Unit description

This unit aims to maintain the communication skills that students have acquired in FRN122 and FRN123, as well as to develop their reading and comprehension ability. It forms a vital and logical bridge between introductory and second year levels (A2 in the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages).

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Reading: understand texts on familiar matters of a concrete type which consist of high frequency everyday or job-related language; understand paragraph length texts containing the high frequency vocabulary in the topics covered.

Listening: understand enough to be able to meet needs of a concrete type provided speech is clearly and slowly articulated; understand phrases and expressions related to areas of most immediate priority (e.g. personal and family information, shopping, local geography, employment, interests and topical issues) provided speech is clearly and slowly articulated; identify the main point of TV news items reporting events where the visual supports the commentary; follow changes of topic of factual TV news items, and form an idea of the main content.

Writing: write linked paragraphs in a short essay relating to themes covered in the unit. To write about studied topics in a range of tenses in the past and future.

Spoken Interaction: interact with reasonable ease in structured situations and short conversations, provided the other person helps if necessary; manage simple, routine exchanges without undue effort; ask and answer questions and exchange ideas and information on familiar topics in everyday situations; communicate in conversation on topics covered in the unit.

Spoken Production: give a presentation of people, living or working conditions, daily routines, likes/dislikes etc. form a series of more complex phrases and using a range of tenses linked by joining words into a list.

General Assessment Information

Late Assessment Penalty

Indicative examples and marking criteria of assessment tasks with marking rubrics when appropriate will be available on iLearn.

Late Assessment Penalty

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

An explanation of how to apply for Special Consideration is supplied on iLearn

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
4 on-line tests	80%	No	End of weeks 1, 2, 3 and 4
Oral test	20%	No	During the exam period

4 on-line tests

Due: End of weeks 1, 2, 3 and 4

Weighting: 80%

We cover units 6 to 9 in Saison 2 in FRN 125. For each unit there will be an end of week multi-task assessment to be completed on line over the course of 4 days, including a weekend. There are 4 tests, they represent 80% of the final grade and are worth 20% each. Only the first attempt will be graded.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Reading: understand texts on familiar matters of a concrete type which consist of high frequency everyday or job-related language; understand paragraph length texts containing the high frequency vocabulary in the topics covered.
- Listening: understand enough to be able to meet needs of a concrete type provided speech is clearly and slowly articulated; understand phrases and expressions related to areas of most immediate priority (e.g. personal and family information, shopping, local geography, employment, interests and topical issues) provided speech is clearly and slowly articulated; identify the main point of TV news items reporting events where the visual supports the commentary; follow changes of topic of factual TV news items, and form an idea of the main content.
- Writing: write linked paragraphs in a short essay relating to themes covered in the unit. To write about studied topics in a range of tenses in the past and future.

Oral test

Due: During the exam period

Weighting: 20%

An oral test will conclude the unit. It will be conducted during the last week of the unit. The test will consist in a 5-7 minute conversation with the unit tutor via Skype or Zoom. The topics will be given in advance via Ilearn the week before so that students can prepare. The topic of the test will be communicated to the student when they begin the oral with the tutor on Skype or Zoom - this is to promote natural conversation skills. The test will assess the students' capacity to handle a conversation in French using the grammar and the vocabulary learnt during the unit. The test is worth 20%. More information will be released in the relevant section on Ilearn.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Spoken Interaction: interact with reasonable ease in structured situations and short conversations, provided the other person helps if necessary; manage simple, routine exchanges without undue effort; ask and answer questions and exchange ideas and information on familiar topics in everyday situations; communicate in conversation on topics covered in the unit.

- Spoken Production: give a presentation of people, living or working conditions, daily routines, likes/dislikes etc. form a series of more complex phrases and using a range of tenses linked by joining words into a list.

Delivery and Resources

FRN125 consists of 4 on line components for written work which will test reading, writing and listening skills, and one on line oral test. All components are unit requirements. Where ever you are during the exam period, you must be able to attend a Skype session at a prearranged time convenient to your tutor.

Technologies used and required

Standard requirements apply. You will need to have regular computer and internet access to interact with the teaching materials on iLearn. Computing skills required for this unit are word processing skills and familiarity with the use of ilearn quizzes, Skype, Zoom and internet resources.

Besides making sure you have daily access to a desktop computer or any other equivalent technology, you should note that for the oral test and the listening components of the 4 on line tests you will need headphones. You will also need to download Skype or Zoom on your computer for the on line oral test.

Please use Firefox rather than any other browsers, several of which have known problems with respect to media files (audio and video).

You must ensure that the equipment and the connection you use are both powerful and reliable. An Ethernet wired connection is recommended and is generally more robust than a wireless hook-up. When working from home or from a private residence, please use the best equipment available, refrain from using your network for any other purpose while doing work for this unit and arrange for others sharing your network not to take up any of your bandwidth as this will compromise the quality of your own connection.

IT and iLearn assistance is available via the iLearn login page or by clicking on the words "Help me" under the iLearn logo at the top right hand side of every iLearn window.

Please note that replies to e-mails will be automatically directed to the account they were sent from. You are encouraged to use the University account rather than any private e-mail account you may already have, and you must access your University e-mail account at least once a week - and preferably more often.

Required and recommended texts

FRN125 builds upon knowledge gained in FRN122/FRN123 Introductory French I/II. To facilitate the completion of the on line exercises and the preparation of the on line tests, students will have to engage in independent, personal study throughout the time in between the tests. The unit completes the remaining 4 units in Saison 2 - units 6, 7, 8 and 9. It is recommended that you also buy the Saison 2: cahier d'exercices for extra activities. This book is available from the Co-op bookshop. There are no other required and/or recommended texts for this unit.

Unit Schedule

Please see the unit outline on Ilearn.

Graduate Capabilities

Creative and Innovative

Our graduates will also be capable of creative thinking and of creating knowledge. They will be imaginative and open to experience and capable of innovation at work and in the community. We want them to be engaged in applying their critical, creative thinking.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- Writing: write linked paragraphs in a short essay relating to themes covered in the unit.
To write about studied topics in a range of tenses in the past and future.
- Spoken Interaction: interact with reasonable ease in structured situations and short conversations, provided the other person helps if necessary; manage simple, routine exchanges without undue effort; ask and answer questions and exchange ideas and information on familiar topics in everyday situations; communicate in conversation on topics covered in the unit.
- Spoken Production: give a presentation of people, living or working conditions, daily routines, likes/dislikes etc. form a series of more complex phrases and using a range of tenses linked by joining words into a list.

Assessment tasks

- 4 on-line tests
- Oral test

Discipline Specific Knowledge and Skills

Our graduates will take with them the intellectual development, depth and breadth of knowledge, scholarly understanding, and specific subject content in their chosen fields to make them competent and confident in their subject or profession. They will be able to demonstrate, where relevant, professional technical competence and meet professional standards. They will be able to articulate the structure of knowledge of their discipline, be able to adapt discipline-specific knowledge to novel situations, and be able to contribute from their discipline to inter-disciplinary solutions to problems.
