Unit description

Making use of a variety of media and texts that underline the diversity of France and the francophone world, students' attention is drawn to intellectual discourses shaping the development of francophone cultures and societies. Advanced language skills are honed via active engagement with authentic materials including literature, film, critical/academic writing, the media and music. Students are thus exposed to numerous ideas, philosophies and avenues into research while developing their reading, writing, listening and speaking skills to a high level of competency. (C1 in the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.)

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.mq.edu.au/study/calendar-of-dates>

Learning Outcomes

Delivery and Resources

Required and recommended texts

Required texts: None.

A selection of texts (written and aural/oral) has been compiled for each topic. These are available on iLearn. There is no set textbook for this unit but students are strongly encouraged to bring their laptop computers to class (external students need to refer to it while listening to iLectures) and must prepare assigned readings/viewings before each lesson. Students should also have a large monolingual dictionary such as Le Petit Robert as well as a comprehensive, thorough grammar book such as Grammaire française.

TECHNOLOGY USED AND REQUIRED

Online Unit

Login is via: <https://ilearn.mq.edu.au/>

Is my unit in iLearn?: <http://help.ilearn.mq.edu.au/unitsonline/> to check when your online unit will become available.

Technology

Students are required to have regular access to a computer and the internet. Mobile devices alone are not sufficient.

For students attending classes on campus we strongly encourage that you bring along your own laptop computer, ready to work with activities in your online unit. The preferred operating system is Windows 10.

Students are required to access the online unit in iLearn by the end of Week 1 and follow any relevant instructions and links for downloads that may be required. If applicable, students are required to download the relevant language package prior to Week 2.

Please contact your course convenor before the end of Week 1 if you do not have a suitable laptop (or tablet) for in-class use.

Graduate Capabilities

Capable of Professional and Personal Judgement and Initiative

We want our graduates to have emotional intelligence and sound interpersonal skills and to demonstrate discernment and common sense in their professional and personal judgement. They will exercise initiative as needed. They will be capable of risk assessment, and be able to handle ambiguity and complexity, enabling them to be adaptable in diverse and changing environments.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To attain a high level of spoken and written French through practice in class and completion of exercises and assignments.
- To foster research and organizational skills.
- To gain an appreciation of French and francophone cultures through textual (including literature) and audio-visual material, research and class discussion.

Assessment tasks

- VoiceThread exposés
- Aural comprehension
- Written exp. - "Synthèse"
- Written exp. - "Argumentation"
- Oral expression
- Written comprehension

Engaged and Ethical Local and Global citizens

As local citizens our graduates will be aware of indigenous perspectives and of the nation's historical context. They will be engaged with the challenges of contemporary society and with knowledge and ideas. We want our graduates to have respect for diversity, to be open-minded, sensitive to others and inclusive, and to be open to other cultures and perspectives: they should have a level of cultural literacy. Our graduates should be aware of disadvantage and social justice, and be willing to participate to help create a wiser and better society.

This graduate capability is supported by:

Learning outcomes

- To read, listen to, comprehend and discuss a variety of French texts.
- To foster research and organizational skills.
- To gain an appreciation of French and francophone cultures through textual (including literature) and audio-visual material, research and class discussion.

Changes from Previous Offering

Strong focus on the preparation of the C1 exam of the Common European Framework of Reference for the Languages.

Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR)

L'utilisateur de la langue au niveau C1 est autonome. Il est capable d'établir une communication aisée et spontanée. Il possède un répertoire lexical large et peut choisir une expression adéquate pour introduire ses commentaires. Il produit un discours clair, bien construit et sans hésitation qui montre l'utilisation maîtrisée des structures. Le DALF C1 peut être requis pour intégrer certaines grandes écoles françaises. De plus, il constitue un avantage pour les dossiers CampusFrance, pour les demandes de bourses, pour l'immigration au Canada (notamment) et pour l'accès à certains emplois.
