Unit description

This unit covers selected topic areas with an emphasis on the application of economic theory and research methods to particular public issues, including education, environment, energy policy, tourism, defence, housing, drugs, privatisation, transport, and the arts.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate advanced knowledge of key economic ideas and how they apply to the problems faced by economic decision makers.

Demonstrate ability to integrate and synthesise learning in order to critically reflect upon complex economic issues and evaluate established knowledge

Demonstrate effective oral and written communication skills and the ability to communicate effectively with specialist and non-specialist audiences.

Demonstrate an awareness of the ethical dimension of business practice.

Demonstrate the ability to work effectively in a team

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Major Project	40%	No	November 8 (Week 13)
Major Class Presentation	20%	No	November 8 (week 13)
Individual Assignments	40%	No	Sept 27, Oct 25 and Nov 8

Major Project

Due: November 8 (Week 13)

Weighting: 40%

This Major Project involves a team based written report with several parts.

Part 1. Written report will be up to 2000 words in length and is worth 20% of the overall grade in the unit (20 marks out of 40 for this task). The question for this project will be based on the lectures delivered by Professor David Throsby.

Team work will be an important part of your experience in ECON853. In week one each student will be placed in a group. Each group will work throughout the session to produce a written 2,000 word report on a chosen topic. The report will be produced in a staged process over the course of the session with regular feedback provided by academic staff. The final report needs to be submitted via Turnitin before the start of class on November 8. Information about this task will be presented in lecture one. A detailed document about this task will be available on iLearn.

The emphasis in the Major Project will be on the ability to think critically, to evaluate established knowledge, and to integrate and analyse the advanced economic ideas encountered during the degree program. Attendance at lectures is required for you to be able to complete this task successfully. By attending all lectures, and doing the associated readings, you will equip yourself to undertake this task successfully.

It is not possible to grant extensions for this task. If students encounter any problems in relation to this task they are encouraged to speak to Michael Dobbie as soon as possible.

Part 2. Team Diary. In lecture 1 you will be given some instruction in the theory and practice of teamwork. As part of the process of creating the written report your team needs to create a diary of the process. This diary needs to be submitted via Turnitin before class on November 8. More instruction will be provided in lecture 1. Specific documentation will also be placed on iLearn. This will contribute a team mark of 5% of the overall grade in the unit (5 marks out of the 40 for this task).

Part 3. Individual reflection. Each student is required to produce an individual reflection addressing specific aspects of the teamwork aspect of producing the team report. This is submitted via Turnitin before class on November 8. More detail will be provided in lecture 1 and a detailed document will be placed on iLearn. This task will contribute 15% of the overall grade in the unit (15 marks out of the 40 for this task).

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate advanced knowledge of key economic ideas and how they apply to the problems faced by economic decision makers.
- Demonstrate ability to integrate and synthesise learning in order to critically reflect upon complex economic issues and evaluate established knowledge
- Demonstrate effective oral and written communication skills and the ability to communicate effectively with specialist and non-specialist audiences.
- Demonstrate an awareness of the ethical dimension of business practice.
- Demonstrate the ability to work effectively in a team

Major Class Presentation

Due: November 8 (week 13)

Weighting: 20%

On November 8 (week 13) each group will make a presentation to the class that summarises the main findings from the Major Project. Each individual member of the group must contribute equally to the presentation and each individual will receive an individual mark for their contribution (20 marks). More information about the presentation will be provided in lecture one. This will include instruction on how to make a good presentation. A detailed document about this task will be available on iLearn. There will be a trial run for this presentation in class on November 1.

It is not possible to grant extensions for this task. If students encounter any problems in relation to this task they should contact Michael Dobbie straight away.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate effective oral and written communication skills and the ability to communicate effectively with specialist and non-specialist audiences.
- Demonstrate the ability to work effectively in a team

Individual Assignments

Due: Sept 27, Oct 25 and Nov 8

Weighting: 40%

Three 1,000 word Individual Assignments. These are equally weighted and together contribute 40% of your overall mark in the unit. Individual Assignment One will be based on the lectures of given by Dr Wylie Bradford. Individual Assignment Two will be based on the lectures given by Dr Craig MacMillan. Individual Assignment Three will be based on the lectures given by Professor Geoff Kingston.

Individual Assignment One is due on September 27, 6pm via Turnitin

Individual Assignment Two is due on October 25, 6pm via Turnitin

Individual Assignment Three is due on November 8, 6pm via Turnitin

These Individual Assignments will give you the opportunity to problem solve, integrate and synthesise knowledge obtained across the economics program, evaluate established knowledge, undertake research and communicate on policy issues. Attendance at all lectures is essential to be able to complete this task successfully. By attending the lectures and doing the associated readings you will equip yourself with the ability to undertake these assignments successfully. A separate document for each assignment will outline in detail what is required. These documents will be made available on iLearn. The Individual Assignments are submitted via Turnitin.

No extensions can be granted in relation to this task. Late assignments will be accepted up to 72 hours after the submission deadline. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example 25 hours late will involve a 20% deduction). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application is made under the university Disruption to Studies policy, and where that application results in a formal extension of the deadline.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate advanced knowledge of key economic ideas and how they apply to the problems faced by economic decision makers.
- Demonstrate ability to integrate and synthesise learning in order to critically reflect upon complex economic issues and evaluate established knowledge
- Demonstrate effective oral and written communication skills and the ability to communicate effectively with specialist and non-specialist audiences.

Graduate Capabilities

PG - Discipline Knowledge and Skills

Our postgraduates will be able to demonstrate a significantly enhanced depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content knowledge in their chosen fields.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Demonstrate advanced knowledge of key economic ideas and how they apply to the problems faced by economic decision makers.

Assessment tasks

- Major Project
- Individual Assignments

PG - Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

Our postgraduates will be capable of utilising and reflecting on prior knowledge and experience, of applying higher level critical thinking skills, and of integrating and synthesising learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments. A characteristic of this form of thinking is the generation of new, professionally oriented knowledge through personal or group-based critique of practice and theory.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Demonstrate ability to integrate and synthesise learning in order to critically reflect upon complex economic issues and evaluate established knowledge

Assessment tasks

- Major Project
- Individual Assignments

PG - Effective Communication

Our postgraduates will be able to communicate effectively and convey their views to different social, cultural, and professional audiences. They will be able to use a variety of technologically supported media to communicate with empathy using a range of written, spoken or visual formats.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Demonstrate effective oral and written communication skills and the ability to communicate effectively with specialist and non-specialist audiences.
- Demonstrate the ability to work effectively in a team

Assessment tasks

- Major Project
- Major Class Presentation
- Individual Assignments

PG - Engaged and Responsible, Active and Ethical Citizens

Our postgraduates will be ethically aware and capable of confident transformative action in relation to their professional responsibilities and the wider community. They will have a sense of connectedness with others and country and have a sense of mutual obligation. They will be able to appreciate the impact of their professional roles for social justice and inclusion related to national and global issues

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- Demonstrate an awareness of the ethical dimension of business practice.

Assessment task

- Major Project

Changes from Previous Offering

In 2015 the unit ran in a seminar format. In 2016 the unit will run in a traditional lecture format.
