Unit description

Leadership begins with knowing who you are. In this unit, students will be introduced to tools for self-reflection. Students will examine methods, skills, and strategies that will help them achieve career objectives. This unit also examines leadership theories, traits and behaviours and will provide students with discipline specific knowledge and skills, as well as the opportunity to conduct a comprehensive self-analysis. Outcomes from this unit will help students understand themselves and the foundations of leadership.

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Explain key concepts and theories in leadership

Recognise and evaluate change processes and impediments to change

Apply self-management techniques to better manage stress

Formulate career plans

General Assessment Information

Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Explain key concepts and theories in leadership
- Recognise and evaluate change processes and impediments to change
- Apply self-management techniques to better manage stress
- Formulate career plans

Assessment tasks

- Self Reflective Journal
- Action Learning presentation

Learning and teaching activities

- The focus of this unit is on students developing and extending their own understanding of themselves and their interaction and behaviour with others.

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Explain key concepts and theories in leadership
- Recognise and evaluate change processes and impediments to change
- Apply self-management techniques to better manage stress

Changes from Previous Offering

Program Learning Outcomes have been added to the Unit Guide and unit material has been updated.

Global Contexts and Sustainability

The topic areas of global contexts and sustainability are underpinned in this unit by both the lecture content and readings assigned and uploaded on iLearn. The focus is centred around the leadership applications of sustainability and the importance of leaders operating and understanding the global context.

Students are expected within their assessment task to acknowledge these concepts (if applicable) and apply them accordingly.

Program Learning Outcomes

This unit supports the development of Program Learning Outcomes (PLO) for degree(s) delivered by the Faculty of Business and Economics. PLOs describe the educational outcomes of a degree and what you should be able to know, understand and do by the end of your degree.

Unit learning outcomes 1,2, 3,& 4 and assessments contribute to the following BBLC PLOs:

PLO 1: Demonstrate knowledge of leadership theories and their application to practice

PLO 3: Conduct comprehensive self-analysis

PLO 9: Demonstrate effective written communication in a business environment

Research and Practice

This unit draws on research from a variety of sources. Students are encourage to conduct their own independent research on topics relevant to the course. Lectures and tutorials will include regular discussions about current practice as well as theoretical application.

Students can utilise a range of websites, journals and texts in conducting their own research. Examples of these are:

Sydney Morning Herald - <http://www.smh.com.au>

The Conversation - <https://theconversation.com/au>

The Leadership Quarterly

Harvard Business Review

This unit will give you extensive practice in applying theoretical knowledge to real world examples.
