaluation -related research) for a community, not-for-profit, government or commercial organisation. Students will need to work between 100 and 150 hours on a discrete research project, supervised both by the unit convenor and the person in charge at the partner organisation. The placement will be supported by five on-campus workshops. Students should have completed at least one research methods unit prior to enrolling in this unit. Students who want to organise their own placements should contact the unit convenor at least two months before the beginning of the session.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Employ and critically assess knowledge and research methodologies learned in other units (SOC830/SOC831) to a real work scenario. Produce a report that shows your ability to appraise, analyse, interpret, justify and evaluate the information handled during the internship. Manage a research project following project management guidelines, and show problem solving skills during the life of the project.

Engage professionally in an organisation through a social, quality assurance, or policy related research project. Demonstrate critical reflective practice on the experience of the work placement and the research process. Produce a critically reflective account of the work experience.

Demonstrate decision-making skills, creativity, and independence to make informed judgements in relation to the research project.

Appraise ethical research practices and ethical conduct at the workplace. Engage in ethical practices during the internship.

Assess how current ethical, social and environmental challenges present themselves at the workplace, and demonstrate through your work how you can contribute towards these.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Project Management Plan	20%	No	see description
Engagement	20%	No	ongoing
Supervisor's feedback report	20%	No	n/a
Final Report	40%	No	16 June by 5 pm

Project Management Plan

Due: see description

Weighting: 20%

Produce a Project Management Plan (PMP) within the first 20 hours of placement. The PMP should have a title, should state the background, scope and purpose of the project, a detailed schedule of tasks to be completed, a plan for monitoring the project, an identification of stakeholders and an identification of risks and issues. Detailed guidelines for this assignment as well as a rubric stating the assessment criteria will be available on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Employ and critically assess knowledge and research methodologies learned in other units (SOC830/SOC831) to a real work scenario. Produce a report that shows your ability to appraise, analyse, interpret, justify and evaluate the information handled during the internship. Manage a research project following project management guidelines, and show problem solving skills during the life of the project.

- Appraise ethical research practices and ethical conduct at the workplace. Engage in ethical practices during the internship.

Engagement

Due: ongoing

Weighting: 20%

Engagement throughout the semester will be assessed based on a) Online discussions (10%) b) Presentation to class and partners in workshop 4 (10%). Please note a minimum of 2 out of 3 forum questions needs to be answered and presentations are compulsory. Those students who can't attend on presentation day will need to discuss with the lecturer an alternative date for their presentation. Specific guidelines for forum questions and presentations, as well as a rubric that states the marking criteria, are available on iLearn.

Class attendance is compulsory. Any student who can not attend any workshop needs to contact the lecturer as soon as possible to make alternate arrangements.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Engage professionally in an organisation through a social, quality assurance, or policy related research project. Demonstrate critical reflective practice on the experience of the work placement and the research process. Produce a critically reflective account of the work experience.
- Demonstrate decision-making skills, creativity, and independence to make informed judgements in relation to the research project.
- Appraise ethical research practices and ethical conduct at the workplace. Engage in ethical practices during the internship.
- Assess how current ethical, social and environmental challenges present themselves at the workplace, and demonstrate through your work how you can contribute towards these.

Supervisor's feedback report

Due: n/a

Weighting: 20%

Your workplace supervisor will be requested to complete a form at the end of your placement to provide detailed feedback on your performance. A sample of the form provided to host supervisors to assess your performance is available on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Engage professionally in an organisation through a social, quality assurance, or policy related research project. Demonstrate critical reflective practice on the experience of the work placement and the research process. Produce a critically reflective account of the work experience.

- Appraise ethical research practices and ethical conduct at the workplace. Engage in ethical practices during the internship.
- Assess how current ethical, social and environmental challenges present themselves at the workplace, and demonstrate through your work how you can contribute towards these.

Final Report

Due: 16 June by 5 pm

Weighting: 40%

The final assignment will consist of a report on the internship which will include a section with information on your organisation and project, a section with examples of work completed and a final section reflecting on the experience. The report must be submitted via turnitin. Detailed guidelines for this assignment as well as a rubric stating the assessment criteria are available on iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Employ and critically assess knowledge and research methodologies learned in other units (SOC830/SOC831) to a real work scenario. Produce a report that shows your ability to appraise, analyse, interpret, justify and evaluate the information handled during the internship. Manage a research project following project management guidelines, and show problem solving skills during the life of the project.
- Demonstrate decision-making skills, creativity, and independence to make informed judgements in relation to the research project.
- Appraise ethical research practices and ethical conduct at the workplace. Engage in ethical practices during the internship.
- Assess how current ethical, social and environmental challenges present themselves at the workplace, and demonstrate through your work how you can contribute towards these.

Delivery and Resources

Delivery and Resources

Unit Requirements

The unit has an academic component (delivered through 5 workshops) and a practical component (students' research work for an organisation)

For the academic component students will be required to:

- Submit the required assessment tasks in a timely manner.
- Complete all the required readings for the unit.
- Contribute to online discussions and activities.

For the practical component students will be required to:

- Complete 100-150 placement hours with a partner organisation.
- Define a work schedule with their host supervisors and commit to it.
- Work on a research project according to the research plan they discuss with their supervisors.
- Submit a final output of the research project to their organisation.

Assignment Submission and return of marked work

The Project Management Plan and Final Report are to be submitted via the Turnitin function inside the ilearn site. Likewise, marked work will be returned to students electronically via ilearn. Grademark will be used to mark students' work.

Online forum discussions will be rated within each forum. Students will get a mark over 100 for each posting and can refer to the relevant rubric (Engagement rubric) to understand why they received that rating.

Late submissions, Special Consideration and Extensions

Please email the unit convenor if you find yourself unable to meet the submission dates for assessments.

For all written assessment tasks, the Sociology Department applies the following penalties for late work (without an extension):

5% for the first day, then 1% for each subsequent day late.

Online forum postings that are submitted after the deadline will not be considered.

Technology

SOC 849 iLearn Site. Learning and Teaching resources, assessment guidelines, and links to individual learning modules will be on SOC 849's ilearn page. You will also use the discussion boards to keep in touch with other students and share your experiences of your internship placement.

Academic Honesty Policy

Academic honesty is an integral part of the core values and principles contained in the Macquarie University Ethics Statement (<http://www.mq.edu.au/ethics/ethic-statement-final.html>). Its fundamental principle is that all staff and students act with integrity in the creation, development, application and use of ideas and information. This means that:

- All academic work claimed as original is the work of the author making the claim.

- All academic collaborations are acknowledged.
- Academic work is not falsified in any way
- When the ideas of others are used, these ideas are acknowledged appropriately.

The link below has more details about the policy, procedure and schedule of penalties that will apply to breaches of the Academic Honesty policy.

http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/academic_honesty/policy.html

University Grading Policy

<http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/grading/policy.html>

The grade a student receives will signify their overall performance in meeting the learning outcomes of a unit of study. Grades will not be awarded by reference to the achievement of other students nor allocated to fit a predetermined distribution. In determining a grade, due weight will be given to the learning outcomes and level of a unit (ie 100, 200, 300, 800 etc). Graded units will use the following grades:

HD	High Distinction	85-100
D	Distinction	75-84
Cr	Credit	65-74
P	Pass	50-64
F	Fail	0-49

Unit Schedule

For this unit you will be working between 100 and 150 hours for an organisation. Some students will be based at the host organisations, others will be able to complete part or most of their work from home or campus.

The internship is supported by 5 compulsory on-campus two-hour workshops (see below for dates). This component of the internship is as important as the professional work-based component.

Workshops will take place on Fridays from 2-4 PM in W6B357. This may be subject to change depending on the number of students enrolled.

Workshop 1	3 March	Managing a Research Project
Workshop 2	10 March	Reflective Practice
Workshop 3	17 March	Ethics in Research and at the Workplace
Workshop 4	2 June	Communicating your Research
Workshop 5	9 June	Pursuing a Career in Social Research

Policies and Procedures

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Capable of Professional and Personal Judgment and Initiative

Our postgraduates will demonstrate a high standard of discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgment. They will have the ability to make informed choices and decisions that reflect both the nature of their professional work and their personal perspectives.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Employ and critically assess knowledge and research methodologies learned in other units (SOC830/SOC831) to a real work scenario. Produce a report that shows your ability to appraise, analyse, interpret, justify and evaluate the information handled during the internship. Manage a research project following project management guidelines, and show problem solving skills during the life of the project.
- Demonstrate decision-making skills, creativity, and independence to make informed judgements in relation to the research project.
- Appraise ethical research practices and ethical conduct at the workplace. Engage in ethical practices during the internship.
- Assess how current ethical, social and environmental challenges present themselves at the workplace, and demonstrate through your work how you can contribute towards these.

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills

Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Employ and critically assess knowledge and research methodologies learned in other units (SOC830/SOC831) to a real work scenario. Produce a report that shows your ability to appraise, analyse, interpret, justify and evaluate the information handled during the internship. Manage a research project following project management guidelines, and show problem solving skills during the life of the project.

Assessment tasks

- Project Management Plan
- Supervisor's feedback report
- Final Report

PG - Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

Our postgraduates will be capable of utilising and reflecting on prior knowledge and experience, of applying higher level critical thinking skills, and of integrating and synthesising learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments. A characteristic of this form of thinking is the generation of new, professionally oriented knowledge through personal or group-based critique of practice and theory.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Employ and critically assess knowledge and research methodologies learned in other units (SOC830/SOC831) to a real work scenario.
