Unit description

Gain an understanding of Greek, Roman and Near-Eastern society and culture through the study of myth. You will begin with the earliest creation myths, examining the development of myth in literature and art. The unit is largely based upon Greek and Latin texts in translation as well as the representation of myth in art. Near-Eastern and biblical texts will also be studied. The unit focuses on the relevance of key themes in myth to the cultures in which the myths arose, investigating their roles in the religious, political and social life of the classical world. All enrolment queries should be directed to Open Universities Australia (OUA): see www.open.edu.au

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.open.edu.au/student-admin-and-support/key-dates/>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

KU1 Recognize the fundamental concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.

KU2 Apply knowledge and understanding of the essential facts, concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.

KU3 Communicate effectively with teaching staff and peers

KU4 Demonstrate an informed respect for professional (academic), ethical and sustainability principles and values

S1 Conceptualize, apply, analyze, synthesize, and/or evaluate historical information about myth in the ancient world, gathered from, or generated by, observation, experience, reflection, reasoning, or communication

S2 Integrate a balance between knowledge of mythology, imagination (looking at ideas and concepts from meaningful original perspectives), and evaluation (employing critical thinking) as a foundation for creative learning behaviour

S3 Demonstrate and utilize clear, coherent, evidence-based exposition of knowledge and ideas about myth in the ancient world.

AKS1 Apply and model a wide variety of presentation methods

AKS2 Utilize effectively research methods and tools in dialogue with staff and peers

AKS3 Devise arguments and solve problems in studies related to myth in the ancient world

AKS4 Consider and communicate critical and reflective judgements

AKS5 Demonstrate historical knowledge (personalities, events, periods) and issues (ideologies, philosophies, traditions) according to intellectual, methodological, and/or ethical conventions used in the study of myth in the ancient world.

General Assessment Information

Extensions and penalties All due dates are firm. Permission to submit a late piece of work will only be granted in case of illness or other exceptional cases. Special approval for such late submissions must be sought in advance (where circumstances permit it). Late work will otherwise incur a penalty of 2% per day. Applications for special approval must be made online (see Disruption of Studies below).

Final Submission Dates All work for this course must be submitted by the Friday of week thirteen, unless there are special circumstances (normally illness or serious misadventure) and unless an extension of time has been granted by the Unit Convenor or the Dean of Arts. At 5pm on the Friday of week 13 the access to the quizzes will close and no further attempts will be possible. You have the whole semester to complete the quizzes. There will be no extension in time for completion of quizzes beyond the closing deadline. You are strongly advised not to leave them until the final week of the session.

Disruption of Studies & Grade Appeals The Faculty of Arts has a webpage where online applications may be made for: Disruption of Studies Grade Appeals Go to: http://www.arts.mq.edu.au/current_students/undergraduate Click on the appropriate type of approval you are requesting. Disruption of Studies should be chosen if you are applying for special consideration or an extension of time for one of your assignments.

Important Note on Grade Appeals A Grade Appeal can only be lodged on specific grounds. Please ensure you understand what these grounds are before submitting any application. Do follow the procedure specified for a Grade Appeal so that your appeal can be resolved promptly. Please do not email me to ask me to remark work. Note that it is not possible to appeal the result of an individual assessment task completed during the teaching of the unit. An appeal is only possible once the final grade has been released.

For the university's policy on Grade Appeal see: <http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/gradeappeal/procedure.html> For the university's procedure on Grade Appeals see: <http://www.mq.edu.au/policy/docs/gradeappeal/procedure.html>

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Tutorial Papers	20%	No	Friday of weeks 6 & 13: 5pm
Quizzes	20%	No	Friday Week 13: 5pm
Essay	40%	No	Friday Week 10: 5pm
Participation	20%	No	Each week

Tutorial Papers

Due: Friday of weeks 6 & 13: 5pm

Weighting: 20%

For each of the tutorial topics there is a short study guide containing details of essential and further reading together with an exercise. These questions will be discussed in tutorial classes and online in the weekly forum. You should choose TWO of the tutorials 2-13 and prepare written answers to the questions of no more than 1,000 words in total. Answers may be in point or note form. Address each of the questions in the tutorial and number your answers. Submissions which exceed the prescribed length will not be marked. A list of works of reference and ancient sources actually consulted and found useful should be appended as a bibliography (this list is not included in the word-count). Additionally, all work should be fully referenced. Citation of references and sources should conform to the guidelines set out in the document: Ancient History - Essay Presentation and Conventions (available on the unit's website).

Number of tutorial exercises to be submitted: TWO tutorial exercises must be submitted. You may choose which weeks you wish to submit: any of topics 2-13 may be submitted.

Date Due: Tutorial exercises are to be submitted by 5pm (Sydney time) on the Friday of weeks 6 and 13. The Turnitin link will show the closing dates for the tutorial papers.

Submission: Submission is made electronically via the 'Turnitin Tutorial' link on the unit's webpage.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- KU1 Recognize the fundamental concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.
- KU2 Apply knowledge and understanding of the essential facts, concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.

- KU3 Communicate effectively with teaching staff and peers
- S1 Conceptualize, apply, analyze, synthesize, and/or evaluate historical information about myth in the ancient world, gathered from, or generated by, observation, experience, reflection, reasoning, or communication
- S2 Integrate a balance between knowledge of mythology, imagination (looking at ideas and concepts from meaningful original perspectives), and evaluation (employing critical thinking) as a foundation for creative learning behaviour
- S3 Demonstrate and utilize clear, coherent, evidence-based exposition of knowledge and ideas about myth in the ancient world.
- AKS1 Apply and model a wide variety of presentation methods
- AKS2 Utilize effectively research methods and tools in dialogue with staff and peers
- AKS3 Devise arguments and solve problems in studies related to myth in the ancient world
- AKS4 Consider and communicate critical and reflective judgements
- AKS5 Demonstrate historical knowledge (personalities, events, periods) and issues (ideologies, philosophies, traditions) according to intellectual, methodological, and/or ethical conventions used in the study of myth in the ancient world.

Quizzes

Due: Friday Week 13: 5pm

Weighting: 20%

There are short online quizzes on the material covered in the lectures and tutorials each week. Access to the quizzes is through the unit's website. You may take the quizzes at any time, but you may take each quiz only once. Maximum time allowed for each quiz is 15 mins. These quizzes are instead of an exam: there is no formal examination for the unit.

At 5pm on the Friday of week 13 the access to the quizzes will close and no further attempts will be possible. You are advised to complete the quizzes relevant to each week by the end of that week. The quizzes should be attempted after listening to the relevant lectures for that week. It may be useful to have the lecture notes (pdf) open while you attempt the quiz. The readings from the ancient evidence set for the tutorials may also be tested in the quizzes.

You have the flexibility in the course to take the quiz at any time up to the end of week 13 but please do note that access will be closed at the time specified above. Please do not start a quiz until you are ready to answer the questions! Last year some students opened a quiz to see how it worked: once opened the quiz must be completed as you may take each quiz only once.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- KU1 Recognize the fundamental concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.
- KU2 Apply knowledge and understanding of the essential facts, concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.
- AKS5 Demonstrate historical knowledge (personalities, events, periods) and issues (ideologies, philosophies, traditions) according to intellectual, methodological, and/or ethical conventions used in the study of myth in the ancient world.

Essay

Due: Friday Week 10: 5pm

Weighting: 40%

You are given a list of topics in the Essay section of the unit's ilearn site. Write ONE essay on one of the topics given. You should ask your tutor for further advice on writing your essay.

Submission: Submission is made electronically via the 'Essay' Turnitin link on the unit's webpage.

Title for submitted Document: When you submit your document give it the following name:

Number of Question (1-4).Surname.Student ID number (eg 4.Smith.9458767)

Citation of Sources Used: A list of works of reference and ancient sources actually consulted and found useful should be appended as a bibliography (this list is not included in the word-count). Additionally, all work from which you draw ideas should be fully referenced in your text. Citation of references and sources should conform to the guidelines set out in the document found in the link on the unit website: Guide: Bibliography and Footnoting.

Word limit: 1500 words. Essays which exceed the prescribed length will not be marked.

Topics: A separate list of topics is on the unit webpage. Choose ONE topic and write ONE essay.

Due Date: You must submit your essay by 5pm on Friday of week 10.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- KU1 Recognize the fundamental concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.
- KU2 Apply knowledge and understanding of the essential facts, concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.
- KU4 Demonstrate an informed respect for professional (academic), ethical and sustainability principles and values
- S1 Conceptualize, apply, analyze, synthesize, and/or evaluate historical information about myth in the ancient world, gathered from, or generated by, observation, experience, reflection, reasoning, or communication

- S2 Integrate a balance between knowledge of mythology, imagination (looking at ideas and concepts from meaningful original perspectives), and evaluation (employing critical thinking) as a foundation for creative learning behaviour

Participation

Due: Each week

Weighting: 20%

Students are expected to discuss each tutorial topic online. Discussion of the topic should include reference to the ancient sources specified for that week. Students should also address at least one of the works of modern scholarship listed for that topic.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- KU1 Recognize the fundamental concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.
- KU2 Apply knowledge and understanding of the essential facts, concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.
- KU3 Communicate effectively with teaching staff and peers

Delivery and Resources

1. Delivery mode External

2. Lectures: Lectures have been pre-recorded for each of the thirteen weeks of the course. These lectures are available on the unit's website. There are notes to accompany each lecture: these and a list of topics are on the website too. You may set your own pace and listen to the recorded lectures at a time most convenient to you. There are no lectures to attend.

Tutorials: There are tutorials for each of the thirteen weeks of the course. Your tutor will discuss the tutorial topics with you online. The tutorial topics are found in the weekly schedule for the unit on the website.

There is a summary list of lecture and tutorial topics on the website.

3. Online resources and requirements: Access to the unit's webpage is essential. Online you will find: recorded lectures, lecture notes, discussion of tutorial and lecture topics, essential unit information, the quizzes, submission links for your written assignments, and contact with teaching staff. The unit can be accessed online at: <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>.

PC and Internet access are required. Basic computer skills (e.g., internet browsing) and skills in word processing are also a requirement. Please contact teaching staff for any further or more specific information.

4. Essential Textbook: Ian Plant, Myth in the Ancient World (Palgrave Macmillan: Sydney, 2012). There is reading set from this book for each tutorial. All ancient sources required for the tutorials are in the textbook.

5. Modern Scholarship: For each tutorial, some modern scholarship has been chosen to supplement the textbook. These readings are available in E-Reserve through the Macquarie University Library's website. You can access these readings online. Further reading may, of course, be found in the Macquarie Library too. Do not google a general website (such as Wikipedia) and think you have read what is required!

Unit Schedule

Unit schedule: Lectures and Tutorials

Lectures are pre-recorded. You may access them at any time through the unit's ilearn site. There are tutorials to complement each of the lecture topics (though they are not necessarily on the same topic). For internal students, some tutorials are held with your tutor while some are ONLINE ONLY. For external students all tutorials are ONLINE. There is a separate document which includes the content (questions and readings) for the tutorials on the unit's ilearn page. This document also specifies for the internal students which tutorials are held with their tutor in class and which are online.

Learning and Teaching Activities

Tutorials

These take up the topics introduced in the lectures and through a series of questions on set readings from the ancient sources help the students understand the sources and the theoretical approaches that are taken to interpret them. They practise articulating their ideas in an academic context.

Lectures

The program of lectures will introduce the students to the subject matter of the course: key myths from the cultures studied and the theoretical approaches to the study of the myths. Students are given content from the ancient world and examples of how that material has been analysed and interpreted.

Online discussions

This is designed to encourage the students to read the source materials and to allow the students to compose and articulate their understanding of the material studied. It allows academic engagement with other students and their tutors.

Quizzes

These are designed to encourage the students to listen to the lectures and read the relevant texts. The quizzes reinforce the engagement with the content of the unit.

Tutorial Papers

These are designed to encourage and guide the reading of the ancient sources and relevant modern scholarship. Students are introduced to ancient texts and engage with modern scholarship. Tutors are able to provide formative feedback on the written work. Essay This is designed to develop academic literacy, including research and writing skills. Formative feedback is provided.

Policies and Procedures

Late Submission - applies unless otherwise stated elsewhere in the unit guide

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Extension Request

Special Consideration Policy and Procedure (<https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/special-consideration>)

The University recognises that students may experience events or conditions that adversely affect their academic performance. If you experience serious and unavoidable difficulties at exam time or when assessment tasks are due, you can consider applying for Special Consideration.

You need to show that the circumstances:

1. were serious, unexpected and unavoidable
2. were beyond your control
3. caused substantial disruption to your academic work
4. substantially interfered with your otherwise satisfactory fulfilment of the unit requirements
5. lasted at least three consecutive days or a total of 5 days within the teaching period and prevented completion of an assessment task scheduled for a specific date.

If you feel that your studies have been impacted submit an application as follows:

1. Visit Ask MQ and use your OneID to log in
2. Fill in your relevant details
3. Attach supporting documents by clicking 'Add a reply', click 'Browse' and navigating to the files you want to attach, then click 'Submit Form' to send your notification and supporting documents

4. Please keep copies of your original documents, as they may be requested in the future as part of the assessment process

Outcome

Once your submission is assessed, an appropriate outcome will be organised.

OUA Specific Policies and Procedures

Withdrawal from a unit after the census date

You can withdraw from your subjects prior to the census date (last day to withdraw). If you successfully withdraw before the census date, you won't need to apply for Special Circumstances. If you find yourself unable to withdraw from your subjects before the census date - you might be able to apply for Special Circumstances. If you're eligible, we can refund your fees and overturn your fail grade.

If you're studying Single Subjects using FEE-HELP or paying up front, you can apply online.

If you're studying a degree using HECS-HELP, you'll need to apply directly to Macquarie University.

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central. Students should be aware of the following policies in particular with regard to Learning and Teaching:

Academic Honesty Policy http://mq.edu.au/policy/docs/academic_honesty/policy.html

When using the University's IT, you must adhere to the Acceptable Use of IT Resources Policy. The policy applies to all who connect to the MQ network including students.

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- S2 Integrate a balance between knowledge of mythology, imagination (looking at ideas and concepts from meaningful original perspectives), and evaluation (employing critical thinking) as a foundation for creative learning behaviour
- AKS1 Apply and model a wide variety of presentation methods

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

Commitment to Continuous Learning

Our graduates will have enquiring minds and a literate curiosity which will lead them to pursue knowledge for its own sake. They will continue to pursue learning in their careers and as they participate in the world. They will be capable of reflecting on their experiences and relationships with others and the environment, learning from them, and growing - personally, professionally and socially.

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- KU2 Apply knowledge and understanding of the essential facts, concepts, principles and theories used in the study of myth.
- S1 Conceptualize, apply, analyze, synthesize, and/or evaluate historical information about myth in the ancient world, gathered from, or generated by, observation, experience, reflection, reasoning, or communication

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- KU3 Communicate effectively with teaching staff and peers
- S3 Demonstrate and utilize clear, coherent, evidence-based exposition of knowledge and ideas about myth in the ancient world.
- AKS1 Apply and model a wide variety of presentation methods
- AKS4 Consider and communicate critical and reflective judgements
- AKS5 Demonstrate historical knowledge (personalities, events, periods) and issues (ideologies, philosophies, traditions) according to intellectual, methodological, and/or ethical conventions used in the study of myth in the ancient world.

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcome

- KU4 Demonstrate an informed respect for professional (academic), ethical and sustainability principles and values
