Unit description

To succeed in a globalised business environment, it is imperative for managers to understand contemporary approaches to leading and managing in culturally diverse environments and explore strategies and tactics for managing international assignments and teams.

Core objectives of this unit are to enhance multicultural competence skills and impart an understanding of how cultural diversity affects managerial behaviour and processes which is highly valued by future employers. The unit utilises a range of assessments such as simulations, experiential exercises, forums, reflective tasks, case studies, presentations and group activities in order to synthesise students' understanding of cross-cultural theories and their ability to apply their learning.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
CLASS PARTICIPATION(ONLINE)	40%	No	Ongoing
CASE STUDY	20%	No	WEEK 2- 11
REPORT	40%	No	5.11.2017 @5pm (evening)

CLASS PARTICIPATION(ONLINE)

Due: Ongoing

Weighting: 40%

Online forums will be conducted during the Semester.

These are analogous to tutorials in a traditional course.

You are required to participate actively in these, and your contributions will be assessed.

A. CASE STUDY FORUM:

Students must read every case study and make a post expressing your opinion, connecting current discussions by other students, relating to concepts learned in the video lectures, readings, your work experience or material from the case study. There is no word limit for the post. For each case study the forum will only be open for 2 weeks, which means that the forum for the first case study will close end of week 3 .

B. EXPERIENTIAL EXERCISE FORUM:

These are comprised of application tasks and reflective activities. Reflective tasks are exercises designed to encourage reflection on Unit topics and associated readings. Each lecture will have one experiential exercise, and one video reflective task. Students must read these and post their perspectives in these forums. A rubric for online presentation is used to mark online participation which can be seen on iLearn. Each of these forums will close after 3 weeks .

LATE SUBMISSIONS

No extensions will be granted. There will be a deduction of 10% of the total available marks made from the total awarded mark for each 24 hour period or part thereof that the submission is late (for example, 25 hours late in submission – 20% penalty). This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for disruption of studies is made and approved. No submission will be accepted after solutions have been posted.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Interpret and analyse the diversity of cultures and its implication as they relate to business management and demonstrate a consciousness of the intricacy of operating in the global market
- Identify major cultural characteristics, including communication styles that characterise regions, nations, communities, organisations, groups and individuals
- Classify, characterize and critique arguments for adopting particular leadership styles globally in given situations, and for varying motivational techniques depending on circumstances

CASE STUDY

Due: WEEK 2- 11

Weighting: 20%

Weekly (Case Analysis- Group work)

Every week nominated student groups will submit the case analysis through Turnitin.

The case analysis should address the following:

A. Introduction

A brief of the case environment, company, industry, country, culture and case problem

B. Body

Should include the following sections: Identification of major stakeholders and their problems, objectives and concern, recommended solutions, managerial implications.

C. Conclusion

Briefly summarize the essential complexities posed in this case and the practical implications and lessons learned.

D. Case question

Every case will have questions at the end which will serve as a direction to analyse the case. You do not have to answer these questions.

Detailed marking rubrics can be seen on iLearn and a document titled "How to analyse a case study" will provide further guidance.

This is a group activity and one student from the group will upload their case analysis through Turnitin as stated below.

SUBMISSION PROCEDURE (Group)

Students are required to submit an electronic copy of their assessment to Turnitin via the Internet as part of the submission process for assignments. Your assignment will then be automatically compared to work of your classmates, previous students from Macquarie and other universities, with material available on the Internet, both freely available and subscription-based electronic journals. Before submission, name your electronic file in a Word document with your surname and student number, e.g., Smith20101309. Please make sure that only one member of your group submits the report to Turnitin for plagiarism check. The word doc will then have his/her surname and student number.

Late Submissions (All assignments)

Learning and Teaching Activities

Learning and Teaching Activities

This unit will be taught via the participant-centered and experiential learning method of teaching. “Experiential learning takes place when a person is involved in an activity, then looks back and evaluates it, determines what was useful or important to remember and uses this information to perform another activity” (John Dewey, 1938). Online teaching would comprise of lecture videos and forum participation of three hours' duration. Students will partake in discussions on forums for cases, video cases and experiential exercises online. Case studies will be the extensively used. Case analyses are intended to be analytical critiques on some central issues of the case being discussed. As this is a discussion-oriented class, students will read all of the case studies indicated on the course schedule and discuss and defend themselves online. Every student is expected to participate. In your case analyses, please refrain from writing a summary of the case or repackaging the information already provided in the case. Based on the information provided in the case, be analytically judgmental, propose alternative managerial views and action plans, and discuss the relevance and appropriateness of the frameworks proposed in the readings and lectures to the case. In short, write what you think of the situation in the case and not merely repeat what the author says. The course teaches several models for cultural analysis of case studies. Some examples are: Hofstede, Trompenaars, and Edward Hall. These models are to be used for group case study assignments and the research paper. This unit is presented through the following learning media: Thirteen weekly video lectures combined with online discussions, case studies, experiential exercise and videos. Lectures are supported online on ilearn: <http://ilearn.mq.edu.au> Lecture notes, assignment details, assessment methods, case studies, reading and reference materials and a sample exam paper are posted on ilearn.
