Unit description

This unit introduces students to the causal relationships between conflict, insecurity and development. It provides students with an analysis of the conflict dynamics within states that lack the capacity to provide security to their own citizens. It addresses the key theories on civil war as well as political and economic development, using empirical key case studies. The unit also explores different types of coercive and non-coercive intervention and peacebuilding, and their likely effects in addressing the security problems. It also examines the effects of insecurity in these countries on societal cohesion and long-term development, economic growth, life expectancy, and the provision of health and education services. The unit complements PICX111 that addresses non-traditional security threats in the twenty-first century. All enrolment queries should be directed to Open Universities Australia (OUA): see www.open.edu.au

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.open.edu.au/student-admin-and-support/key-dates/>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.

4. Apply theories about the causes of conflict to case studies.
5. Critically analyse the theories of development
6. Critically analyse the paradigms of security and development through case studies.

Assessment Tasks

| Name | Weighting | Hurdle | Due |
|----------------------|-----------|--------|------------|
| Major Essay | 50% | No | Week 11 |
| Critique | 20% | No | Week 13 |
| Participation | 10% | No | Weeks 2-13 |
| Quiz | 20% | No | Week 13 |

Major Essay

Due: Week 11

Weighting: 50%

The Major Essay allows students to develop core disciplinary knowledge, enhance research skills, show effective written communication skills, and demonstrate originality and critical thinking. The Essay should flow logically from introduction to evidence to conclusion, should reflect wide reading across a diverse body of academic literature and should demonstrate critical analysis and objectivity. The Essay will be marked as per a set assessment criteria. For details of this criteria see the marking template in the iLearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- 1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
- 2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
- 3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.
- 4. Apply theories about the causes of conflict to case studies.
- 5. Critically analyse the theories of development
- 6. Critically analyse the paradigms of security and development through case studies.

Critique

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 20%

Preparation of a 500 words Critique of one relevant journal article is intended to encourage independent research and demonstrate a capacity to find, synthesise and critically evaluate information relevant to specific topics or issues. The Critique should demonstrate précis of the key arguments of the article and critical evaluation of the article's merits (strengths/weaknesses). The critique will be marked as per a set assessment criteria. For details of this criteria see the marking template in ilearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- 1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
- 2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
- 3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.
- 5. Critically analyse the theories of development
- 6. Critically analyse the paradigms of security and development through case studies.

Participation

Due: Weeks 2-13

Weighting: 10%

The weekly participation in 100-150 words is intended to give students the opportunity to explore in details the issues covered in the Unit and to develop a deeper understanding of the subject matter, to develop effective communications skills, and to learn from each other. The Discussion should demonstrate continuous constructive engagement from Week 2 to Week 12. The Online Discussion will be marked as per a set assessment criteria. For details of this criteria see the marking template in the ILearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- 1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
- 2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
- 3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.
- 4. Apply theories about the causes of conflict to case studies.
- 5. Critically analyse the theories of development
- 6. Critically analyse the paradigms of security and development through case studies.

Quiz

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 20%

The Quizzes are intended to give students an opportunity to explore in details the issues covered in the Unit and to develop a deeper understanding of the subject matter. Given the nature of the Quizzes students will develop effective interpretative and analytical skills.

Participation in the Quizzes demonstrates continuous constructive engagement from Week 2 to Week 12. The Quizzes will be marked as per the set question response.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- 1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
- 2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
- 3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.

Delivery and Resources

UNIT REQUIREMENTS AND EXPECTATIONS

* You should spend an average of 12 hours per week on this unit. This includes listening to lectures prior to seminar or tutorial, reading weekly required materials as detailed in iLearn, and preparing assessments.

* Internal students are expected to attend all seminar or tutorial sessions, and external students are expected to make significant contributions to on-line activities.

* In most cases students are required to attempt and submit all major assessment tasks in order to pass the unit.

REQUIRED READINGS

* The citations for all the required readings for this unit are available to enrolled students through the unit iLearn site, and at Macquarie University's library site. Electronic copies of required readings may be accessed through the library or will be made available by other means.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

* Computer and internet access are essential for this unit. Basic computer skills and skills in word processing are also a requirement. * This unit has an online presence. Login is via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>

* Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient.

SUBMITTING ASSESSMENT TASKS

* All text-based assessment tasks are to be submitted, marked and returned electronically. This will only happen through the unit iLearn site.

* Assessment tasks must be submitted as a MS word document by the due date.

* Most assessment tasks will be subject to a 'Turnitin' review as an automatic part of the submission process.

* The granting of extensions is subject to the university's Disruptions Policy. Extensions will not in normal circumstances be granted by unit conveners or tutors, but must be lodged through wellbeing.

LATE SUBMISSION OF ASSESSMENT TASKS

- * If an assignment is submitted late, 5% of the available mark will be deducted for each day (including weekends) the paper is late.
- * For example, if a paper is worth 20 marks, 1 mark will be deducted from the grade given for each day that it is late (i.e. a student given 15/20 who submitted 4 days late will lose 4 marks = 11/20).
- * The same principle applies if an extension is granted and the assignment is submitted later than the amended date.

WORD LIMITS FOR ASSESSMENT TASKS

- * Stated word limits include footnotes and footnoted references, but not bibliography, or title page.
- * Word limits can generally deviate by 10% either over or under the stated figure.
- * If the number of words exceeds the limit by more than 10%, then penalties will apply. These penalties are 5% of the awarded mark for every 100 words over the word limit. If a paper is 300 words over, for instance, it will lose $3 \times 5\% = 15\%$ of the total mark awarded for the assignment. This percentage is taken off the total mark, i.e. if a paper was graded at a credit (65%) and was 300 words over, it would be reduced by 15 marks to a pass (50%).
- * The application of this penalty is at the discretion of the course convener.

REASSESSMENT OF ASSIGNMENTS DURING THE SEMESTER

- * Macquarie University operates a Grade Appeal Policy in cases where students feel their work was graded inappropriately.

STAFF AVAILABILITY

- * Department staff will endeavor to answer student enquiries in a timely manner. However, emails or iLearn messages will not usually be answered over the weekend or public holiday period.
- * Students are encouraged to read the Unit Guide and look at instructions posted on the iLearn site before sending email requests to staff.

Policies and Procedures

Late Submission - applies unless otherwise stated elsewhere in the unit guide

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Extension Request

Special Consideration Policy and Procedure (<https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/special-consideration>)

The University recognises that students may experience events or conditions that adversely affect their academic performance. If you experience serious and unavoidable difficulties at exam time or when assessment tasks are due, you can consider applying for Special Consideration.

You need to show that the circumstances:

1. were serious, unexpected and unavoidable
2. were beyond your control
3. caused substantial disruption to your academic work
4. substantially interfered with your otherwise satisfactory fulfilment of the unit requirements
5. lasted at least three consecutive days or a total of 5 days within the teaching period and prevented completion of an assessment task scheduled for a specific date.

If you feel that your studies have been impacted submit an application as follows:

1. Visit Ask MQ and use your OneID to log in
2. Fill in your relevant details
3. Attach supporting documents by clicking 'Add a reply', click 'Browse' and navigating to the files you want to attach, then click 'Submit Form' to send your notification and supporting documents
4. Please keep copies of your original documents, as they may be requested in the future as part of the assessment process

Outcome

Once your submission is assessed, an appropriate outcome will be organised.

OUA Specific Policies and Procedures

Withdrawal from a unit after the census date

You can withdraw from your subjects prior to the census date (last day to withdraw). If you successfully withdraw before the census date, you won't need to apply for Special Circumstances. If you find yourself unable to withdraw from your subjects before the census date - you might be able to apply for Special Circumstances. If you're eligible, we can refund your fees and overturn your fail grade.

If you're studying Single Subjects using FEE-HELP or paying up front, you can apply online.

If you're studying a degree using HECS-HELP, you'll need to apply directly to Macquarie University.

Macquarie University policies and procedures are accessible from Policy Central. Students should be aware of the following policies in particular with regard to Learning and Teaching:

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- 1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
- 2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
- 3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.
- 4. Apply theories about the causes of conflict to case studies.
- 5. Critically analyse the theories of development
- 6. Critically analyse the paradigms of security and development through case studies.

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- 1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
- 2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
- 3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.

Critical, Analytical and Integrative Thinking

We want our graduates to be capable of reasoning, questioning and analysing, and to integrate and synthesise learning and knowledge from a range of sources and environments; to be able to critique constraints, assumptions and limitations; to be able to think independently and systemically in relation to scholarly activity, in the workplace, and in the world. We want them to have a level of scientific and information technology literacy.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- 1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
- 2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
- 3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.

Problem Solving and Research Capability

Our graduates should be capable of researching; of analysing, and interpreting and assessing data and information in various forms; of drawing connections across fields of knowledge; and they should be able to relate their knowledge to complex situations at work or in the world, in order to diagnose and solve problems. We want them to have the confidence to take the initiative in doing so, within an awareness of their own limitations.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- 1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
- 2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
- 3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.

Effective Communication

We want to develop in our students the ability to communicate and convey their views in forms effective with different audiences. We want our graduates to take with them the capability to read, listen, question, gather and evaluate information resources in a variety of formats, assess, write clearly, speak effectively, and to use visual communication and communication technologies as appropriate.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- 1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
- 2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
- 3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- 1. Identify key state functions which contribute to national and human security.
- 2. Explain the relationship between state fragility and insecurity.
- 3. Critically assess the security-development nexus, including its relationship to peace-building efforts.
