Unit description

Social impact assessment is a key tool in managing development in multicultural environments where stakeholders have different views of the world. Social impact assessment is a form of applied social science research. Using case studies of resource projects, major infrastructure developments, native title, post-disaster recovery and climate change adaptation this unit develops conceptual, methodological and practical skills relevant to government, community and private sectors. Students will examine several major social impact studies and native title negotiations.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

A critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.

An ability to discuss the history of Social Impact Assessment and its basic theoretical and methodological foundations in Australia and internationally.

An ability to explain the requirements for negotiations-based approaches to Social Impact Assessment in cross-cultural settings.

A demonstrated understanding of the lessons of recent negotiations about resource industry and infrastructure developments in Australia and the region for their own field(s) of practice.

A demonstrated skills in researching issues affecting cross-cultural negotiations and Social Impact Assessment research.

Demonstrated written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

General Assessment Information

Assignment Submission

To successfully complete GEOP702 students must complete all assessment tasks. Failure to complete any single assessment task may result in failure of the unit. The final grade is based on the total mark accumulated from all four assessment tasks.

All students must keep an electronic copy of all assignments (preferably as a PDF) submitted for assessment.

All assignments must be submitted via Turnitin. You will be able to access the result of the Turnitin scan and be able to review your assignments in light of this result. Not everything that Turnitin picks up as comparable to other work is plagiarised. Use this process constructively to ensure you are referencing correctly and effectively. Instructions for submitting assignment to Turnitin can be found at: http://mq.edu.au/iLearn/student_info/assignments.htm

Late Penalties and Grading

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved,

(a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and

(b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Each assignment will be marked and commented upon before it is returned to you. The mark will be in the form of a graded letter and as consistent with University policy.

Further Guidance on Assessments

Rubrics and marking criteria for all assessments, as well as some samples of assessments, will be available on iLearn.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
Key Issues Summary	20%	No	19/08/2018 (midnight)
Tutorial Presentation	10%	No	Weeks 3-11
Research Methods Paper	25%	No	Weeks 4-12
Research Essay Outline (A)	0%	No	14/10/18 (midnight)
Research Essay (B)	35%	No	4/11/18 (midnight)
Active Participation	10%	No	Weeks 1-13

Key Issues Summary

Due: 19/08/2018 (midnight)

Weighting: 20%

Write a (1000 word) review of the readings for weeks 1-3 and the introductory lectures. Your review should identify key themes in the literature and relate those themes to your own learning objectives in the unit and fields of interest/professional practice.

The purpose of this assessment task is to ensure that you understand the history, purpose and principles underpinning Social Impact Assessment. You are required to demonstrate a critical understanding of the introductory readings and lectures, the issues they raise and the relevance of these issues to your own learning objectives in the unit and fields of interest/professional practice. This assessment aims to provide you with a clear overview of SIA and how it relates to your own learning objectives.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- A critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- An ability to discuss the history of Social Impact Assessment and its basic theoretical and methodological foundations in Australia and internationally.
- Demonstrated written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Tutorial Presentation

Due: Weeks 3-11

Weighting: 10%

Students are required to work in groups to prepare an oral presentation and lead a tutorial discussion on a specific tutorial topic. You will nominate your preferred tutorial (Weeks 3 -11) in Week 1. For external students the 'oral' presentation will take the form of an online posting on iLearn and leadership of online discussion.

In every tutorial session all students (including external students) are expected to prepare by reading at least 2-3 papers per week. The role of the student(s) leading the tutorial class is not to summarise papers that everyone should have read for themselves, but to lead a discussion on the issues raised in the papers. Presentations for the whole group should not exceed 30 minutes maximum!

It is recognised that as adult learners students bring a range of experiences and insights to the task of understanding SIA and cross-cultural negotiation, and that a wide range of fields of practice are implicated. Co-presenters should work together to present stimulating and provocative discussion sessions (e.g. make use of powerpoint, discussion questions, videos, games, debates, scenarios, role plays, group activities). External students can make use of online tools such as Zoom to post video or audio files.

Of the 10% allocated for this task, half of the mark is allocated to the group as a whole and half is based on your individual contribution to the class presentation (or online presentation) and your ability to lead and encourage discussion in class (or online). Students who fail to make an active contribution to the presentation or in the case of external students make an online posting will receive a Fail for this task.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- A critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- A demonstrated understanding of the lessons of recent negotiations about resource industry and infrastructure developments in Australia and the region for their own field(s) of practice.
- A demonstrated skills in researching issues affecting cross-cultural negotiations and Social Impact Assessment research.
- Demonstrated written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Research Methods Paper

Due: Weeks 4-12

Weighting: 25%

Write a 1500 word paper that focuses on a particular aspect of research methods associated with Social Impact Assessment and relates the readings, discussion and your own understanding of the issues raised to the the question of: what constitutes 'good practice' in SIA research methods?

The purpose of this assessment task is to allow each student to demonstrate a deeper understanding of research methods related to a particular aspect of SIA covered by the unit and how engagement with this topic can inform an understanding of 'good practice' in SIA. Your tutorial paper should reflect upon your tutorial presentation and be responsive to the class/online discussion as well as engaging with the literature.

This assignment is due before midnight on the Monday night the week following your tutorial presentation. So if you present on Monday of Week 4, the assignment is due by midnight Monday of Week 5.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- A critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- A demonstrated understanding of the lessons of recent negotiations about resource industry and infrastructure developments in Australia and the region for their own field(s) of practice.
- A demonstrated skills in researching issues affecting cross-cultural negotiations and Social Impact Assessment research.
- Demonstrated written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Research Essay Outline (A)

Due: 14/10/18 (midnight)

Weighting: 0%

Students must submit a brief outline of their proposed SIA, topic and approach to the essay (max. one paragraph) to the convenor by 14 October to receive early feedback on the appropriateness of their case study.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- A critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- An ability to discuss the history of Social Impact Assessment and its basic theoretical and methodological foundations in Australia and internationally.
- An ability to explain the requirements for negotiations-based approaches to Social Impact Assessment in cross-cultural settings.
- A demonstrated understanding of the lessons of recent negotiations about resource industry and infrastructure developments in Australia and the region for their own field(s) of practice.
- A demonstrated skills in researching issues affecting cross-cultural negotiations and Social Impact Assessment research.

- Demonstrated written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Research Essay (B)

Due: 4/11/18 (midnight)

Weighting: 35%

Choose one of the following (5) topics, undertake research on the topic and write a case study-based essay (3000 words) on your research that addresses the question: What conceptual, methodological and practical considerations need to be taken into account in the conduct of SIA in order to achieve more sustainable and equitable outcomes for different stakeholders? Illustrate your argument with reference to a case study of an SIA undertaken in a cross-cultural context.

- SIA and Indigenous rights
- SIA in disaster settings
- SIA in formal planning systems
- SIA and forced resettlement
- SIA and mine closure

The purpose of this assessment is to apply your understanding of SIA in cross-cultural settings, as well as demonstrate an understanding of the principles and practices associated with more negotiated approaches to SIA, through a research-based case study essay. You will select a topic, identify an example of an SIA related to that topic and present related evidence to the topic. The target is to produce work of publishable quality.

Examples of SIAs suitable for this research essay can be found in the SIA Library in Mendeley. See iLearn site for links.

This assessment task is in two parts. Students must submit Part A (see above) before they are able to submit Part B, even though no mark is given for Part A. Students must include a brief explanation of how they have incorporated feedback from Part A and on their previous assessment/s into this assessment task.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- A critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- An ability to discuss the history of Social Impact Assessment and its basic theoretical and methodological foundations in Australia and internationally.
- An ability to explain the requirements for negotiations-based approaches to Social Impact Assessment in cross-cultural settings.
- A demonstrated understanding of the lessons of recent negotiations about resource industry and infrastructure developments in Australia and the region for their own field(s) of practice.

- A demonstrated skills in researching issues affecting cross-cultural negotiations and Social Impact Assessment research.
- Demonstrated written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Active Participation

Due: Weeks 1-13

Weighting: 10%

For internally enrolled students, class attendance is compulsory and the roll will be marked. Students must come to class prepared every week ready to discuss the essential readings, as you may be called upon to discuss and reflect upon any one of these readings in any given week. We will also have class activities based on the readings, so it is necessary to come prepared.

For external students, it is expected that they will make regular postings (150-300 words) on the unit's iLearn website in response to the questions posted by the convenor or lead discussant, others' comments and the readings.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- A critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- Demonstrated written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Delivery and Resources

Study Modes

This unit is available in both internal and external study modes. Internal students attend a three-hour weekly class on Mondays 2:00pm - 5:00pm in 9WW 131 (E6A). Classes will run as a combination of both lectures and student-led tutorial sessions as indicated in the class schedule. All internal students are expected to attend all classes and the roll will be taken as part of the determination of your participation mark. External students will be expected to access recordings of the sessions online via iLearn and participate in weekly discussions through contribution of brief postings and responses to others' postings. There is an on-campus session, which will run on Saturday 18/08/17 (10.00am-4.00pm) in 12SW301. External students are strongly encouraged to attend.

Workload Expectation

GEOP702 uses a combination of lecture and tutorial classes with a number of role-play and web-based learning opportunities. It is expected that all students in the unit will both participate and contribute to classes, including completing the required readings and participating in classroom and online discussions. Internal students are expected to attend all classes and external students are expected to routinely access material online each week. All students are required to complete all the required assessment set for the unit.

The credit point value of a unit reflects the amount of work required. Each credit point roughly corresponds to about three hours per week (including class contact hours). GEOP702 is a 4 credit point unit, so you should therefore expect to spend about 12 hours each week on it. The expected hours per credit point per week is over the 15 weeks of the session - the 13 weeks of classes PLUS the two weeks of the mid-session break. If you are unable to make this commitment to your study, then you should reconsider your decision to enrol – or reassess your priorities.

Technology Used and Required

GEOP702 provides all students with significant web-based support using iLearn, Macquarie University's learning management system. If you need help with iLearn please refer to http://www.mq.edu.au/iLearn/student_info/index.htm or contact the unit convenor as soon as possible. The unit website will be maintained regularly, providing you with copies of lecture PowerPoint slides immediately before each lecture. Digital audio recordings of the lectures will be available via Echo360 linked to the unit's iLearn site. External students are also encouraged to use Zoom for tutorial presentations.

Learning and Teaching Activities

Lectures

Lectures delivered by staff and guest lecturers provide an introduction to and overview of SIA in cross-cultural contexts; history of SIA; key paradigms, theories, concepts, methods and practices; and SIA case studies and professional practice.

Tutorials

Seminar style tutorials led by staff and students.

Personal reading

Personal reading of journal articles, books, online material and SIA documents.

Reflection

Reflection on personal/professional experience and interests and key themes in SIA.

Research

In-depth research on a particular case study.

In-class and online discussions

Teaching staff and students will actively lead in-class and online discussion on weekly tutorial topics and other related topics.

Presentations and facilitation of discussions

Student presentations and facilitation of group discussions.

Small group work

Small group work in tutorials (face-to-face or online).

Experiential Learning

Experiential learning opportunity of a role play in the tutorial and on-campus session.

Policies and Procedures

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central (<https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policy-central>). Graduate Capabilities

PG - Capable of Professional and Personal Judgment and Initiative

Our postgraduates will demonstrate a high standard of discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgment. They will have the ability to make informed choices and decisions that reflect both the nature of their professional work and their personal perspectives.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- A critical literacy in the field of Social Impact Assessment in terms of inter-cultural communication, conflict and cooperation.
- A demonstrated skills in researching issues affecting cross-cultural negotiations and Social Impact Assessment research.
- Demonstrated written and oral communication skills and research skills at a high level.

Changes from Previous Offering

This year some small changes have been made to the assessments, including an increase the weighting of the participation mark (to encourage class attendance and participation) and the introduction of a hurdle assignment (Part A) for the research essay, to encourage students to plan their essay early and to provide an opportunity for early feedback from the convenor to inform this major assessment task.
