Unit description

This unit is a study of religious thought and its development in Ancient Egypt. It covers topics such as the concept of god, creation accounts, cosmology, divine kingship, polytheism, monotheism, pantheism, myths, temple cult, oracles and personal religion. All enrolment queries should be directed to Open Universities Australia (OUA): see www.open.edu.au

Important Academic Dates

Information about important academic dates including deadlines for withdrawing from units are available at <https://www.open.edu.au/student-admin-and-support/key-dates/>

Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

Demonstrate on-time and regular engagement with lectures and tutorials.

Identify Egyptian deities from their iconography and interpret the significance of their various iconographic forms.

Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.

Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.

Demonstrate a broad understanding of Egyptian religion as an expression of the ancient Egyptians' attempt to make sense of the world in which they lived and find answers to the challenges it presented to them.

General Assessment Information

There are 9 tutorials that are conducted online in a discussion forum. Students are required to participate in and contribute to all 9 tutorials. Non-participation in the on-line discussions will result a deduction of 5% for each missed tutorial from the marks gained for the tutorial component of the unit.

SUBMISSION of ASSIGNMENTS: The Tutorial Paper and Essay will be submitted through Turnitin.

ASSESSMENT CRITERIA: (for detailed grade descriptors see the Unit iLearn site under Assessment):

The Tutorial Paper will be marked against the following criteria: 1. Analysis of the primary text 2. Structure of argument 3. Formal presentation including correct referencing, English language (grammar, spelling and punctuation)

The Essay will be marked against the following criteria: 1. Knowledge of relevant subject matter 2. The range of primary sources used and the depth of their analysis 3. The range of secondary works consulted and the depth of engagement with them. 4. Correct Citation of sources 5. Structure of argument 6. Formal presentation including correct referencing, English language (grammar, spelling and punctuation)

Extensions

Tasks 10% or less. No extensions will be granted. Students who have not submitted the task prior to the deadline will be awarded a mark of 0 for the task, except for cases in which an application for Special consideration is made and approved.

Tasks above 10%. No extensions will be granted. Students who submit late work without an extension will receive a penalty. This penalty does not apply for cases in which an application for special Consideration is made and approved.

Late Submission Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline.

No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Applying for Special Consideration go to <https://students.mq.edu.au/study/my-study-program/special-consideration>

Assessing Active Participation Active participation is assessed by a student's engagement in activities such as discussions facilitated by the lecturer/tutor, contributions to online discussion forums, or general questions asked during lectures or tutorials and involvement in set activities. Participation is expected to be well considered and relevant to the unit of study.

Assignment tasks handed in early will not be marked and returned before the due date.

Successful completion of unit To successfully complete the unit students must complete ALL assessment tasks and achieve an overall mark of 50%.

Results Results shown in iLearn, or released directly by your Unit Convenor, are not confirmed as they are subject to final approval by the University. Once approved, final results will be sent to your student email address and will be made available in eStudent. For more information visit ask.mq.edu.au.

Assessment Tasks

Name	Weighting	Hurdle	Due
2 Tutorial Papers	25%	No	Week 4, 6 or 9
Essay	40%	No	Week 8
Exam	35%	No	Week 13

2 Tutorial Papers

Due: Week 4, 6 or 9

Weighting: 25%

Students write two papers (1000 words each). You may choose two from the topics set for Weeks 4, 6 and 9). Each paper is worth 12.5%. In each of the two papers you will submit in written form the preparation for that week's tutorial; in each case, you are required to analyze and interpret a primary text on a theme in Egyptian religion.

Your analysis should be based on the ancient evidence, although secondary sources (modern works on Egyptian religion) can be consulted to elucidate specific matters (e.g. names of deities).

Participation in the on-line tutorial discussion is compulsory and failure to do so will result in a deduction of 5% for each missed tutorial from the marks gained for the tutorial component of the unit. Participation must be in the week in which the topic is being discussed.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate on-time and regular engagement with lectures and tutorials.
- Identify Egyptian deities from their iconography and interpret the significance of their various iconographic forms.
- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.
- Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.

Essay

Due: Week 8

Weighting: 40%

A detailed study of a topic in Egyptian religion: emphasis is on the analysis of primary sources and evaluation of secondary studies.

Your answer to the essay question should demonstrate extensive use of ancient sources. Bibliographies provided give you a starting point for developing a reading list of secondary literature relevant to the essay topic. In order to locate further material (both ancient and modern) on particular issues you should consult the footnotes and indices of modern works.

Your essay should be based on an analysis and discussion of primary (ancient) sources. Secondary literature should be used to aid you in your analysis and interpretation of the ancient sources and to place your interpretation within the context of previous scholarship. All opinions included in the essay, whether quoted directly or paraphrased, should be referenced according to the guidelines. An essay Presentation Guide is available online at www.mq.edu.au/pubstatic/public/download.jsp?id=292059

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate on-time and regular engagement with lectures and tutorials.
- Identify Egyptian deities from their iconography and interpret the significance of their various iconographic forms.
- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.
- Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.

Exam

Due: Week 13

Weighting: 35%

The closed-book, invigilated exam (1 hour) at the end of the unit covers the material presented and discussed in the lectures. The exam has two parts with a selection of questions to choose from. Students answer one question from each part in essay style.

Arrangements for the invigilation of the exam will be organised through the iLearn site of the unit.

On successful completion you will be able to:

- Demonstrate on-time and regular engagement with lectures and tutorials.
- Demonstrate in-depth knowledge of the primary sources on specific issues in Egyptian religion and the ability to evaluate what has been written on the topic against your own analysis of the primary sources.
- Analyse and interpret literary and archaeological evidence and demonstrate an understanding of the rich and complex literary imagery and material expression of the religious thought and practice of the ancient Egyptians.
- Demonstrate a broad understanding of Egyptian religion as an expression of the ancient Egyptians' attempt to make sense of the world in which they lived and find answers to the challenges it presented to them.

Delivery and Resources

Delivery: Lectures - through Echo360 recordings; Tutorials - conducted in iLearn via an online discussion board

Technologies used: This unit uses iLearn and Echo 360. Students are expected to have good and regular access to the internet; mobile devices alone are unlikely to be sufficient.

There are twelve 2-hour Lectures that introduce students to the themes of ancient Egyptian Religion. These lectures are recorded and will be available through Echo360. The material covered in lectures and the accompanying readings from the textbooks are the basis for the final exam in Week 13.

For the 9 Tutorials students read, analyse and discuss primary texts (via a discussion board) online. Students are required to regularly participate and contribute online to the tutorial discussions.

Required text

(1) Assmann, Jan, The Search for God in Ancient Egypt [Engl. transl. David Lorton] (Ithaca & London, 2001).

(2) Hart, George, The Routledge Dictionary of Egyptian Gods and Goddesses (London, 2005).

(3) Hornung, Erik, Conceptions of God in Ancient Egypt. The One and the Many [Engl. translation J. Baines] (London, 1982).

(4) B.G. Ockinga (ed.), Ancient Egyptian Religion: An Anthology of Primary Sources. This 50-page anthology of ancient sources in English translation is available to students to down-load from the unit's iLearn site.

Further recommended texts and readings can be found in the Unit Bibliography supplied in iLearn. Some other readings will also be made available on iLearn.

Learning and Teaching Activities

Preparing for and listening to lectures

Preparing for lectures through doing the set readings. Students will gain an overview of the major themes to be dealt with in the lectures and will thereby be able to better follow the lectures.

Participating in tutorials

On the basis of their reading and analysis of primary texts, students will contribute to the on-line group discussion in the tutorials and develop their communication skills. Participation must be in the week in which a topic is discussed.

Researching an essay topic

In preparing for the essay, students gain familiarity with the primary sources and secondary studies on ancient Egyptian religion.

Applying interpretive skills to the knowledge acquired

In the tutorial discussions and the written work, you will apply interpretive skills to the knowledge acquired and practice skills of interpretation and evaluation.

Policies and Procedures

Late Submission - applies unless otherwise stated elsewhere in the unit guide

Unless a Special Consideration request has been submitted and approved, (a) a penalty for lateness will apply – two (2) marks out of 100 will be deducted per day for assignments submitted after the due date – and (b) no assignment will be accepted more than seven (7) days (incl. weekends) after the original submission deadline. No late submissions will be accepted for timed assessments – e.g. quizzes, online tests.

Extension Request

Special Consideration Policy and Procedure
(<https://staff.mq.edu.au/work/strategy-planning-and-governance/university-policies-and-procedures/policies/special-consideration>)

The University recognises that students may experience events or conditions that adversely affect their academic performance. If you experience serious and unavoidable difficulties at exam time or when assessment tasks are due, you can consider applying for Special Consideration.

You need to show that the circumstances:

1. were serious, unexpected and unavoidable
2. were beyond your control
3. caused substantial disruption to your academic work
4. substantially interfered with your otherwise satisfactory fulfilment of the unit requirements
5. lasted at least three consecutive days or a total of 5 days within the teaching period and prevented completion of an assessment task scheduled for a specific date.

If you feel that your studies have been impacted submit an application as follows:

1. Visit Ask MQ and use your OneID to log in
2. Fill in your relevant details
3. Attach supporting documents by clicking 'Add a reply', click 'Browse' and navigating to the files you want to attach, then click 'Submit Form' to send your notification and supporting documents
4. Please keep copies of your original documents, as they may be requested in the future as part of the assessment process

Outcome

Once your submission is assessed, an appropriate outcome will be organised.

OUA Specific Policies and Procedures

Withdrawal from a unit after the census date

You can withdraw from your subjects prior to the census date (last day to withdraw). If you successfully withdraw before the census date, you won't need to apply for Special Circumstances. If you find yourself unable to withdraw from your subjects before the census date - you might be able to apply for Special Circumstances.
